NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

- To take advantage of our library
- To respect our teachers
- To cheer for Milne
- To resolve to pass the "Mid-Years"
- To pay attention in class
- To ask a girl to dance
We all know that we have only three weeks till the Mid-year Examinations come along. In these next three weeks of school we can accomplish a great deal. I know what some people will say, but don’t say—“I’ve had a good average all semester. I don’t need to work very hard. I’ll just sit back and take it easy.” Why don’t you start today now to make your mid-year examinations something about which you may be proud?

Think this over.

NEWS REPORTS — SOCIAL STUDIES 9-3 Class
Station S-P-I-N-I-N-G announces: The rebels are gaining. They sent 4000 more soldiers to help them. War may end in three or four months.
Station E-N-G-L-I-N-D announces: King George celebrated his forty-second birthday recently. He received a smoking set and a telegram from Hitler.
Little Princess Elizabeth fell from her shetland pony. She was not hurt.
Station C-H-I-K-A announces: Chang kal Shek has given up the post of China’s premier to spend all his time in the war against Japan.
Station R-O-M-J-I-A announces: Another dictator is appearing in Europe to join Hitler and Mussolini. It is King Carol in Romania.
Station W-I-S-H-I-G-T-O-N announces: Mr. Roosevelt’s former opponent, Alf Landon, pledges his support to the President in matters of international policy.
Monopolies will be the target of the new Congress.
The national budget won’t be balanced this year, but there will be a decrease in the deficit.

The greatest peace-time expenditure in American history for our navy is expected this year.
Station R-O-M-J-I-A announces: The twentieth anniversary of the Soviet Secret Political Police was marked by the secret execution of eight prominent old Bolshevists.
Station L-E-V-I-A-H-D announces: President Devolver’s new constitution has gone into effect, thus splitting the last ties binding Ireland to Great Britain.

A BRIGHTER CRIMSON AND WHITE
This semester the “Crimson and White” plans to give to its readers one of the best papers yet published. If you have any complaints, there will be a “Complaints Department” for your use. Many other new features such as a page of cartoons, a full page of humor and other articles of interest will be included for your enjoyment. Also, instead of just three pages we hope to print at least four or five pages. This is a mere preview of the improvements we hope to make in the new “Crimson and White.”

ASSEMBLIES
Assembly program belongs to the school. They can be as good as the students will make them. Do your bit by getting your club or homeroom to sign up for an assembly or part of an assembly period.

Miss Waterbury announced today that: unless people sign up for assemblies, there will be no more programs. She added that she was very sorry to make this announcement. Also unless a program is planned to last the full time, people will return to their homerooms.

The “Crimson and White” knows there is much talent in Milne. It will be told if we have to sit in our homerooms at 9:30 on Mondays. Let’s show some school spirit in the auditorium as well as on the basketball court and give some nice
During vacation, many of the supervisors of the Junior High School went to their homes. Among these were Miss Wells who went to Esperance, New York and Miss Waterbury who spent her vacation at her home in Dolgville.

Miss Halter went to her home in St. Louis, Mo., and later to New York.

Mrs. Barsam went to New York where she attended many theatre performances.

Social Studies — Rooms 323 and 329 have recently been equipped with book shelves. One of the eighth grade classes listened to the broadcast of the opening of Congress during their class on Monday.

Art — The seventh graders are working on pictures for two screens, which will be used in the Little Theater. These will be based upon myths read in English class.

BBE Bug

"To be or not to be, that is the question", quoted Shakespeare. "To make a resolution or not, that is the question", said Bessie this New Year's day. Of course little Bessie was weak-minded and made a long, long list that she instantly tore up. Why make a list of resolutions she would never keep? So she kept only the resolution to read more and better books.

If you need any suggestions, suppose you try reading some of the following: Magic Gold by Lansing, Kim by Kipling, Hard Money by Kipling, Linked Arrow by Scott, The Conquered by Whitman, and Meral Shore by Minnerode. Come on and let's see who can read the most books this year.

RESOLUTIONS

It is said that resolutions are made to be broken. I've been scouting around and found a few odd ones. See if you catch any of your friends mentioned here bracing these:

Edna Corwin has resolved to try to get better marks in math.

Leah Einstein has resolved to get her work in on time for the newspaper club.

John Jensen will work harder in English class.

Joseph Hunting will work harder in English class.

"Sonny" Conger has resolved to work harder and bring home better report cards.

Don Welsh has resolved not to make any resolutions.

Mickey Baldwin has resolved to be nice to all her sisters' friends.

Walter Griggs is never going to get another ten cent store phonograph record.

The Fashion Flare

OF MILNE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

A great many people are planning trips, or have just returned home from one. If you are one of the lucky people who are just going, here are a few examples of what you might pick.

Of course you will want a skirt, and a "flock" of brightly colored sweaters. To change the appearance of the sweaters, you might take a few fancy collars and cuffs. Odd buttons always help, too.

You will want to wear scarfs on your head and neck to add color to your outfit. The scarfs on your head also keeps your hair in place when you are riding or skating.

Perhaps you will want a few dresses. One or two silk and two or three cotton dresses also should "roll" along with you. A short bolero jacket always changes the appearance of a dress as does a felt jacket.

I think you might need a snow suit or some heavy outfit for outdoor sports. You will want to put in many accessories, such as gay berets, skull caps, cunning shoes and any other object you need.

I think you will find these things sufficient for a trip lasting about a week. "Dressed to Thrill" by Faith Connor, Colliers for January 8, 1938 has some further ideas on the subject.

REMEMBER WHEN

Remember when this article appeared in the Crimson and White.

John Jensen will work harder in English class.

Joseph Hunting will work harder in English class.

"Sonny" Conger has resolved to work harder and bring home better report cards.

Don Welsh has resolved not to make any resolutions.

Mickey Baldwin has resolved to be nice to all her sisters' friends.

Walter Griggs is never going to get another ten cent store phonograph record.

Work has begun on the new addition of a building to Milne. The building will be constructed on Washington Ave. The new addition will have a shop, a home economics room, an art room, and a stage for small class presentations. In the new shop there will be leather work, jewelry work, art metal work, and pottery. The building is expected to be complete in one year. Everything in the building will be new, and the children should make an effort to keep it new as long as possible. While the building is under construction it is requested by Professor Scales that we stay away from the work.
