C& W Delegates Leave for N.Y.C. Next Thursday

Ten young journalists will leave for the big city Thursday morning, March 11, to attend the Nineteenth Annual Convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The convention will take place on the campus of Columbia University and will end Saturday, March 13, with the concluding luncheon in the ballroom of the Hotel Commodore, in downtown New York.

The group includes: Marie Edwards, Natalie Mann, Shirley Atkin, Melba Levine, Doris Specter, Jane Curtis, and John Morrison, seniors, and Tom McCracken and Jane Curtis, and John Morrison, seniors, and Tom McCracken and Jane Curtis, and John Morrison, seniors.

B&I Decides On Holiday Theme

"Holidays" will be the theme of the Brick and Ivy yearbook this June, it was announced by Elizabeth Mapes, art editor. Another pre-dominant feature will be informal pictures, which are taking the place of the former posed ones.

The Argus Press is printing the yearbook, and Gustave Lorey is the photographer. The yearbook has signed contracts with both firms.

A number of senior committees have been formed to write the various feature articles that are to be included in the prophecy include: Marie Edwards, Natalie Mann, Melba Levine, Margaret Kirk, Barbara Hewes, and Morgan C. Hune.

The annual convention of the Scholastic Press Association will take place on the campus of Columbia University, Thursday evening the delegates will take in a Broadway play, probably "Dough Girls."

"In addition to attending group discussions and convention meetings on Friday, the students are arranging to see a radio broadcast, or a symphony concert."

Student War Council Plans Joint Concert for May

The Albany Student War Council is now making plans for a joint war benefit concert which will take place on Friday, May 7, at 8:30 p.m. at the Academy for Girls.

Each of the following schools will be represented at the concert by their respective choirs or glee clubs: Academy High School, Philip Schuyler, Vincentian, St. Agnes, Albany Academy for Girls, Albany Boys Academy, and Milne. The C.B.A. orchestra will also perform. Tickets will soon be on sale, 25 cents for students, 55 cents for adults.

Student Council to Conduct Card Party in Library

The Milne School Red Cross organization will sponsor a benefit basketball game on Friday afternoon, March 19 in the Page Hall gym.

The game will be between the senior boys of Milne and the senior boys of State College. The contest is scheduled to start at 3:30. The admission price of $1.00 will all go to the support of the Red Cross organization. Dr. Frederick has stated, "I want every boy, girl, and faculty member, and everyone connected with Milne to give something to the Red Cross, without any exceptions. Milne should be 100%.

The tickets for the game will be distributed to the students through the Red Cross home room representatives.

Milne to Play State For Red Cross Fund

In an all-out effort to give the greatest possible aid to the largest Red Cross drive in history, the Milne School Red Cross organization will sponsor a benefit basketball game on Friday afternoon, March 19 in the Page Hall gym.

The game will be between the senior boys of Milne and the senior boys of State College. The contest is scheduled to start at 3:30. Ruth Taylor, June Bailey, and Doris Specter are in charge of the Who's Who.

Miriam Steinhardt, co-editor of the Brick and Ivy, remarked, "We hope that the committees will hand in their reports soon, as the deadline is March 25th."

There will not be a literary section to the book this year. Most of the space will be taken up with pictures. Those organizations that will be represented in the publication are the French Club, the Dramatics Club, Quin, Sigma, Theta Nu, Adelphi, Phi Sigma, Hi-Y, Bricks and Ivy, Senior Student Council, Junior Student Council, faculty, four pages of boys' sports, and two pages for each class. The boys' sport pictures, there will be a shot of the frosh team, and the junior varsity as well as the varsity basketball teams.

Men in Armed Services

There will be a honor roll of the men in the armed forces from this feature who have left the present classes of Milne.

The seniors will be asked to list the activities and organizations that they have been in since their freshman year of school. This is to be done in outline form.

All senior photographs are to be taken, and the proof that is chosen should be brought to the studio in the very near future. Also, other informal snapshots should be brought to Margaret Kirk this month for a placement in the Brick and Ivy.

Boys' Societies Start Initiation Ceremonies

The boys' literary societies sent bids out to sophomore and junior students who have passed their mid-years and have been selected by the society members for entrance into the organization.

Theta Nu and Phi Sigma will conduct their final initiations on Saturday, March 20, at 10 a.m., while Adelphi will conduct theirs on March 27.

Phi Sigma has pledged Bert Friedman, '45, and Ted Carlson, '45.

The probation period for these boys lasts from the 17th of February until the time of the formal initiations.

