ROOM 233 LEADS IN HOME ROOM CHARTS

The homeroom charts were not so good as they should have been this last semester. Almost all the homerooms have dropped in their averages, which shows they have let down in their work. There were many more flunks this month. Last month, there were 49, while this month there were 119. Also, this month more people were sent out of classes. Thirty people were sent out of class this month as compared to nineteen last month.

Miss Wheeling's homeroom, 233, scored above all other homerooms, having an average of nineteen. The other averages were:

HONOR ROLL ANNOUNCED

The scholastic average in the honor roll has decreased a great deal this month, compared to other months. This month, there are eight people on the honor roll as compared to thirteen last month. The marks have decreased for everybody and more people have failed subjects than usual. Vivian Snyder received the highest average again this month, with 95. The honor roll consists of:

7th grade - Wilson Hume
8th grade - Edmond Haskins
             Helen Sweetser
             William Hotelling
9th grade - Ruth Mann
             Robert Mapes
             Vivian Snyder
             John Winnie

DISPLAYS FOR THE EXHIBIT ATTRACT INTEREST

The Junior High School mathematics classes will have their exhibit in room 124, according to Miss Bills, supervisor. The ninth grade classes will have their exhibit in Geometry and Algebra, and the eighth grade classes are going to display their work in stocks and bonds. The seventh grade are going to present a booklet on the budget and other mathematical papers done during the year.

Miss Moore's classes have also been doing many interesting things for the exhibit. The seventh and ninth grades will display their work on posters, booklets and many papers done especially for the exhibit. The eighth grades are going to have most of their work on the newspaper with some stories and well written papers in the exhibit. The English work for the Junior High School will be shown in room 105.

Miss Anderson revealed today that the commerce display will be shown in rooms 200 and 236. It will be on the budget in the typewriting class; and in the bookkeeping class, there will be the contract method. There will also be a number of letters and articles written in Gregg shorthand. In Business English and business training, there will be a display of project work.
MILNE HIGH EXHIBIT

Tonight, the Milne High will give an exhibit. This will include projects of all subjects taken in Milne. They are set up in the classrooms and the whole school from the cellar to the top floor is open to visitors. All parents are urged to come so that they may see what their children are doing. Every parent should have an interest in his or her child's school work and this is an excellent chance to see it.

There will be many things of interest to parents and also friends. Model buildings, shop and art work, and Social Science projects will be exhibited. There will also be a speaker who will talk on an interesting subject, "The Relations of the parent and the School". It will be an interesting program, and we hope that everyone will come.

It would be much quieter if people would talk, if they have to talk, to people only at their own desks and in library tons. People often exciting across the room or to the next table and this distracts some people from their work.

The only way this noise can be overcome is by everybody cooperating, and in this way, we can get more work done in the library and we would have less to do at home.

QUESTION BOX

Question: Should we have banking in Milne Junior High School?

Betty Schultz: Yes, because it is a good place to keep your money for future use, in case we wish to go to college.

James Griffin: Yes, because it helps you to save your money.

Betty Fuiseman: Yes, because it teaches us how to save our money.

Ernestus Davis: No, because we need our money for things at home in such a time as this.

Ann Swine: Yes, because we often spend money foolishly that we would perhaps save if we had banking.

Isabel Buchaca: Yes, as it would be a good way to save money if we had any extra.

WALKING

Some people amble down the hill; Others run and almost fall. Maybe some go limping past. But most of them go very fast. Some who pass have a heavy load, and look as if they should be towed. I think the better way to go, is not too fast and not too slow.

Homeroom 121 is presenting an interesting entertainment today. There will be singing and dance, Millil. m Hot line, president of the class, said. This program was postponed from last Friday.

Last week, homeroom 129 had a candy sale. They made $1.70. The newspaper in that class will be published.

Homeroom 230 is planning to give a play as their assembly program, April 27. B. Nebel Hanlon is chairman of the program.

Homeroom 224 has chosen an entertainment committee which will plan the programs for the coming month. The members of the committee are June Fanning, Ellen Haskins and Mildred Loos as chairman.

Homeroom 124 had a candy sale last Tuesday for the purpose of raising money to frame the pictures bought by them earlier in the season. They want them framed for the exhibit.

233, Miss Whelling's homeroom, is going to give a Minstrel Show. The date has not yet been decided upon.

Barnes: Mum, can I go out and play?
Mom: What? With those holes in your soles?
Barnes: No, with the kids across the street.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED

A new sport has been organized for ninth grade boys. It is the Tennis club. Mr. Grover Hotting, Albany County Tennis Champions and Social Science teacher in High School is the sponsor. The club is composed mostly of former basketball club members.

At the club meeting, last Wednesday, officers were elected. They are:

President-Raymond Hotting
Vice-President-Doris Schultes
Treasurer-Selden Anderson

The following are members:

The members will practice under the guidance of Mr. Hotting on Mondays and Tuesdays afternoons, weather permitting.

CLUB NEWS

The Cosmetics club is planning to have a fashion show.

The Basketball club is not holding meetings temporarily, as the old gym is the only gym they can use in the club period, and it is now being painted. Some of the members have joined the Tennis club.

The boys in the Radio club have almost completed their crystal sets which they have been working on for the past few weeks.

The Dancing club had a party and invited the Rumble club. They played games, danced and had refreshments. This club has planned to buy a ten-cent record every other week.

INTERESTING CLASS PROJECTS

The Social Science department has purchased two new books, according to Miss Halter, supervisor of Social Science. They are in room 151 and 352. A librarian for each room will be elected and anyone who wishes to take a book may do so.

In the mathematics department, one of the eighth grade classes is studying income taxes. A seventh grade class has started geometry.

Mr. Moses, supervisor in General Science, announced that every seventh grade should hand in his last semester notebook.
