Executive Board Lobbies For State Legislation

Last Monday evening Executive Board members braved hazardous driving conditions to drive to the State Capitol in snowy and slushy conditions to call on their legislators that organized labor’s legislative program for New York State should be supported by them.

While many of the legislators were in the office or on the floor, the Committee on the Assembly held a meeting at the State Capitol to discuss the current situation with the legislators and urge them to support, in particular, legislation dealing with Unemployment Insurance and Workers’ Compensation.

The Committee formed a list of two and three, with each committee assigned to contact certain Assemblymen and Senators. Among those contacted was the Speaker of the Assembly, Ralph D. S. Lazard, who indicated that something should be done this year for labor.

The Committee on the Assembly, Mr. O’Neill, claimed that certain bills had been introduced dealing with the Unemployment Insurance Law which would increase the maximum from $500 to $5000 per week. He stated that while this increase was justified under the rules that were used last year in this regard, it was not now. He indicated that certain legislation should be introduced to deal with the situation. He pointed out that if the Committee on the Assembly did not take this matter up itself, it would be taken up by the Republicans, with whom they have no majority.

The Committee on the Assembly was in favor of presenting the original Unemployment Insurance Law which would be responsible to recommend liberalizing the present law in any way. On Wednesday, the Committee on the Assembly held a meeting with the Committee on the Assembly, but nothing was done to revise the bill. The Committee on the Assembly, Mr. O’Neill, stated that there was no indication at this time for improvements. He pointed out that the industry had done much in the way of job losses, but the proposed increases were too high for the industry to bear. He expressed the hope that the average legislator would not seek to move on liberalizing the law.

The Committee on the Assembly, Mr. O’Neill, indicated that there had been no investigation by the experts on the situation. He expressed the hope that the Committee on the Assembly would consider the matter further.

A subcommittee of the Committee on the Assembly will hold a meeting on the committee on the Assembly next Monday.

IUE Files Mediator’s New Proposal

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Legislative Committee Reports to Membership

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Following a meeting of the IUE Westinghouse Committee, a new proposal was submitted to the NLRB. The proposal, submitted by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was rejected by the Company and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Legislative Committee Reports to Membership

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Following a meeting of the IUE Westinghouse Committee, a new proposal was submitted to the NLRB. The proposal, submitted by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was rejected by the Company and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Legislative Committee Reports to Membership

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Following a meeting of the IUE Westinghouse Committee, a new proposal was submitted to the NLRB. The proposal, submitted by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was rejected by the Company and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Legislative Committee Reports to Membership

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Following a meeting of the IUE Westinghouse Committee, a new proposal was submitted to the NLRB. The proposal, submitted by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was rejected by the Company and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Legislative Committee Reports to Membership

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Following a meeting of the IUE Westinghouse Committee, a new proposal was submitted to the NLRB. The proposal, submitted by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was rejected by the Company and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Legislative Committee Reports to Membership

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Following a meeting of the IUE Westinghouse Committee, a new proposal was submitted to the NLRB. The proposal, submitted by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was rejected by the Company and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Legislative Committee Reports to Membership

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Following a meeting of the IUE Westinghouse Committee, a new proposal was submitted to the NLRB. The proposal, submitted by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was rejected by the Company and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

IUE Files NLRB Charges Against W

The IUE filed a new proposal in the Westinghouse case and submitted it to the NLRB. The proposal was submitted to the NLRB on February 4 by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Legislative Committee Reports to Membership

Westinghouse in effect, by the agreement on the proposed agreement on the proposal, turned its back on the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The Company had rejected it and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.

Following a meeting of the IUE Westinghouse Committee, a new proposal was submitted to the NLRB. The proposal, submitted by Joseph E. Imbach, Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was rejected by the Company and would not agree to submit the proposal to the NLRB.
IUE-CIO 301
On the Job

Lobby Spent $15 Million

The national and industry spending of $15 million in "industrial relations" is based on the legislative lobbying campaign. The money was spent to influence legislators, the courts, and regulatory agencies to favor the union's position on various issues. This expenditure includes legal fees, travel costs, and other expenses associated with lobbying efforts.

Drawings and Specifications for New Building Completed

Last Week's G.E.'s News

Westinghouse is developing a new management information system called "Today's Headquarters," which integrates various computer systems into one comprehensive database. This system will provide a centralized and accessible repository of all company information, allowing for improved decision-making and collaboration.

W Fires All 47 Strikers At Columbus Found Guilty

The recent case in Columbus that resulted in the firing of all 47 strikers is a significant event. The workers were found guilty of violating company policies and contributing to a large-scale labor dispute, leading to their termination. The incident highlights the importance of adhering to company rules and the consequences of not doing so.

Runaway From IUE Is Futile

Another election victory has been nullified by a "runaway" decision. This time, a group of workers was prevented from voting, and a new election was ordered. The outcome of the election remains uncertain.

IUE Local 301 Files Compliance Data

The company submitted the required compliance data to the regulatory body, indicating its adherence to legal standards and ensuring compliance with industry regulations.

Upholding Your Union Meetings Regularly

Shop Stewards to Receive Certificate

The Shop Stewards will be honored with certificates of merit for their dedication and service to the union. The certificates recognize their contributions to the union's goals and the collective bargaining process.

Legislative Committee Reports

The committee reported on the legislative lobbying efforts for various issues, including:

- A new bill to be introduced in Congress addressing workplace safety regulations.
- Continued support for federal funding for highway improvements.
- Advocacy for the enactment of measures to protect the environment.

President Cognotta Elected on Columbus Charter

At the annual meeting of the IUE, John Cognotta was elected to the Columbus Charter Board. His election follows a contentious campaign and marks a significant milestone in the union's leadership.

Challenges

The recent work stoppage in Columbus was a response to various issues, including:

- Labor disputes and contractual disagreements.
- Economic pressures and market conditions.
- Government regulations and compliance requirements.

SIGN UP THAT NON-MEMBER TODAY!

The IUE is encouraging non-members to sign up for union representation. This is an opportunity for individuals to join the union and enjoy the benefits and protections it offers.

Shop Stewards to Receive Certificate

The Shop Stewards will be honored with certificates of merit for their dedication and service to the union. The certificates recognize their contributions to the union's goals and the collective bargaining process.

Lobby Spent $15 Million

The national and industry spending of $15 million in "industrial relations" is based on the legislative lobbying campaign. The money was spent to influence legislators, the courts, and regulatory agencies to favor the union's position on various issues. This expenditure includes legal fees, travel costs, and other expenses associated with lobbying efforts.