Seniors Plan Graduation

Commencement activities for the class of 1959 will begin with a catered senior ball in Page hall June 12. Commencement exercises will take place June 19 in Page hall.

The program for graduation will include both the valedictorian and salutatorian award presentations to Bob Bildensee and Larry Giventer respectively. Musical selections by the Minnettes and Mihnen end the presentation of diplomas by Dr. Theodore Fossick are also on the program. The address this year will be given by Reverend Laman Bruner. Following commencement the junior class has planned a reception.

For the graduation ceremonies Dorothy Hoyle and Doc Henger will be the grand marshals. The ushers are Kathleen Henry and Tom Rider.

Class Meetings Held

After many debates, it was finally decided to completely abandon the idea of a senior banquet for this year, since it seemed too wasteful of the class money. The senior class decided to spend all its money on the senior ball. A professional band will be hired and there will be a buffet dinner before the affair.

Committees were appointed to obtain estimates for the class, and later, to plan the ball. Chairmen of these committees are: Dick Green and Alphen Mattess, general chairman; Karen Dougherty, refreshments; Winston Hamilton, band; Linda Scher, decorations.

Class Gift Given

Class gifts came up for discussion late in the series of meetings concerning the ball. The class voted to give a year's subscription to pay for the hard covers. It was also decided to not give a gift to the senior room, since it has been used only sparingly by this year's seniors. The money not given to the senior room will be added to the gift to the school.

The Hare That Did Not Care

Once upon a time there was a pompous little rabbit named Butch. Butch was the most handsome and charming of all the rabbits in his town (population 33,601). But Butch had one trait, and that was he was conceited. He was so conceited that he sent his parents a congratulatory card on his own birthday. His parents would tell him over and over again to try to be modest, but Butch would never listen. All day long, Butch would run through the forest and look at his reflection in the pond.

One day, when Butch sat admiring himself, his fairy godmother appeared. She said, “Butch, if you don’t stop this conceitedness, I will turn you into a goon.” As usual, Butch didn’t pay any attention and kept looking at himself.

Early the next morning, Butch went down to the pond and sat by the edge, admiring himself. Suddenly his fairy godmother appeared. She said, “I warned you and your parents have warned you. Butch, I’m turning you into a goon.”

Butch only laughed and turned his head toward the pond. Abruptly he jumped back, petrified! He was a goon.

TWO MANY PROMISES

Once there was a boy who had the very best of intentions. He was always planning and scheduling and promised himself he would do all sorts of things.

He had promised himself that he would get up early in the morning but when his alarm clock rang, his bed was too cozy to crawl out of. He was planning to get dressed fast but he couldn’t find his left shoe for he had never placed it neatly where it belonged when he went to bed the night before.

After a delicious breakfast, he had planned to get to school early, but of course he could not find his books because he had not stored them away properly. Needless to say, none of his classwork was ever finished for his teacher thought he must have spent hours planning his work and scheduling his time.

Not only school work had he promised to do, but little jobs around as well. As a matter of fact, he promised to fix a tray for his Mom, but he had to spend time preparing, and getting organized and planning.

One nice balmy spring day after school he had scheduled himself to go fishing, but his line was all knotted and tangled up from the last time when he had just come in and thrown his rod and reel carelessly in the corner.

At the close of each day he was all tuckered out from making fine promises to himself which he never got around to keeping.

HOPELESSNESS

The wind howled unmercifully through the trees, threshing them back and forth. But for an occasional street lamp the road was pitch black. A coldness hung in the air, not the crisp invigorating coldness of autumn but an unnatural calmness.

Along the street walked a tall, slender boy, flicking his cigarette ashes on the wet leaves. He paused beneath a street lamp, the light revealing startlingly blue-violet eyes. Abruptly he stopped, tossed his cigarette away, and stood, grief and pain mirrored in his eyes. Hours had passed, long hours of walking, searching endlessly to get a ride. Suddenly a feeling of hopelessness overcame him. Soon his absence would be discovered at the orphanage, and then the search would begin. Heedless surged through his mind, hatred for everything and everybody, especially those responsible for his being in the orphanage. He longed to go home, to walk up that familiar path and into the house, to see his mother and brother.

The sound of an oncoming car interrupted his thoughts. Joyously he stepped from the curb as it appeared and as late he noticed the insignia “State Official Car.” “Get in, son,” a voice said, “we’ve been looking for you.”

