Happy Birthday!

Dear Editor,

Last week you published an editorial saying that Milne students lacked sufficient school spirit. I believe that the following suggestion would improve your so-called school spirit to some degree. This suggestion is TO DECREASE THE SIZE OF THE CHEERING SQUAD!

Many have commented to this effect in recent weeks.

In the first place no other school that we have played has such a large squad as Milne and they get better results than Milne even with a smaller squad, but it would be for the better.

Perhaps you on the CRIMSON AND WHITE can not take any definite action on this. No one is to blame in the matter. Here is one case where many girls are showing fine school spirit, but perhaps they could find another way to support school activities. You wanted suggestions; here's one:

Red Raiders Vanquish Albany Academy Five, 42-34

Game Back In Action; Garners Sixteen Points

On last Friday night Milne played a nip and tuck game with Albany Academy. It wasn’t until the final period that Milne brooked the deadlock which had them tied at twenty-nine all, to win, 42-34.

Game Returns

Everyone was glad to see Hal Game back on the court after being out of action for the last five games. Hal led Milne’s attack with sixteen points.

Academy Leads

In the first quarter, Milne gave one of the most efficient leads to Academy. Game scored 5 out of our 13 points in this period. In the second quarter the play was fast and fierce, but comparatively scoreless. Morty Swartz led Academy with twenty-five points to Albany’s nineteen.

Hawk Holmes followed him with four points.

Morty Swartz were high scorers for Academy. Cleveland was high scorer for the Academy.

Seven Academy, to win, by a comfortable margin.

So come on kids, let’s go to town,
Milne! Milne! Milne!
We can’t let that Milne team down!

A basket a basket, a basket, boys.
You make the baskets, we’ll make the noise!

Other groups are being formed, and it is possible that they will hold grand tournaments at the end of the season.

Junior Cheering Squad Lists Two New Cheers

The cheering squad has some new cheers to introduce to the Milne school Friday night at the St. John’s game. The cheerleaders think that the school needs some new cheers to pep up the game and to hold the students’ interest.

Barbara Smith, ’46, head cheerleader of the junior squad, has stated, “We hope that all the students will learn the cheers which are printed here, so that we may use them at the game tonight.”

The St. John’s varsity has not dropped a game this season. The Milne junior varsity, however, have not dropped a game this season and this should prove a tough match for the Milne JV.

Feminine Bowlers Can Earn Letter, G. A. C. Decides

At a recent Girls’ Athletic Council, it was decided that a bowling letter will be given to all Milne girls who meet certain requirements. As there are so many feminine keglers among the students of Milne, it was decided that bowling should be credited toward sports awards.

Requirements are that each girl must roll at least two games on ten different days. In order to receive credit, girls must hand in a list of the dates of bowling and scores to Miss Margaret Hitchcock, instructor of physical education.
Milne Red Cross Makes Plans for This Semester

The Milne Red Cross Association has not been asleep in the rapidly moving world of today. After completing the first semester schedule with success, all coming half year have been made.

The calendar for the future is full of important plans. Reading the list is the coming Red Cross Benefit Basketball game. It is scheduled for some time in March. When the major city-wide roll call begins. Further details can not yet be published, but a full account will be given in the Crimson and White in the near future.

Important Plans

Coinciding with the game is a joint assembly under way. Full details have not yet been completed, but this is known articles-completed a selection along with a speaker from the Senior Red Cross. He will speak concerning the film and also about important topics pertaining to Red Cross work.

Assist Senior Branch

A call has been made by the Senior Branch of the Red Cross for small stages to be made by school organizations. Each school will construct one stage which will be displayed in the “Good Housekeeping” show. This is the main objective in this work. On each stage, a portrayal of some work done by the Red Cross as a whole will be displayed.

The work will be done by members of the Red Cross in Milne, supported by members of the Victory Corps. A news bulletin must be completed by February 19.

Other schools also participating on this project are Albany High Schools, Girls Academy, High School, Schuyler, Hackett High, Albany Academy, and St. Agnes. Each school will have a different topic of Red Cross work.

The Milne home room are also expected to respond to a call for old playing cards. The cards will be used by soldiers in various recreational centers. If each home room will comply with the quota set by the collecting committee, a very successful and helpful drive will ensue.

To Set Up Display

A display of the work done in the shop will be set up in the library proper. The display will be accompanied with names of workers will be shown. This goes to show what the Milne students can do, once they are determined.

All these projects on the calendar and the ones already completed, show that the Red Cross is accomplishing a determined, unified, and cooperative spirit. But still an even more determined effort must be made by the Red Cross to work to a more productive service and to accelerate the end of the war.

Arnold Baskin,
President of the Milne Red Cross.

News from the Music World

By Art De Moss

Due to the record short sellers’ column for the present will be concerned mainly with news of the orchestra world. There are, however, several home record interests.

At present the best selling discs include Harry James’ “I Had the Craziest Dream,” Tommy Dorsey’s “Song before,” and “Midnight Becomes You.”

There are such things and it is important to remember that Benny Goodman’s “Why Don’t You Do Right.”

“I Started All Over Again” seems destined to become one of Dorsey’s all-time best selling records.

Two hits this week are “Gone with the Wind” and “Don’t Get Caught.”

Other Schools also participating on this project are Albany High Schools, Girls Academy, High School, Schuyler, Hackett High, Albany Academy, and St. Agnes. Each school will have a different topic of Red Cross work.

Milne Students Aid War Council

The first students who have been called upon, for volunteer work, from the files of the Albany Student War Council, were Milnes. During the last few weeks the need for student help has become very great, and will continue to remain that way for an indefinite period.

The Block Plan, which is in the process of being used in the city of Albany, as in most other communities throughout the country, is the immediate cause for the need of high school volunteers. The Block Plan is, in short, a method whereby every home in the community will be in direct contact with its local war council. The students’ tasks will be to deliver pamphlets, booklets, or any printed material, and to distribute to any one of the six precincts in the city.

The Albany Student War Council Volunteer Card File, which is now just being completed, will enable students in all parts of the city to do their job for the war effort.

Milne students who have already answered the call for student help are: Ted Demos, 43, Harvey James, 43, Tad Jones, 45, Helen Huntington, 45, Lois Friedman, 45, Greta Gade, 45, Robert Bellinger, 45, Barbara MacMahon, 45, Audrey Blume, 45, Barbara Bogardus, 45.

Throughout the city’s high schools, the ratio of it is for every four volunteer cards filled out, three of them will become of great value, because those students have pledged to work during school and on Saturday.

School to See Movie; Juniors Finance Film

The junior class will present the movie “Our Town” to the senior class on Wednesday, February 17, at 2:30 in the Page Hall Auditorium.

The picture is a full length feature and will last until after four o’clock. Those students who are able to remain after school may then see the entire picture.

The movie, starring Martha Scott, William Holden, and Frank Craven, is a recent picture and the play, prior to the picture was very successful on Broadway.
