PAKISTAN GREETS

DR. GARDNER

Dr. Randolph Gardner, head of the Milne mathematics department, was one of sixteen persons from the United States and Hawaii to journey to Pakistan for a period of nine months (October 1953 to July 1954) under a Fulbright grant. Dr. Gardner's work during that time consisted of improving teaching standards at the University of Karachi, and establishing the first psychological laboratory there. Accompanying him where his wife and three children.

His travels took him to Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Bombay, Ceylon, Casablanca, and Beirut. Some of this territory was not altogether new to him as he had taught in Tokyo before the war.

Educational Methods Differ

Dr. Gardner has made numerous interesting observations of Pakistani life. Pakistan differs from America in many respects. Public schools are not co-educational and are free only until the fifth grade. A student wishing to pursue his studies must pay for higher education. The colleges are unusual in that although they are co-educational, the students are separated from the women by a curtain extending the length of the classroom. The women are further concealed by a veil or "burka" covering their face. Mrs. Gardner said that her most vivid memories were of the Taj Mahal and the Father Pass.

While in Karachi, the mathematics supervisor resided in a modern apartment house built by the government. He employed several servants, the highest paid of which received only thirty of our dollars a month. City life in Karachi differs greatly from that of American metropolises. Stores are small and few, since the majority of goods are sold by door-to-door peddlars. Constant bargaining must be employed before an article can be purchased. Even in the best of stores, no price is fixed.

Travel is Limited

Transportation varies fromrickshaw to bus, of which the latter is another of men being segregated from women. Cars serve the comparatively rich, the majority being of English make.

The Gardner family brought many souvenirs with them to their Albany home. Many articles and prints from Japan, and numerous pieces of clothing from Hong Kong.

Another of the doctor's accomplishments is the writing of three textbooks, the latest entitled "Applied Mathematics." This book is now being used in the New York City school system and may soon see duty in Texas.

Seniors Present Mystery

Milne Grad Directs Play

Who are the ladies? Why are they in retirement? To what spot have they retired? Unfortunately, no one knows the answers to these questions. Senior Class Thespians will unfold the mystery to the general public,Sunday, November 13, 1954, at 8:30 p. m. in Page Hall auditorium when the class of '55 will present the play entitled "Ladies in Retirement," written by Edward Percy and Regional Denham.

The story takes place in the living room of Lenora Flakie, one of the characters in the play. The whole senior class is cooperating to make this play "the best."
The cast is as follows:

Ellen Creed.............Janet Vine
Louisa Creed.........Cynthia Berberian
Emily Creed.............Judie Brightman
Leonora Flakie........Ann Crocker
Albert Gosnell........Peter Birkel
Lucy Gilham..........Sally Ann Cook
Sister Theresa......Shelba FitzGerald
Miss Doris Mehan, a senior at State College for Teachers, and a graduate of the Milne class of '32, is directing the production.

Seniors Busy with Committees

Co-chairman of the stage and sets committee are Alice Gosnell and Steve Kelley. Nancy Kelley, Russell Peters, Ann Gayle, Joan Dick, Carol Becker, Denise Gartner, Michael Cohn, Richard Schwartz, Jon Benediktsson, Charles Moose, Peter Guise, Bob Faust, and George Bishop are also on the committee.

Joel Berman, chairman, Larry Genden, Ronald Ruff, John Dumay, Dave Neville, John Brennan, Dick Greene, Dixon Welt, and Bob Keller are members of the tickets and program committee.

Crimson and White

Vol XXIX, No. 2
THE MILNE SCHOOL, ALBANY, N. Y.
NOVEMBER 5, 1954

Humanities Class Takes Field Trip

By MARION PREISSER

Our humanities class has been going places and doing things since it was established. So far, we have visited the Jarrett home in Loudonville, attended a concert at the R. P. I. Field House and an art exhibit at the Albany Institute of History and Art.

Our first trip was to the Jarrett's new home on Loudon Lane. While there, all the modern conveniences were pointed out to us by our expert art teacher, Mr. Edward Cowley; even Mr. Kenneth Jarrett, himself, added his comments.

Remember the night that "Hakiza Hazele" paid her visit to the hospital? That was the night our ambitious class went to the R. P. I. Field House to hear the Concertgebouw Orchestra of Amsterdam, Holland. Not having received their dress clothes from New York in time for the concert, the orchestra played in its night sleeves. This incident added a touch of humor to the occasion.

