June 19, 1969

Toolmakers and Welders Plan Action on Wage Inequities

Toolmakers and welders are planning a series of demands that would bring wages for skilled workers at the same level as other skilled tradesmen in the area.

The machinists' campaign is scheduled for the next meeting of the joint round on July 1st. The objectives include:

1. Closing the wage gap with other skilled tradesmen in the area.
2. Improving working conditions.
3. Increasing benefits.

The negotiations are expected to be lengthy and will likely continue for several weeks.

Overtime Refusal Favored by Crafts

Toolmakers and welders have agreed to refuse overtime work in response to the company's refusal to raise wages. The machinists will also consider legal action if the company does not meet their demands.

Union News

The toolmakers and welders have been negotiating with the company for several weeks. The current round began on May 1st and is expected to last until the end of June.

GE Leads Field in Raising Prices

As prices continue to rise, electricians and other skilled tradesmen are feeling the impact. The company has raised wages by 10%, but this is insufficient to cover the increased costs.

Yarnish Makers boosted 10% in 1968

The machinists' campaign is expected to be successful, as the company has agreed to meet their demands. The negotiations are expected to be completed by the end of June.

Building Trades Refuse Overuse

The building trades have refused to work overtime in response to the company's refusal to raise wages. The machinists' campaign is expected to be successful, as the company has agreed to meet their demands. The negotiations are expected to be completed by the end of June.

301 on Air

The union leaders of Local 301 will meet every Wednesday at 8PM.
$1,288 Awarded For Finger Injury

An $1,288 award was made to R. L. Smith, a working miner, by the UGRO, the labor organization for miners, at a hearing in Salt Lake City, Utah. The award was made to Mr. Smith for injuries he received while working at the Butte mine.

GE Leads Field in Raising Prices

In response to the recent price increase in materials and labor, General Electric, the country's largest manufacturer, has raised prices on its products. The increase is expected to have a significant impact on the company's earnings.

Refined GE Employees Can't Live on Pensions

Refined employees at GE are finding it increasingly difficult to live on their pensions. The company has announced that it will no longer contribute to the pension plan, leaving employees to rely on their own savings.

LAM Complaints About Headaches and Expenses Of Filing Affidavits with Taff-Hartley Board

The LAM, one of the major unions in the country, has been complaining about the high expenses of filing affidavits with the Taff-Hartley Board. The union has requested that the board reconsider its policies to alleviate the financial burden on its members.

Sesqui-Centennial Ad

The Sesqui-Centennial Ad, celebrating the 150th anniversary of the city's founding, has been launched. The ad features a wide range of historical images and events that have shaped the city's history.

13 Cent Raise

The recent 13 cent raise has led to increased costs for employers and workers. The union is calling for a review of the wage increase to ensure that it is fair and reasonable.

Elections

The U.S. presidential election results have been announced. The new president has promised to bring about significant changes in the country's policies and programs.