SENIOR NEWS

BILL HOTELLING HEADS SENIOR HIGH COUNCIL AS 1936-'37 PRESIDENT

Bill Hotelling was elected president of the Senior High Student Council for next year by a vote of the students on Wednesday. Hotelling was introduced as a candidate by his campaign manager, Roger Orton, in a joint assembly at 1:00 o'clock, when each candidate for the presidency was presented by his manager and stated his platform in a formal campaign speech.

Students voted for their candidate in their homerooms immediately after the assembly. The Council representatives then took the ballots to Professor Sayles' office and counted them with Miss Halter. The vote was so close that for a time it looked as though it was a tie but in the final counting Hotelling won by a narrow margin.

Other officers for the Student Council will be elected later by members of the Council itself.

The last baseball game of the season will be played this afternoon with Draper High at Ridgefield Park. With Gordon Carvill, its best pitcher, on the mound, the team that has just defeated V. I. has high hopes of victory.

Milne is the only Albany school whose golf team will be represented at the 6th annual Interscholastic Invitation Tournament to be held tomorrow at the Troy Country Club.

FRENCH CLUB ELECTS

ETHEL FASOLD PRESIDENT

Of course, we all have had our "minor collisions," such as the history test we didn't study for, or that awful teacher, or the time we forgot to do something important, but all in all, I think we've had a pretty good time.

We are going to miss the Seniors next year, and we suppose that they are going to look fondly back upon the many privileges that they have had while working and playing at Milne. Farewell, Seniors! We wish you the very best of everything in your future lives, and hope that in the other schools or business that you will be associated with, you will show to others the high ideals that Milne has set before you.

Just stop and think a minute. Don't look back over the few unhappy moments you may have had—think of all the other things which you have enjoyed, and be thankful for them. It may not go down in history, but it has been rather a great year, hasn't it?

A YEAR IN RETROSPECT

In the weeks ahead of us, we see swimming, tennis, camping, hiking, and all the other summer sports of which we are going to take advantage. We who have been at Milne over a period of years know how fine it is to have a vacation, but we also remember the feeling of gladness which we experience when we return in September. It's always good to get back—to see old friends and to make new ones, to enjoy our classes, (and even to worry over them a little) to meet new teachers and new subjects, and to spend a new year in Milne. This year has gone by very quickly, it seems to me. I remember so easily last winter, when we were just getting settled back into the Milne routine again. It seems as if it were just a month or so ago that we were looking forward to Christmas, then to New Year's Day. Then the Quin-Sigma dance came along, then Spring, and in no time at all the Q a T S. A. formal. And here we are now, studying for exams. Just as quickly as that, it seems to me, the year has flown by.

PERSONAL HISTORY

When most people hear of an autobiography, they think of a very dry, boring story. However, Personal History, by Vincent Sheean, is a very interesting autobiography of a newspaper man. Mr. Sheean attended many of the international conventions and other interesting gatherings. Wherever there was trouble, the author of this book was to be found. He attended the signing of the Treaty of Locarno, the Morocco Rebellion, and a great number of international disputes.

Personal History is something rather new in the way of autobiographies; it holds one's attention to the very end, and one is led through the intriguing tangle of strange happenings in foreign lands in a very absorbing manner. I'm sure that anyone who is at all interested in true adventures that have really been actual experiences would find Personal History very interesting to him.