A few weeks ago you may have heard our Humanities Class, a few at a time, enter or leave the Albany Institute of History and Art. The purpose of this visit was not to see the mummies, but to study the Fletcher Martin exhibit of paintings upstairs. For many of us, it was our first experience at an art exhibit. If you had been there you might have heard comments such as, "Shall we buy this one? It's only $110," or, "I wonder if this is hung right side up?"

Quin, Sigma Stage Rushes

"Cafe Quin" was the theme of the Quintillian Literary Society's fall rush, October 26, at three o'clock. The program began when members of the society served refreshments, which consisted of gingersnaps, cookies, sandwiches and icecream.

The entertainment then began with a dance by Judy Weibel to the "Little Shoemaker," Sally Cook pantomimed to the "Purple Cow" and Cecil Blum to "C'est ci Bon." At "Hernando's Hideaway" you would find more Quin girls. This was followed by a Parisian fashion show.

Connie Olivo, president of Quin, thanked all members for helping with the rush. The program ended with the singing of the Quin song. The Zeta Sigma Literary Society's annual rush was entitled "Alas in Sigmaland." It took place November 2, at 3:30 p. m. in the auditorium when the class unfolded the mystery to the general public.

Some of the characters portrayed in the Sigmaland skit were the King and Queen of Hearts, Tweedledum and Tweedledoom, White Rabbit, "Alas" in Wonderland, the Mad Hatter, and the Four Aces.

Janet Vine, mistress of ceremonies, was responsible for the Sigma script, and Sheila FitzGerald, president, brought the rush to a close by conducting the Zeta Sigma song.
Competitive Competition

Everywhere on the earth, people are endlessly striving to progress. Psychologically, for this reason, the world is able to survive. For if people were to stop advancing, history would come to a halt. Along with this theory, goes the "nip and tuck" idea.

Competitive competition is evident in the home, church and school; the latter of which is of most importance. Games, sports, contests and many other topics are of a competitive nature in Milne as well as elsewhere in the world.

It is our duty as a student body to be primarily concerned with the reputation Milne has upon other schools, and the standards that we set amongst ourselves.

Competing friends, organizations, and schools should not forget the fundamentals of fair play. Progress is our most important product, but besides that students who first recognize and practice sportsmanship to the utmost, are the ones who eventually win in the "nip and tuck" race.

---

ALUMNEWS

Nancy Redden '54, a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree at Pembroke College, Providence, Rhode Island.

Wedding bells will be ringing on Saturday, November 20, for Marion Siesel '51, and the groom-to-be, Lt. Douglas Williams.

Sally Simmons '54, a member of the freshman class at Cornell University, was seen around Albany recently.

Pat Canfield, Jud Lockwood, Joe Page, and Eleanor Erb, all of the class of '54, were home from college spending a weekend.

Gerald Linton '54 a student at V. M., recently talked to a girl. The outcome resulted in a shaved head.

---

CRIMSON AND WHITE

Vol. XXIV NOVEMBER 5, 1954 No. 2

Published every three weeks by the CRIMSON AND WHITE Board, The Milne School, Albany, New York. Address exchanges to the Exchange Editor and other correspondence to the Editor.

MEMBER
Columbia Scholastic Press Ass'n.
Empire State School Press Ass'n.

THE EDITORIAL STAFF

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF............................................Ann Crocker '55
ASSOCIATE EDITOR............................................Carol Myers '55
NEWS EDITOR.........................................Cynthia Berberian '55
ASST. BOYS' SPORTS EDITOR...........Wayne Somers '57
FACULTY ADVISER........................................Mr. Hugh Smith

THE STAFF

TYPING STAFF
Chief Typist, Jerry Kane; Alice Goussell, Judy Jenkins, Ellis Weber, Jackie Bonzey.

THE NEWS BOARD

SECRET WEAPON

The announcement of the annual Tri-Hi-Y dance set the senior high buzzing. Seen enjoying themselves at this gala event were Dave Bain, Elsa Weber, Jackie Marks, Judy Weld, Paul Howard, John Williott, Trip May, Joyce Harbinger, John Houston, Alma Becker, Sara Seiter, Tommy Nathan, Jerry Kane, Sue Powell and Kenny Jarrett.

Another dance held recently was a "Get Acquainted Dance" for the seventh grade. Among the kids getting their first whirl of social life were Ricky Hutchison, Jackie Keller, Wjyna Methusa, John Jarrett and Andy Kelly.