THE HARE THAT DID NOT CARE

Sue Scher and Sue Garman gave a party for Paul Bennett, Carol Huff, “Little Doc Henger,” Lorraine Abajian, Art Brooks, Penny Robin, Jim Austin, Katy Wisrigh, Paul Galbi, Fay Simmons, Jack Fairfax, and Tom Britt.

At the Eighth Grade party “Paul Rever’s Horse Hop,” were Nancy Feldman, James Nayer, Sue Weiner, Paul Galbi, Elaine Alpern, Bob Abajian, Lonna Carroll, Jill Kapner, Dan Carey, Carole Huff, and Jim Hengerer. Also trotting (fox) were Miss Dunn, Dr. Gardner and Mr. Howes.

Winning Hamilton gave a party during Easter vacation. Although the hayride was rained out, Sheila Burke, Chuck Averill, Jan Ausching, Mike Unger, Lynn Mayer, Barbara Reynolds, Bruce Smith, Myron La Mora, and Jeff Segel enjoyed themselves.

Bonnie Reed gave Sue Crowley a surprise party. Those present to wish Sue a happy birthday were Mary Johnson, Riki Stew, Sue Irwin, Ken Lockwood, Janice Humphrey, Joe Allison, Margie Childers, and Mike Cileanan.

MORAL:

Here we are finally at the end of another school term. Looking back I see that it hasn’t been as bad as everyone makes it out to be.

That dreaded apathy which has been plaguing our school has finally been beaten. This year neither snow nor rain nor dark of night could keep Milne students from cheering our teams onward. This year’s attendance records were among the best of any school’s. Nice going.

Milne students haven’t lost their sense of humor either. On issuing a request for letters to the editor, this editor got in reply three threats on his life, four requests for handouts, several letters telling what certain people thought of the editor, a draft notice, and assorted poison pen letter’s. Ha, Ha . . . right down these jokers.

CADETS CLIPPED

Milne's baseball varsity finished the regular season with a 7-3 record, earning them a tie for second place in the league and a chance to compete in sectional tournament. Jim McClelland was both the leading hitter and pitcher, batting 438 while compiling a 5-1 won-lost record and a 1.15 E.R.A. Wes Jacobs led in R.B.I.'s with nine.

Tom Thorsen pitched his way to a 9-3 victory over the Knights of Lansingburgh, aiding his own cause with a triple and two singles. Wes Jacobs doubled and tripled and Jeff Segal smacked a two-bagger in Milne's 11-hit attack.

Doubles by Winston Hamilton, Jim McClelland and Bud Mehan and a triple by Doc Hengerer led Milne in a 5-4 win over Watervliet, as a double play put down a Watervliet rally in the final inning. Jim McClelland was the winning pitcher, allowing the waiting for a chance to beat his getting the worst of, and a fight which were gathered by Dick final paid off. Winning pitcher John Rutkey received ample help from his fielders in the form of four double plays, while the Milne- errors. The Raiders pounded out a dozen in the sixth inning. In addition to this, he was the winning pitcher, entering the game in the sixth inning in relief of Richie Lockwood, Mindy. Milne errors.

Cobees to score six unearned runs in downing the Crimson 6-2. Pitcher Mike Hagelsestom held the argument to four hits, losing his shout in the seventh inning due to Cobee errors.

Despite 11 errors, Milne outlasted Van Rensselaer by a score of 17-12 in a game played at Rensselaer. Doc Hengerer and Jim McClelland each singled three times, and Bud Mehan added one to aid the Milne cause. Richie Lockwood gained credit for the victory, his first of the year.

Tom Thorsen lined a two-run double to center field off the pitchings in a Bay game to help Milne defeat Shenendehowa by a 2-1 tally. Steve Rice also doubled, to help set up the tying run in the inning, while Bud Mehan blasted his third triple of the year. Jim McClelland was the winning pitcher.

J.V. Wins Four

J.V. J.V enjoyed a fairly successful season, with only a 5-1 loss to Academy marring an otherwise perfect record. Milne defeated Rensselaer 6-3 and 19-1, Cobees 10-4, and Academy 3-2. Mike Daggett struck out 9 in the Academy game and 12 in the Cobee contest, and Code Jenkins pitched a one-hitter against Rensselaer.

