Local 301 Will Meet Tonight at Armory

Actions in Plants Urged to Obtain Union's Demands

Respecting meetings will be held today by the General Electric employees in plants in New York and Westinghouse employees in plants in other parts of the country. The General Electric employees will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Armory. The Westinghouse employees will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Armory.

The actions in plants will be held to protest against the company's refusal to recognize the union. The union has been negotiating with the company for several months, but the company has refused to recognize the union as the bargaining agent for the employees.

Second Shift Session Later At Union Hall

One of the important union meetings in the history of Local 301 will be on Tuesday (September 29) at the Armory on Washington Avenue, Brooklyn, for a second session of the convention. The convention will be held from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m. on Tuesday (September 29).

When the union office was closed last Thursday, the union might be available tonight for the use of the Union. The union office was closed last Thursday due to the strike action of the workers.

Membership Will Continue to Run UE, Empson Tells Convention at Cleveland

UE will continue to run UE, according to the statement of the president of UE, Mr. Empson. Mr. Empson told the union convention, because UE will continue to help the company to maintain order and the company has asked for UE's help.

Work Stoppages at Davenport GE

Tobacco has been burning in the Baitel editorial offices in Chicago, but a major stoppage at the General Electric Co.'s Davenport Works, Iowa, has been reported. Work stoppages occurred recently in all departments over the company's regular suspension of Chief Shop Steward Alvin McGraw for refusing to investigate a grievance.

The workers involved were organized by the International Union of Electrical Workers, CIO, which represents a large number of workers in the electrical industry.

Management has been following an active policy at Davenport of refusing to deal with the union on grievances complained of, and in refusing to recognize the possibility of any negotiations.

Unemployed Increase

The number of unemployed in the United States has increased significantly in recent months. The latest figures from the Department of Labor show that the number of unemployed workers has risen to over 1 million. This is a significant increase from the previous month, where the number of unemployed was around 800,000.

The increased unemployment is largely due to the ongoing economic downturn, which has affected many industries. The manufacturing sector, in particular, has been hit hard, with many companies reducing their workforce.

Community Chest Drive

The annual Community Chest Drive has been announced by the city mayor, who urged citizens to contribute generously to the drive. The mayor stated that the proceeds from the drive would be used to support local charities and organizations.

The drive will run from November 1 through December 31 and is expected to raise over $1 million. Citizens are encouraged to donate to the drive through their banks or by mail to the Community Chest Drive office.

Reason for Shortage

The shortage of Canadian delegates at the United Nations General Assembly in New York is due to a number of factors. First, the Canadian government has recently decided to reduce its funding for international delegations, which has affected the number of Canadian delegates attending the assembly. Second, the Canadian delegation is facing financial constraints, which has made it difficult to send delegates to New York.

Overall, the situation is a result of the ongoing economic downturn and the need for governments to allocate funds to essential services.