Seen at a senior hayride by Ronnie Killelea were Judy Jenkina, Bob Conklin, Nancy Eckhorn, Steve Greenbaum; Ginny Pitkin, Russ Peck; Lois Smith and Carl Eppelman and Shirley Vandenburg.

Charlotte Saackman had a Pizza open house to start a new craze. Some of the people stuffing themselves and enjoying every minute were Dave Stegman, Katie Simmons, George Creighton, Jane Armstrong, Abby Perlman, and Diana Reed.

The boys are trying to outdo the girls this year as Jerry Thomas is proving by having a male slumber party. The boys staying up all night were Pete Birkel, Russell Peters and Dave Brown.

Camp Sharperoon sported a number of Minnie's working hard getting everything ready for old man winter. Part of the crew consisted of Tom Olivo, Barry Fitzgerald, Ann Gayle, Bruce Fitzgerald and Ginny Huntington.

The junior high started their dance off with a shin dig called "The Bermuda Bounce." Some of the bouncers seen were Gretchen Seiter, Anna Gesell, Don Lewis, Linda Seher, Carl Green, Bob Killough, Kathy Perry, Bob Horn and Sue McNeil.

Trudy Shaw recently had an open house for all juniors. Those attending were Steve Stein, Paul Cohen, Sue Patent, Mary Ann Bullion, Mike DePorte, Willa Desousa and Jackie Torner.

A big surprise attack was a party given for Steve Sloan. Some of the kids celebrating were Kathy Scott, Linda Berg, Bob Blaby, Dee Huhrner, Fred Taylor and Ann Quikenton.

A girl completely for slumber parties was Jean Veverka. The group of females included Rita Goussell, Annabel Page, Betsy Price, Stephanie Condon, Carol Becker and Joyce Seymour.

---

The Inquiring Reporter

By CAROL 'n JUDIE

Question—Should the Milne girls sponsor a twirp season?

Barbara Wolman: "No, because the boys eat like pigs.

Mary Anne O'Connel: "No, the boys would take advantage of it and expect it all the time."

Carol Myers: "It is okay if you go steady."

Marcia Leonard: "No, it is much too expensive."

Janet Vinc: "Are you kidding?"

David Brown: "Yes! So I don't have to keep breaking my $80 bill."

Nancy Kelly: "No, it is proper for the boys to pay."

Cynthia Beberian: "Yes. If two people like each other they should learn to share.

Ed Blessing: "If the girls want to go out they should pay."

Elanie Cohn: "No, because I can't afford it."

George Bishop: "Yes, because the boys are alwaysoughing up the cash."

Caroline Bruce: "Yes, definitely."

Joyce Eppleman: "Yes, the boys should have a break."

Rita Skindzvilks: "Yes, if she is loaded."

Carolyn Male: "No, I'd be losing money."

Arlene Sussen: "No . . ."

Mr. Fagen: "Yes, it would be a change."

Joel Berman: "Sure, once in a while the girls should spend a little of their dough on the boys for all the money the boys spend on the girls."

Sandy Wurst: "Yes, give the boys a chance."

Jane Armstrong: "No, because the girls have no income."

Patty Averill: "No, because my father would have to shell out."

Doreen Goldberg: "No, I'd have to put my piggy bank."

Jackie Keller: "I don't know, but I wish they would."

Ely McNamar: "Sure, the girls are rolling in dough."

Susan LaPaug: "No, because it is improper."

Elaine Lewis: "No, if the boy asks the girl out, he should pay."

Ken Jarrett: "Yes, by all means. After all, they should do something for us guys for a change."

Roger Stumpf: "Yes, they've got to spend their money homeway!"

Annabel Page: "No, who's got the dough?"

Linda Shouaty: "Definitly not! I'm always broke . . . . . . . . . .

Larry Genden: "Yes, because I have a big appetite."

Tom Nathan: "The way the girls ask the boys out you'd think they might pay for it."

Miss Sartwell: "For an occasion similar to Sadie Hawkins affair the 'twirp idea' might be fun. However as far as the 'twirp season' is concerned, it would be contrary to proper etiquette."

---
Athletic Association Features Film Proceeds to Buy Sweater Awards

The Milne Boys Athletic Association will present a movie to raise money for sweater awards for deserving athletes. The movie is "Night Little Island." It is an English movie about a little Scottish Island off the coast of Great Britain where the sale of liquor is prohibited. The situations that arise when this island suddenly gets a source of supply makes for an amusing comedy.

