"THINGS TO THINK ABOUT"

by Frank Masterson

Did you know that:

G.B., Vice-President E.P. Erlich, said 2,000 shares of G.B. stock sold at a balance of his holdings at $10.75. Under the stock option reserved for "top brass", he could have bought this stock for as little as $12.75 per share, so let's figure this out just for fun. June 30th closing stock market found G.B. stock at $10.75; from that figure is $60.25 times 2,000, which gives Mr. Erlich a total of $130,050.

The average worker making $1,000 per year would have to work 36 years or practically a lifetime in order to earn that same amount of money.

OVER 3,000 ATTEND SUNDAY DAY RALLY

Despite the fact that it was Sunday, Father's Day and a beautiful day for picnicking, over 300 Senior Citizens turned out to support the rally for medical aid for retired pensioners.

Jack Suarez, President of Dist. #1, IUE, and a Vice-President of the A.C.L.U. State AFL-CIO, chairing the meeting. The theme was "Gift of Mother's Day for Seniors Security with dignity". The time:11 A.M.; the place: at the IUE Hall on 14th Ave.

Principal speakers were: Paul Benjamin, State Director of Senior Citizens of America, State Senator Begley, George Palmer (representing Sen. Stratton), Jack Suarez, Leo Jandrea and Mrs. Leona Newton, Dept. of Welfare.

Estate Gardner and Jack Lindsay representing the pensioners and retired workers, read telegrams from Gov. Rockefeller, Sen. Leavitt, Assemblyman Egan, W. Clyde Wright and Mayor Koch.

Leo Jandrea in addressing the Father's Day rally, said that the pension fighting legislation now to provide medical care for the aged are the same as those who fought social security, minimum wage and eight-hour day bills.

Business agent Jandrea said that "those people predicted all kinds of disaster" when the above bills were passed. Instead, the country has prospered and grown.

"It took a depression to knock some sense into the heads of those people," he asserted.

Besides aid for senior citizens, Jandrea said the country should strive for full employment, better education and better housing.

"Three and one-half million dollars for foreign aid... don't think we need it, but I also think we need another three and one-half million for domestic aid," he added.

A resolution was adopted unanimously in the rally, which stated, in part:

We resolve, on behalf of the 16,000 Senior Citizens in the U.S., that our representatives in Congress shall be put on notice that we will not let up in our fight to obtain that which we believe to be morally right and economically necessary—the right to adequate Health Insurance under our Social Security System for pensioners when they are forced to live on a 'fixed income'.

Local Group Receives $36,000 Back Pay

As an Advocate, which was run by Local 301, AFL-CIO, for the benefit of the Local 301 members and their families, the Advocate was published bi-weekly in New York and distributed for 25 cents in New York and 40 cents in other cities. The Advocate was an independent newspaper of service-disabled veterans and members of the Service Women's Defense Association in the United States.

OCTOBERS AT THE WAVE

The Advocate's address will be at the site of the Advocate and the Advocate will be available at the Advocate and to the Advocate at its Advocate and at its Advocate.

Over 300 Brave Tornado To Attend MAC/SAC Section Night

As noted by the Advocate, Sinclair and a Tornado which struck through Butte, Montana, and St. Louis, Missouri, the Section Night at the IUE Hall had a Tornado.

The Section Night was held at the northwest end of St. Louis, MO., and the Section Night was held in the Advocate.

Here is another example of the value of belonging to a union such as the IUE and Local 301.

Editorial:
The Senate Will Decide

The house has passed and sent to the Senate a summary of the basic social security legislation containing a number of changes in the Senate's version of the proposed social security bill. It must be noted that there are provisions for a number of changes in the Senate's version of the proposed social security bill. It is not clear whether the Senate will accept or reject the Senate's version of the proposed social security bill.

The Senate has been considering the bill since last week. It has made some changes in the bill and is expected to pass it soon. The Senate is expected to vote on the bill later this week.

The changes in the Senate's version of the social security bill include:

1. An increase in the amount of money to be paid to those who are eligible for social security benefits.
2. An extension of the eligibility period for receiving social security benefits.
3. An increase in the amount of money to be paid to those who have worked for a longer period of time.
4. An increase in the amount of money to be paid to those who have worked for a shorter period of time.
5. An increase in the amount of money to be paid to those who have worked in a different capacity.

The Senate is expected to vote on the bill later this week. It is not clear whether the Senate will accept or reject the Senate's version of the proposed social security bill.

The Senate will also consider other proposals, such as a proposal to increase the amount of money to be paid to those who have worked for a shorter period of time.
