Stewards Adopt Bread and Butter Legislative Program

The shop stewards of UE Local 301, at meetings of all shifts held in the afternoon and evening, decided to write some words from their Legislative Committee and adopted a "bread and butter" political action.

Their meeting was planned as a legislative session-statewide to alleviate the growing unemployment situation and to heal-injured industries, such as the Butler Bill and YES-TOmpson amendments, in Washington.

Legislative Committee members, William Clancy, Raymond Haley, Oleen S. Westerman, Frank DeAndres and James DeMarco explained to the legislative membership held on Saturday, Jul. 1, New York City, sponsored by UE Districts 3 and 4.

Main points adopted by stews for action:

1. Revision of unemployment insurance legislation. By adopting a weekly bill to be paid for full health at unemployment, it was said that "this bill is the only way to keep people at work and to bring more business to the state." The bill was adopted by a majority of 12 to 2 at the meeting.

2. Strike-up of unemployment insurance legislation. By adopting a weekly bill to be paid at the beginning of the year, it was said that "this bill will be the only way to keep people at work and to bring more business to the state." The bill was adopted by a majority of 12 to 2 at the meeting.

3. Strike-up of unemployment insurance legislation. By adopting a weekly bill to be paid at the beginning of the year, it was said that "this bill will be the only way to keep people at work and to bring more business to the state." The bill was adopted by a majority of 12 to 2 at the meeting.

4. Strike-up of unemployment insurance legislation. By adopting a weekly bill to be paid at the beginning of the year, it was said that "this bill will be the only way to keep people at work and to bring more business to the state." The bill was adopted by a majority of 12 to 2 at the meeting.

5. Strike-up of unemployment insurance legislation. By adopting a weekly bill to be paid at the beginning of the year, it was said that "this bill will be the only way to keep people at work and to bring more business to the state." The bill was adopted by a majority of 12 to 2 at the meeting.

The "Bread Bill" is one of the most widely

U.S. Army Explains Generator Award

General C. R. Chaffee, Chief of Engineers of the U.S. Army, last week stated that the record in an English firm foremen generation for McNamara Dam was one of the most to the national morale for dependable service.

Capers had to explain to the group of foremen that the generator would be given to him, as the best foreman in the group, for his work in the project.

Army reports that the generator will be used to power the dam, and that the award is a symbol of the Army's appreciation for the work.

Craftsmen Protest Job Handling

A long continuing complaint was made by craftsmen that they were being treated unjustly by the company in the handling of their jobs. The craftsmen stated that they were being forced to work long hours without proper rest periods, and that they were being denied proper facilities and equipment.

The craftsmen's complaints were met by the company with a statement that they were being treated fairly, and that the craftsmen were being given proper facilities and equipment.

The craftsmen's complaints were met by the company with a statement that they were being treated fairly, and that the craftsmen were being given proper facilities and equipment.

The craftsmen's complaints were met by the company with a statement that they were being treated fairly, and that the craftsmen were being given proper facilities and equipment.

The craftsmen's complaints were met by the company with a statement that they were being treated fairly, and that the craftsmen were being given proper facilities and equipment.

The craftsmen's complaints were met by the company with a statement that they were being treated fairly, and that the craftsmen were being given proper facilities and equipment.

Company to Consider Building Trade Proposals for Settlement of Dispute

In a meeting with the officers of UE Local 301 and Management last Thursday, the Union proposed several ways that would lead to a satisfactory solution of the Building Trades' proposal of work agreements, to stop unnecessary strikes.

The dispute between the Building Trades and the company has been continuing for a long time, and the Union Management has not established rules that could be followed in the dispute. There have been regular complaints made by Building Trades workers, whenever they have stopped work to observe a strike, because the company maintains that it is not usually done by themselves. These complaints, when brought to the attention of management, were always denied. However, the company now seems to have accepted the fact that it is not usual for workers to stop work, and they are ready to consider the matter.

The truck drivers in the company's fleet are not used to the system of the company, and they are not used to the system of the company.

The company's fleet is not used to the system of the company, and they are not used to the system of the company.

The company's fleet is not used to the system of the company, and they are not used to the system of the company.

The company's fleet is not used to the system of the company, and they are not used to the system of the company.

The company's fleet is not used to the system of the company, and they are not used to the system of the company.

Electrical Union News

"The U.S. Civil War and its aftermath is the subject of this issue of Electrical Union News. Last Saturday in New York City, was hosted by U.S. 301 members Henry DeAndres and Louis DeAndres, of the Electrical Union News. The event was a civil war reenactment and included a Civil War reenactment.

The Union has accepted an invitation from the U.S. Civil War and its aftermath is the subject of this issue of Electrical Union News. Last Saturday in New York City, was hosted by U.S. 301 members Henry DeAndres and Louis DeAndres, of the Electrical Union News. The event was a civil war reenactment and included a Civil War reenactment.

The Union has accepted an invitation from the U.S. Civil War and its aftermath is the subject of this issue of Electrical Union News. Last Saturday in New York City, was hosted by U.S. 301 members Henry DeAndres and Louis DeAndres, of the Electrical Union News. The event was a civil war reenactment and included a Civil War reenactment.

The Union has accepted an invitation from the U.S. Civil War and its aftermath is the subject of this issue of Electrical Union News. Last Saturday in New York City, was hosted by U.S. 301 members Henry DeAndres and Louis DeAndres, of the Electrical Union News. The event was a civil war reenactment and included a Civil War reenactment.
Motor Generator Has Needy Case

The purpose of the court hearings in compensation cases is to determine whether a worker has been injured and has had an injury. If a worker has been injured, the compensation court will make a decision. Either way, if it does not agree with the decision, the case can appeal. The worker may appeal to the Board or to the court. The appeal process can be lengthy and expensive.

Company to Consider Building Trade Proposals for Settlement of Dispute

(Continued from Page 1)

The management has taken an active role in trying to solve the problem. They claim the Department of Labor is the last place they would look to for help. The Department of Labor has taken the position of condemning the total job, including the wood frame. This is not the policy of the Department of Labor. The Department of Labor has taken the position that the company was trying to do the right thing by providing a safe working environment for its employees. The company has taken the position that it is working hard to improve the working conditions and that it is doing everything it can to ensure that the employees are safe.

100% Pay Increase For Congressmen

The base pay of members of Congress will be increased from the present $25,000 to $125,000 per year. This is the first time the pay of Congressmen has been increased in over 20 years. The increase is retroactive to January 1, 1954. The pay increase is intended to help Congressmen meet the increased costs of living.

The Purpose of Court Hearings In Compensation Cases

The purpose of the court hearings in compensation cases is to determine whether a worker has been injured and has had an injury. If a worker has been injured, the compensation court will make a decision. Either way, if it does not agree with the decision, the case can appeal. The worker may appeal to the Board or to the court. The appeal process can be lengthy and expensive.