TWO STUDENTS MAKE EQUIPMENT FOR DR. FREDERICK'S OFFICE

Ronald Kneiller and Jack Schilling are now working on some pieces of equipment for the office of Dr. Robert W. Frederick, principal of the Milne Junior High School.

Dr. Frederick asked them to make some equipment for his office. They decided that the most suitable object to make would be a paper rack. They are working on it now down in the school shop. Mr. Harlan Raymond, who is in charge of the shop, is helping them.

Ronald and Jack hope to have this paper rack finished by Friday.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLASSES ARE BUSY WITH SPECIAL PROJECT WORK

Students make charts and models

The students in the seventh grade social science classes have been keeping temperature charts of the weather. They choose a certain hour everyday and get the temperature in Albany for that hour.

They have also been making soap models of rollers, inclined planes, and levers. A few of the students have made posters of wind-mills and inventions of the last 200 years.

The ninth grade students have subscribed to a number of magazines which are new to most of the class. The magazines are: Time, Outlook, World's Work, National Geographic, The Nation, and The Literary Digest.

CIRCULATION MANAGER EXPLAINS METHOD USED FOR CRIMSON & WHITE

The circulation of the Crimson and White Junior News is in charge of Willis Green, circulation manager of the Crimson and White Junior News. He is assisted by William Lowenberg, Sports Editor.

The papers are distributed every Friday to the various home-rooms during the home-room period from 11:30 o'clock until 12:00 o'clock.

In order to receive a paper, each student must have paid his student tax. If any student desires a copy of the paper, and he hasn not paid his tax, he may purchase a copy for five cents.

STUDENTS ARE IN CHARGE OF TRAFFIC

Two traffic signs have been placed in the lower hall to help straighten out the traffic when pupils are passing between classes. These signs say "Keep to the right".

David Ronon and Douglas McHarg are the students who are in charge of these signs.

Another traffic rule which has been made is the rule regarding the passing up and down the stairs.

ANNUAL SCHOOL RECEPTION WILL BE TONIGHT BY SENIORS FOR GRADES

The annual Milne High school reception will be tonight in the gymnasium of Page hall. This reception is for the lower grades. The entertainments which will make up the program will be given by the senior group.

Professor John H. Sayles, principal of the Milne High school, will give a speech of welcome to the school.

There will be dancing and refreshments. The reception is under the supervision of the members of the student council.

The entering students who are in the seventh grades are especially invited to attend.

"LOST AND FOUND" BOX

A small white box has been placed on the information desk in the lower corridor. Any person who has lost anything, or who has found anything, is requested to put a slip in this box with the name of the article which has been lost or found, and a brief description.

Virginia Soper is in charge of this box. She will collect the slips and write out notices and post them in a special part of the bulletin board. This will make a uniform looking lost and found bulletin board notice.

NEW LIBRARY SYSTEM

Last week a new library system was introduced. Each pupil is assigned to a certain table in alphabetical order. At every table there is a monitor who keeps the records of attendance. A pupil must receive permission from this monitor in order to leave his place at the table.

We think this is a good arrangement because it avoids confusion. It also eliminates much visiting because pupils are usually well acquainted with their neighbors when they are arranged in this order. This leads to better concentration and more work. It leaves the library free for those who have no study period during the day and are obliged to do their work after school.

The monitor system keeps a check on the pupils so no one can be absent without an excuse. Therefore this method should prove to be a real improvement.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS

The traffic signals which have been put up in the lower corridors are very good and will help in avoiding jams while the classes are passing. However, it would be much better if it were not necessary that people stand by these signs and tell students who do not obey them to go around the other way.

HALLOWE'EN PARTIES HELD LAST FRIDAY IN MANY HOME ROOMS

Other home rooms held programs and held candy sales. Home Room 135 to have table constructed.

Home Room 131 had a party last Friday during home room period. It went over very well. They arranged the tables into one long one while eating and were going to give a play later but lacked the time. It was decided to give the play at the next period. At the party students brought their lunch. Some brought candy, cake or other sweets. One cake had Miss Halter's name on it and was so pretty she showed it to Dr. Frederick. He said he would add a few credits to the home room if he could have a piece.

Home Room 135 had a candy sale. Barbara Birchonough and Della Call were elected chairmen. The boys got from Miss Thompson the use of one of the tables near the annex. This table was placed under the stairs and the boys decorated it. The girls brought candy such as: fudge, ice cream candy and taffy. This sale was very successful. The results were five dollars and thirteen cents. This money, it was decided before the sale, should go to buy lumber for a table which the boys in Home Room 135 will make for the room.

A week ago Thursday the students of Home Room 125 gave a program pertaining to Citizenship. They have adopted a creed of ten ways in which it may be able to be better citizens of the home room and the school. Edison was taken as a model. They talked about his life.

Last Friday and a halloween party in the Cafeteria. Betty Faller was chairman. They have a weekly program which they have found they like very much. Monday they prepare the plans for the week. Tuesday they study. On Wednesday they prepare a program which is given on Thursday. Friday they hold a class meeting.

Home Room 187 had a Hallowe'en party last Friday. The bulletin board has many interesting things on it this week. Some members of this class will give a play during home room period next Friday.

Home Room 124 had a Hallowe'en party last Friday with the other home rooms in the ninth grade. They have business meetings during their home room period. They discuss current events and study.

Last Friday Home Room 224 had a Hallowe'en party. In the home room period plays and parties are frequently given. Basket ball teams for both boys and girls have been organized. These teams challenge those of other home rooms. They also have a soccer team.

CLUBS HOLD FIRST MEETINGS, ELECT OFFICERS, MAKE PLANS

Volume II, Number 5

The Dancing Club is planning in the future a dance recital. A victoria is going to be given to the club. Last meeting they wanted to find the talented dancers of the club. Miss Halter is their sponsor. Everyone knows that whatever she plans will come out on top. Their meeting place is room 131.

The club has been successful, and has gathered many talented dancers who are going to be Milne's graceful stars. Keep in mind that the Dancing club is going to surprise the school soon dry in the near future with great dancers.

The eighth grade Shop club has been discontinued because Mr. Raymond wants the ninth grade to have a chance at shop so he lets them have a shop club. They have not yet decided what to do. When the eighth grade gets out of shop they will still have an hour every week so Mr. Raymond is giving everyone a chance.

Charles Kelley was elected president of the Athletic club at its first meeting. This club plans to have basketball, baseball and track as sports.

There are eleven people in the club. The future meetings will be held in room 138.

The Dramatic club has no president but a stage manager. Virginia Frederick has this office. Virginia Hall is the secretary and Rock Orton is treasurer. They hope to give a play in assembly soon. Their sponsor is Miss Longhair.

There is no Art club and Miss Halter does not think that there will be one. There are only two people who want to have an Art club.

Room 130 celebrated Hallowe'en with a party last Friday, during lunch and home room period. There were decorations and refreshments.

Home Room 129 had a Hallowe'en party last Friday. They have not had any plays as yet. Usually the class studies during the home room period.

Tuesday meetings of the board of the Junior News will be discontinued for the present.