Money Needed for Sweaters

The MBAA, like all other school organizations, is allotted money from the Milne School budget. With this money, and the receipts that they get from basketball games, organization is hardly able to meet the expenses that are required to run gym classes and the junior high intramural playing season. There may be a few black and blue marks but no serious injuries have occurred. The j. v. basketball, baseball, and tennis teams. There is usually enough money to buy letters, but the past few years have been financially out of reach for the MBAA budget. In order to give the Milnites the sweaters they deserve, the MBAA sponsors a money raising project.

Milnites Earn Sweaters

The MBAA presents sweaters to all Milne students who have acquired enough credits. The credits are accumulated by participating in sports activities. For each freshman sport the athlete receives one credit, jayvee two credits and for each varsity sport, three credits. Sweaters earned by the players in the past few years have been bought by the Milne Boys Athletic Association with the money made from the annual movie.

By supporting tonight's movie you are showing an interest in your team. They are preparing to fight hard for the glory of Milne. Show them that you are behind them and help buy their sweaters. The show it at 8 p.m. in Page Hall. The price of admission is fifty cents and if you haven't already purchased your tickets, you may do so at the door.

Hoopers Work Out

The Milne Red Raiders began basketball practice in the Page Hall gym on Monday, November 1. The varsity and jayvee are now practicing daily after school. The freshmen work out before school.

Some of the returning hoopers from last year's jayvee are Joel Berman, John Brennan, Pete Hopper, Larry Gendler, Bruce and Barry Fitzgerald, Bob Koller, and Dave Wilson. There are two new lettermen, Paul Howard and Russ Peck.

These boys have been running around the park lake and doing callisthenics to get in condition for this year's season.

The season opens November 23 when the Red Raiders meet the Cohoeskill Red Devils. They will clash in the Page Hall gym.

Joel Berman and Russ Peck want you to buy tickets for the MBAA movie. The money is to be used to buy sweaters for the boys who have earned enough credits.

Milnites Attend Soccer Games

Many Milne students have been watching the State College soccer games. These Milnites attend State's games because there is no fall sport at Milne in which they can participate until basketball begins in November. Soccer is not new to them and they seem to enjoy watching it. If enough interest is shown in the sport, it might be possible to have it at Milne. Milne needs a fall sport and soccer fills out the fall season. Soccer could also be enjoyed as an intramural activity or played in gym classes.

The State College games have been exciting, and State generally enjoys the best interest, except when the weather is bad. The Milnites have developed an excitement for the sport. Since soccer is the man sport the athlete receives one credit, jayvee two credits and for each varsity sport, three credits. The remaining game is to be played next year.

Faculty Downs Hi-Y

Faculty Gains Early Lead

In the first game, the faculty took an early five points lead before the Hi-Y squad scored. The students then tallied back with four big points to tighten the score. Mr. Howes and Mr. Fagan each spiked the ball and again the faculty held a commanding edge. The faculty ran this edge up to seven points, making the score 12-5, when Carl Eppelmann's brillant serving almost sparked the sparklers to a comeback in the first game.

Faculty Wins Early Lead

In the first game the faculty took an early five points lead before the Hi-Y squad scored. The students then tallied back with four big points to tighten the score. Mr. Howes and Mr. Fagan each spiked the ball and again the faculty held a commanding edge. The faculty ran this edge up to seven points, making the score 12-5, when Carl Eppelmann's brillant serving almost sparked the sparklers to a comeback in the first game.

Hi-Y Changes Squad

Hi-Y put in another squad to play the second game. This squad was composed of Bruce Fitzgerald, Don Milne, Art Evans, Bob Martin, Paul Rissburger, and Andy Stokes. The faculty took this game 15-13. The faculty made one point on Dr. Fossieck's serve and once again the students evened it up. The faculty then tallied two straight points to win 15-13.

Hi-Y Changes Squad

Hi-Y put in another squad to play the second game. This squad was composed of Bruce Fitzgerald, Don Milne, Art Evans, Bob Martin, Paul Rissburger, and Andy Stokes. The faculty took this game 15-13.

Songleaders Selected

G. A. A. council decided to sponsor two senior girls as songleaders. All the girls who were interested tried out for the song patrol. The tryouts were held. G. A. A. council picked a group to go before another committee for the final judging. The two girls selected will attend the games and participate with the other cheerleaders in making the spectators cheer. If this experiment works, next year it will be possibly be opened to the whole senior high. These girls will be on the assembly program. The senior cheerleaders are: Ann Gayle and Sheila Fitzgerald.