Committees Announced; Benefit for Paintings

This afternoon the eighth annual card party will be presented by the Milne student council for the benefit of the Milne Mothers’ Fund. The party, to be held from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m., in the library, is under the direction of Ruth Taylor and Jane Bailey, seniors, and Mrs. Anna K. Baum, faculty member. The benefit is held yearly to raise money for murals in the Milne library, painted by David Litgob.

Inter society Council Reports

To the editors of the Crimson and White:

In reference to an editorial in issue number nine of the Crimson and White, which was passed out on February fifth, we, of the boys' Inter society Council and of the boys' societies, feel that we have been done a grave injustice. The editorial said, and I quote, "We see regularly in the news that the Inter society Council is scheduled to meet. When have they met and what have they done?" I presume that the editor looked high and low for facts to support this statement before it was printed; however, he forgot to look in Dr. Morrison's office where the record of the meetings are kept. The Inter society Council meets once a month to discuss business and legislative rules and laws for the three boys' societies. Since the author of the editorial was a girl, she would know nothing whatever concerning the business of the council.

Under the circumstances, we feel that we deserve a printed apology to be published in the next issue of the Crimson and White in a conspicuous place so that all may read and correct their impressions of the boys' Inter society Council.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM SOPER, President.

Editor's note—One of the duties of the Crimson and White is to report the news and happenings of the school. We have never received any news of the Inter society Council, and like the rest of the school, presumed that nothing was happening. We apologize for our misunderstanding and hope that from now on, we may hear of the things that you on the Council accomplish.

The Quin-Sigma managed to get by with only one postponement. Before the dances, the girls had their programs, but for a change, this year, the chances weren't all exchanged before hand. We've been promising a complete list of the couples so here goes—

Senior Spotlight

Ted DeMoss

Theodore George DeMoss was born in Albany, but at the age of three, he spent a summer abroad in England and France. When he returned, he entered School 19 and entered Milne in the seventh grade.

Ted started his Milne career with a bang by becoming a member of the Dawn Patrol. He has been a member ever since.

In the eighth grade, his fellow students christened him "Stogie" which is the name we all know him by today.

Stogie was a homeroom representative of the Milne Red Cross Organization in the following year.

Red Cross Representative

During his sophomore year he again represented his homeroom in the Red Cross. This year he was elected into Adelphi Literary Society and Hi-Y.

The eleventh grade was an active one for Ted. He was elected busness manager of Adelphi, he became a member of the Junior Honor Society, and took part in three varsity games. He also was one of the Bate's men in the election of 1942 and worked on the Q.T.S.A. committee.

Leader of Hi-Y

This year Stogie is president of Hi-Y, secretary of Adelphi, member of the Intersociety Council and a star of the Milne Varsity. He is working on the senior play and is active on all the senior class committees.

In school he likes basketball and mathematics, while outside of school he likes to eat, sleep, attend good, serious, good movies, and hike-hike. Last summer he totaled 3,500 miles at the latter sport.

Stogie's dislikes are: fish, liver, noise, tall girls, and destructiveness.

R.P.I. and a career as an engineer was Stogie's goal but now he wants to attend the U.S. Coast Guard Academy.

Ted prefers his lady friends as follows: 5 ft. 5 in. in height, blonde, blue eyes, neat, with a mind of their own, carefully dressed, frank and with a good sense of humor.
Falcons Beat Milne 42-40 In Overtime Cage Thriller

Hal Game, Ted DeMoss Lead Milne Offensive; Junior Varsity Loses

On Saturday, February 28, Milne played against a splendid Schuyler High School. The final victory was not decided until a three-minute overtime period was played. Schuyler came out on top, 42-40.

In the preliminary games the eighth graders defeated the seventh year class, 17-9. The Jay-Vees lost to a superior Schuyler team by scoring ten points. Kasanoff of Schuyler scored a total of eleven points.

Open With Speed

The varsity game opened at nineteen-fifteen. The Red Raiders opened with speed. Hal Game began the attack by breaking through the Falls' defense to score a basket. "Stipple" DeMoss followed Hal's example by scoring three points in the first quarter. The period ended with the score at: Milne 9, Schuyler 4.

In the second quarter Schuyler made a valiant attempt to out-shoot the Falcons. The Falcons led Schuyler 20-17 at the half.

Third Period Attack

The Milne guards came out for the third period with all the pep they started with. Once again the Game-DeMoss combination scored 10 points. The entire Schuyler team had a difficult job scoring nine points.

During the fourth period the Raiders allowed only five points, scored in three periods. The Schuyler team scored two baskets in quick succession. The hopes of the frenzied onlookers dropped when Morty Swartz, still fighting, made a final basket for Milne. The game, one of the most thrilling ever seen on Milne courts, ended 42-40, a fighting loss for Milne.

