Milne Gains a New Head

by Jennifer Wolff

Dr. Nicholas DeLuca is 5’11” tall, has dark hair, wears glasses, and is our new Milne principal. As the principal, he must oversee everything that goes on in Milne and make sure that there is enough money to maintain the school. He will also be responsible for the maintenance of the school and the student body. The Student Council will be able to ask him questions and express their opinions.

Dr. DeLuca is a native of Milne and attended the school himself. He has a degree in education and is currently working towards his doctorate in education. He has been teaching at Milne for many years and has been able to gain the respect of the students and the faculty.

Dr. DeLuca has a passion for education and is committed to providing the best possible education for the students at Milne. He is dedicated to making sure that the students have a good education and are prepared for the future.

Another addition to the Milne faculty is Mr. John Green, who has been appointed to the position of assistant principal. Mr. Green is a former student at Milne and has a degree in education. He has been teaching at Milne for many years and has been able to gain the respect of the students and the faculty.

Mr. Green will be responsible for the administration of the school and will work closely with the principal to ensure that the school runs smoothly. He will be a valuable addition to the Milne faculty and will be able to provide the students with the best possible education.

On the Run

With school back in full swing once again, both Page courtyard and the playing field echo with the loud sound of bleachers, shin splints, aching feet and blisters, Ben-gay, heating pads, soaking, determination, guts, devotion, and dedication. Cross-country is all these things but most of all, a lot of fun, and a group of really close friends.

For these reasons, the editors and staff of the Crimson and White would like to express our sincere best wishes to Coach Lyon and to all the members of the cross-country team for a really successful season. Thank you for all the time and effort which you will put forth in the name of our school. You are a truly dedicated team who deserve the active support of every student and faculty member here at Milne.

Girls Get Underway

Girl’s sports are well underway and the future looks as bright as last year’s. On September 25th, the hockey team traveled to Skidmore College for a clinic. This event has been the key to the team’s success in the past, and will hopefully continue to be this year. Of course, returning to the team are seniors, in particular, Losher, Lynn Herkowitz, Nancy Reimer, and our famous goalie, Etta Aberman. These veterans will be joined by juniors Linda Freedman and Lolly Michela, and sophomores Sue Graham, Terri Parker, and Melissa O’Neal. With a team like this, it looks like we’ve won already. (Well, we’ll see.)

The eighth and ninth grade soccer players have been practicing every Tuesday and Friday, from 2:30 till 4:30. They have attended several games for this season, including contests with such schools as St. Agnes High School and St. Mary’s at Milne. Anyone interested in either hockey or soccer, please come to the practices! You have nothing to lose, but a lot to gain. And I’m sure that the team will let you make them up.

—Lynn Herkowitz

WRITING AWARDS

This year, the Scholastic Creative Writing Awards are being offered to those high school students who display exceptional creative writing ability. In the words of its National Secretary, Madeline Murray, “This well known program provides an opportunity for the best in student writing to be judged by distinguished authors, editors, and educators. Many award-winning manuscripts are published by Scholastic Book Services.”

Cash prizes are awarded to the best writers in various categories, such as poetry, short stories, essays, and dramatic scripts. In addition, two scholarships are also being offered in the form of a one thousand dollar grant, and a six weeks study trip to Europe.

Anyone wishing to take part in this exciting contest should contact Mr. Richard Lewis for further information regarding rules and methods for entry. His office is located in Richardson 339.

On the Run

With school back in full swing once again, both Page courtyard and the playing field echo with the loud sound of bleachers, shin splints, aching feet and blisters, Ben-gay, heating pads, soaking, determination, guts, devotion, and dedication. Cross-country is all these things but most of all, a lot of fun, and a group of really close friends.

For these reasons, the editors and staff of the Crimson and White would like to express our sincere best wishes to Coach Lyon and to all the members of the cross-country team for a really successful season. Thank you for all the time and effort which you will put forth in the name of our school. You are a truly dedicated team who deserve the active support of every student and faculty member here at Milne.

Girls Get Underway

Girl’s sports are well underway and the future looks as bright as last year’s. On September 25th, the hockey team traveled to Skidmore College for a clinic. This event has been the key to the team’s success in the past, and will hopefully continue to be this year. Of course, returning to the team are seniors, in particular, Losher, Lynn Herkowitz, Nancy Reimer, and our famous goalie, Etta Aberman. These veterans will be joined by juniors Linda Freedman and Lolly Michela, and sophomores Sue Graham, Terri Parker, and Melissa O’Neal. With a team like this, it looks like we’ve won already. (Well, we’ll see.)

The eighth and ninth grade soccer players have been practicing every Tuesday and Friday, from 2:30 till 4:30. They have attended several games for this season, including contests with such schools as St. Agnes High School and St. Mary’s at Milne. Anyone interested in either hockey or soccer, please come to the practices! You have nothing to lose, but a lot to gain. And I’m sure that the team will let you make them up.

—Lynn Herkowitz
The 5 rings of the Olympic Games, and a torch of unity in hope for brotherhood in the ancient tradition of peace, burned brightly.

The games they swelled, ran, and wrestled. Together they climbed and jumped in the clear bright dawn, dancing in the cool of the evening.

Eight men unknowingly to the world climbed and pounded and shot, piercing the dawn at 4 a.m. to be a world who watched their athletes with joy and expectations while cameras and immobile men swept by.

Eight men controlling 9 lives, disrupting those countless men and women in Munich, as individuals who wept, who ran, who swim, who jumped, who danced, who dove, 9 of Israel's best taken by panics. The games, unpatriotic in friendship, suspended into murder by eight, touching lives into disbelief.

The wars were suspended centuries ago for providing a world who put his political aspirations towards the 1976 election. I'm glad that I campaigned for Gene McCarthy. It seems that even though the morning and afternoon classes are being rotated separately, that fifth period class can be a lesson in life or a great teacher of rights granted to the student is the 2:30 p.m. bell every day? Or is that before the 5 rings of the Olympia, which the 5 rings of the Olympians provided at the 5 rings of the Olympic Games?

Items of Interest

The Ballet Maya de Ruben Duarte, the Mexican ballet company, will perform on October 29, 30, and 31 at SUNYA. The program, which is being sponsored by the Milne Spanish Club, will consist of matinees on the 29th and 31st at 2:30, and an evening show at 8:30 on the 30th. All performances will be held at the Performing Arts Center, and will include a Mayan Indian rain dance, fire dance, and a representation of human sacrifice. The program promises to be an interesting one and certainly worth attending.

The second Albany Symphony concert will be held on Saturday evening, October 28, at 8:30. Featured soloist will be pianist Findlay Cockrell, of State University. He will perform Rachmaninoff's "Paganini Rhapsody." This, as well as all of the Albany Symphony concerts, will be held at the Palace Theater.