Coming Events

With winter and cold weather approaching both the senior and junior high girls will start to play basketball in their gym classes and also in intramurals, alternating the time spent in the "big" gym. We will be playing murder ball. During the winter months, there will be basketball playdays and possibly a volleyball playday and a roller skating party.

Soccer Games

By supporting tonight's movie you are showing an interest in your team. They are preparing to fight hard for the glory of Milne. Show them that you are behind them and help buy their sweaters. The show it at 8 p.m. in Page Hall. The price of admission is fifty cents and if you haven't already purchased your tickets, you may do so at the door.

Hi-Y Changes Squad

Hi-Y put in another squad to play the second game. This squad was composed of Bruce Fitzgerald, Don Milne, Art Evans, Bob Martin, Paul Rissburger, and Andy Stokes.

Facility Gains Early Lead

In the first game, the faculty took an early five points lead before the Hi-Y squad scored. The students then tallied back with four big points to tighten the score. Mr. Howes and Mr. Fagan each spiked the ball and again the faculty held a commanding edge. The faculty ran this edge up to seven points, making the score 12-5, when Carl Eppelmann's brillant serving almost sparked the sparklers to a comeback in the first game.

Faculty Wins Early Lead

In the first game, the faculty took an early five points lead before the Hi-Y squad scored. The students then tallied back with four big points to tighten the score. Mr. Howes and Mr. Fagan each spiked the ball and again the faculty held a commanding edge. The faculty ran this edge up to seven points, making the score 12-5, when Carl Eppelmann's brillant serving almost sparked the sparklers to a comeback in the first game.

Hi-Y Changes Squad

Hi-Y put in another squad to play the second game. This squad was composed of Bruce Fitzgerald, Don Milne, Art Evans, Bob Martin, Paul Rissburger, and Andy Stokes. The faculty took this game 15-13. The faculty made one point on Dr. Fossieck's serve and once again the students evened it up. The faculty then tallied two straight points to win 15-13.

Hi-Y Changes Squad

Hi-Y put in another squad to play the second game. This squad was composed of Bruce Fitzgerald, Don Milne, Art Evans, Bob Martin, Paul Rissburger, and Andy Stokes. The faculty took this game 15-13.

Songleaders Selected

G. A. A. council decided to sponsor two senior girls as songleaders. All the girls who were interested tried out for the song patrol. The tryouts were held. G. A. A. council picked a group to go before another committee for the final judging. The two girls selected will attend the games and participate with the other cheerleaders in making the spectators cheer. If this experiment works, next year it will be possibly be opened to the whole senior high. These girls will be on the assembly program. The senior cheerleaders are: Ann Gayle and Sheila Fitzgerald.

Coming Events

With winter and cold weather approaching both the senior and junior high girls will start to play basketball in their gym classes and also in intramurals, alternating the time spent in the "big" gym. We will be playing murder ball. During the winter months, there will be basketball playdays and possibly a volleyball playday and a roller skating party.
COLUMNIST FOUND HILARIOUS

Dog Show

"The dog is man's best friend!" Upon taking the advice of our friend, the dog psychologist, journeyed down to the Tony Kennel Club's dog show on one fine Saturday morning in October. However, Don't get me wrong, I like dogs as well as you do, but to me show dogs are a poor excuse for the loving animals usually found to be a man's best friend. You have to really into the subject for the stage-struck actors are.

Dog Owners are Just as Funny as Their Pooch in the Crook of Her Arm. You could almost hear her saying, "Poor Fifi, all these people do bother you and then exhibited demonstrations using Jeannie.

Dog Demonstrated Lessons

Mr. Haverson and his dog demonstrated those lessons which the dog psychologist deemed necessary for the training of dogs in teaching them to sit, lie down, come when called, and walk on a leash. Having practiced her act before, Jeannie also showed the students what a well-trained dog will not do.

Haverson Has Saved Dogs

Mr. Haverson has been studying the "bad behavior patterns" of different dogs for the past thirty-three years, and in this way has been able to correct many faults and make friends and pets of many dogs which would otherwise have been discarded or destroyed.

His informative talks have been broadcast over radio and television. Many magazines and newspapers have printed his work. He has also written the textbook entitled, "Our Dogs" which can be found in many libraries.