Athletes Win Awards

Trophies for outstanding performance in Milne's three major varsity sports were presented at the M.B.A.A. banquet held May 27. Announced at the MGAA Mother and Daughter Banquet were the new 50-90 Council officers. Congratulations to Sarah Gerhardt, president; Sue Crowley, vice-president; Joan Kaltenbush, treasurer; June Hessert, secretary; Carolyn Walther and Ann Wilson, business manager; Hildegard Lanzetta, office manager. Mary Taylor is the new eighth grade representative and Anna Miller was elected for the ninth grade. The senior high classes have not selected their representatives yet.

Not to forget the 'old Council Awards — awards — awards! Too numerous to mention were the MGAA emblems given to each girl who earned 3 credits and the MGAA awards for 1 credit. Sarah Gerhardt, Dorothy Hoyle, Barbara Lester and Nancy Jones were the only girls to receive these pins for 30 sports credits. Cheerleaders and, for the first time, the songleaders were honored with a plaque.

Milk's senior class has organized a softball team which has met with a fair amount of success in its first two contests.

In their opening tilt, the seniors were edged out 13-12 by the student teachers. Mr. Bob Thomson of the social studies department performed the pitching chores for the victors, while Dick Collins and Fred Bass tossed for the losers.

Win Sluggers

Milk's junior class team was the first victimized by the seniors, who bounced the juniors 37-26 in a game abundant in hits and errors. Highlights of the game were Junior Harvey's home run through an open window in Richardson Hall and a grand-slammer by Bob Bledsoe. Collins and Bass shared the victory, while Jed Allen was the losing moundsmen.

Howie is a newcomer to Milne this year, and commutes between school and her home in Muitzeskill (sounds like you've got a mouthful of marbles). She has lived in My-Hat-Is-In-The-River (it's longer, but easier to say) since her birth May 21, 1941. Until this year Mary attended the Maple Hill school in Castletown, but she was quite active in school affairs.

Our friend from "The Waterlogged Hat" (just saving space) organized and was president of the Poster Club in her old school and even designed the school emblem. Mary also loves music, drama and science, and has studied extensively in these fields. In Milne Mary belongs to Quin and WGAA, and is now co-chairman of the senior class. When she's not in school or in Muitzeskill (?) Mary is candy-striper at Memorial Hospital.

Junior Highlights

By CHERIE ane MARK

Seventh grade is on the last lap of its world tour project. Each student chooses a country and makes a scrapbook of the material he finds about that country.

For the last few weeks seventh grade boys have been taking home economics. So far they have made biscuits, drop cookies, coffee cake and spaghetti with sauce. Who says boys can't cook?

For the first time in Milne's history the junior high was dancing to the very latest records. May I disk jockey Paul Flanagan played the records for the dance "Spring into Swing." The following is an overview with Mr. Flanagan by the Junior Highlight reporters.

Question: Have you been to Milne before?

Answer: "No, this is my first time. I hope to be invited again."

Question: What do you think of our dance?

Answer: "It's wonderful. I like your decorations and lighting."

Question: When did you first become interested in stuntman?

Answer: "At the age of twelve."

Question: What was your first experience in this field?

Answer: "I began by announcing for a four-piece band."

Question: Where did you receive your education?

Answer: "At Catholic Central high school in Troy. I was studying for priesthood."

Question: Who were your teenage idols?

Answer: "Frank Sinatra and Cary Grant."

Question: What training is required for the profession?

Answer: "Learn to speak well and get to know as much as you can about sports records. By all means, finish high school and college. While in college take courses on radio."

We thank Mr. Flanagan for giving us the time to interview him in person.

Milne Again Offers Summer Session

The 1959 Milne School Orientation program is the third summer session for Milne students. Miss Anita Dunn and Dr. Ruth Wasley will be in charge of this program which will be held from July 6 through July 31 with class hours from 9:00 to 10:25 daily. Twenty prospective seventh graders will have a chance to get acquainted with the school and each other. They will be oriented to the Milne program and introduced to French. The main purpose of the orientation program is to help the boys and girls with their study habits, to have them learn the importance of good home management through practical household work, and to teach them dancing and tennis (for the future and college). Milne has found that this orientation program has proved successful in previous years and are sure that this year will be just as successful.