"Flip" Dowling, Albany High School basketball coach, was the referee of the varsity game. Nate Sutin, A.H.S. basketball mentor, scouted the teams.

Milne to Battle Rivals B.S.C.H.

Tonight the Milne Five plays a return engagement with the Bethlehem Central High School. The game will begin at 7:00 with the J.V. starting the proceedings. The Page Hall court will be the scene of the attraction.

This game should prove to be fast and furious, with both teams fighting hard to come out on top. The Bethlehem Boys have improved somewhat over the season. Hal Game and Haldeif play five fine. Probable starters for Milne will be Game and Edick, forwards; DeMoss, center; Culp and Swartz, guards. For B.S.C.H. De­wire and Young, Haldeif, centers; Simon and Thomaslin, guards.

The series between Milne and Bethlehem Central has been an exciting one. Milne has won four of the last five engagements. Eight games played so far have been won or lost by one point. Let's have a real turnout at this game, as it promises to be a thriller.

The Red Raiders defeated the basketeers earlier this season 33-32. This contest took place in a fourth quarter rally, but it fell far short of winning the tilt.

If Milne team plays the brand of ball that they displayed against Schuyler, they have a good chance of coming out on top, with the added advantage of playing on the home court.

The probable lineup for Milne is:

Hawk Holmes ................................ 43
Hal Game ...................................... 113
Morty Swartz .................................. 90
Chuck Hopkins ................................ 27
Harry Culp .................................... 25
Dutch Ball ...................................... 22

"Basketball Greatest Training For Boys" Says Referee Kennedy

Basketball is the greatest training a boy can possibly get," said Pat Kennedy, famous basketball referee in a recent interview with members of the Crimson and White. Kennedy referees college basketball games in Madison Square Garden, where he has officiated for the past three years.

He was in Albany to referee the State College-St. Michael's game. He is very well known to all basketball fans throughout the nation. His method of refereeing is perhaps the most unusual and boisterous of all. After a recent decision, he called out the number of the offender and the cause for the foul in a terrifying loud manner. In the meantime he turns as red as a beet. The crowd quiets down just to hear him. His whistle is a good replica of a steamboat whistle.

Pat is a native of Hoboken, New Jersey, where he attended Hoboken High School. Later he attended the Panzer College of Physical Education in New Jersey. He played basketball while attending these schools. Today his duties carry him as far as Wisconsin and Michigan.

He said that to his knowledge thought were the best college teams of the current season that he had seen were the Wyoming, Notre Dame, U.C., L.A., and N.Y.U.," he said. "Some of the best athletes are now in the service, but N.Y.U. has already produced many great teams. Among them are Camp Grant, the Lakes training station, and the Norfolk training base. He closed by saying, "Keep high school basketball going.

Lt. Bradley Cornell, United States Navy, spoke to Milne students, particularly the seniors of the senior school, during the assembly held last Tuesday at nine o'clock. The purpose of this visit to Milne was to inform prospective candidates for the Navy of the new V-5 and V-12 training programs which the Navy is inaugurating.

V-5 for Air Corps

The V-5 course is for applicants for the Naval Air Corps, while the V-12 program is for officers in the regular Navy. Both courses set high scholarship and ability as prime requirements. Students seventeen years of age, only, may enroll in the V-5 program, while V-12 is open to students seventeen to nineteen years of age. Applicants enlisting in either may finish their high school program in Milne, and will then be transferred to some college or university if they maintain in the upper half of their class. While in college, cadets will receive the regular basic pay of fifty dollars a month, in addition to allowances for room, board, tuition, and other necessities. The student will be allowed to finish his college education, barring a change of plans and provided he keeps up his marks. Should he fail to do this, he will be put on active duty as an enlisted seaman.

Scholarship Important

Lt. Cornell stressed the importance of doing good work in school. "We have no place in officer candidate schools for men who don't do good work in high school. If danger missions in the Pacific cannot be 90%, correct in their calculations. If they expect to get back to their base or carrier alive, their calculations must be absolutely right."

According to Mr. Cornell, the Navy will not complete its present training program for five years. Therefore, many of Milne's younger boys who now think themselves immune to military or naval service may find themselves in uniform in a few years.

Milne, First Area School To Fly Minute-Man Flag

Milne will be the first school in the Albany area to fly the minute man flag awarded by the Schools at War program. This flag, corresponding to the Army-Navy certificates in production, together with a War Department certificate is awarded to those schools in which over 90% of the students and teachers have pledged to buy stamps or bonds each month. If this minimum is not maintained the flag will be taken down.

Milne is not only the first but so far the only high school in Milne to apply for the certificate and flag. It is up to the students and teachers to keep it flying.