Revision of the Old Hi-Y Custom

The Hi-Y organization revised its custom of initiating new members into the club by conducting an informal induction ceremony. The induction ceremony was held at Y. M. C. A., November 1st, at 7:30 p.m.

The officers officiating at the ceremony were Don Milne, president of the Hi-Y; Art Evans, vice-president; Jon Benckdikson, secretary; Trip May, treasurer; and Paul Howard, chaplain.

The purpose of the ceremony was to acquaint the new members with the principles and obligations of the members of Hi-Y.

Debate Club News

Members of the debate club are now forming groups for an against the following proposition: "Resolved that the federal government should initiate a policy of free trade among nations friendly to the United States.

The debate club meetings are scheduled for Mondays at 2:30 p.m. in room 224. Carl Eppelman is the head of this group.

Any senior high students interested in debating should either contact Mr. Fagan or Mr. James Cochrane, the faculty advisors.

APPROPRIATION OF COMMITTEES

The Milne student government has chosen the members of the 1954-55 student council committees.

The members of the assembly committee include Janet Vine, vice-president to the Milne student council, as chairman of the committee; Paul Howard, eleventh grade representative; Ellen Jepsen, tenth grade representative; and Annabel Page and Gretchen Seiter, ninth and eighth grade representatives respectively. Dr. Ruth E. Wasley is the committee's faculty advisor. The function of this committee is to plan and schedule the school assembly programs.

The student faculty committee takes up matters of importance between students and teachers, and plans such events as competitive sports nights. This group consists of Ed Berkun, treasurer of senior student council as chairman, with Thomas Coleen and Honey McNeill assisting. The faculty members of this group have not yet been announced.

Q.T.S.A. Plans

Quin, Theta Nu, Sigma, and Adelphi are planning to sponsor a semi-formal dance on January 1st at Pioneer Hall.

The Q. T. S. A. has not sponsored a dance of this kind for three years. The officers of the four societies think it is a Q. T. S. A. tradition that should be continued.

Carrie O'Connell, president of Quin; Sheila Fitzgerald, president of Sigma; Joel Berman, president of Theta Nu; and Ed Blessing, president of Adelphi, all met as representatives of their society to decide on the date and place for the dance.

F.H.A. Projects

The Future Homemakers of America's officers this year are: Ann Gayle, president; Diana Lynn, vice-president; Barbara Wolman, secretary; and Mary Ann O'Connell, sergeant-at-arms.

F. H. A. is planning to have a bake sale for the school again this year. Another project they are working on is the making of stuffed animals and scrap books for the children in the various hospitals.

Look What's Coming

Friday, November 5

M. B. A. A. movie in Page Hall

Saturday, November 6

Junior high party in lounge

Thursday, November 11

Armistice day assembly held per curiam

Senior, November 13

Senior play in Page Hall at 8:00 p.m.

Tuesday, November 16

Senior parents night

Friday, November 18

Sophomore class rings delivered

Cobleskill vs. Milne in basketball game

Wednesday, November 24

Thanksgiving vacation begins

ANN CROCKER

Look what Loudonville sent us! A dish-washer blonde with a charming smile— that's Ann Crocker.

Born September 1, 1937, she has been a Milnite since seventh grade. Ann was vice-president of the junior class. At home she room representative to the senior student council in her sophomore year. As a member-in-chief of the Crimson & White, a member of the senior play cast, and a member of the Milnettes.

Ann's favorite food is doughnuts, a New England specialty (your guess is as good as mine). On the other hand, she can't stand "Steam Heat" (the record, that is), or typographical errors.

In forecast of her future, Ann jokingly says, "Guess I'll be a jack of all trades, and master of none." Most of all, she will miss her classmates after a class of four years. She is, however, and really loves that nice red brick finish and everything that's in it.

JOHN HOUSTON

There's no need to introduce this senior. He's none other than John Houston (Get the Poston!). John was born in New York City on June 17, 1937. Upon moving to Albany in '46, he attended P. S. No. 16, and came to our honored almamater in the seventh grade.

John is president of the senior class, a member of Theta Nu, the track squad and was a graduation usher last year. John is one of our more athletic seniors, playing basketball and baseball for Milne.

Among the things that John likes about life are: navajis, bird dogs, cat, Alma, but he "dislikes Larry Genden's feet. His favorite pastime is pushing Edward's truck and stealing his student's (cooped, and he manages to find time for Alma. His favorite phrase is, "No Allee, we don't do that today.

John would like to attend a university like Princeton, taking a course in liberal arts.