Ten Milne Pupils Plan to Attend Press Convention

Ten Milne students will attend the Twenty-second Convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association on March 21, 22 and 23. The theme of the convention will be “School Press in the Post-War World.”

Schools from all over the United States send delegates to this convention. Milne delegates include: Jackie Pfeiffer, feature; Eve McDonough, feature; Peg Gallivan, feature; Carol Jacobs, Associate Editor; Jan Paxton, Editor-in-Chief; Marilyn Miller, Assistant Editor; Barbara Smith, Girls’ Sports Editor; Janet McNeill, newswriter; Dick Grace, Sports Editor and Larry Clarke, Business Manager.

The delegates will stay at the Commodore Hotel in New York City and will attend the scheduled convention which follows: Thursday, March 21 includes an opening meeting at Columbia University, followed by session meeting. Newspaper and magazine clinics are next on the schedule in the afternoon. A feature lecture will end the evening.

On Friday, March 22, the convention will convene with a general meeting followed by the taking of a convention picture. The afternoon includes sectional meetings and another feature lecture.

Saturday, March 23 will commence with a feature film and clinics. The convention will adjourn after a banquet at the Astor Hotel, at noon Saturday.

One of the sectional meetings on Friday afternoon will be a discussion led by Janet Paxton and a panel of four school press journalists. John Lake of BCHS, Fran Shev of VI, Carol Jacobs and Eve Morgan of Milne will make up the panel.

Choose A Class Night Committee

The senior class has begun to formulate plans for class night and commencement. At a class meeting on Thursday, February 28, Dick Grace, president, appointed the following committees to make plans for commencement, June 24:

- The Class Night Committee includes: Frankie Kirk, chairman; Becky Bates, Bill Bull; Larry Clarke; Jackie Pfeiffer and Jay Price.
- The Senior Class Gift Committee consists of Nancy Abernathy, chairman, Bill Newton, Phil Stoddard and Barbara Smith.
- The Class Committee for the Capping of the Class includes: Becky Bates, Bill Bull, Larry Clarke and Jackie Pfeiffer.
- The Class Committee for the Quin-Sigma Dance will be sponsored by the French Club and chaired by Larry Clarke.
- The Class Committee for the Quin-Sigma Dinner will be sponsored by the Sigma Literary Societies, they set March 30 as the date for the annual Quin-Sigma Dance. The location of the dinner has not been decided upon yet, but the committee would welcome any suggestions from the students.
- The committee for the Class Musical Show is being sponsored by the French Club and Chairman in charge of arrangements said, “We hope to make the show a boys’ and girls’ varsity, and the music to be supplied by Frank Gillespie and his band.

Goodbye Mrs. Moore

Perhaps you've noticed the new teacher in the library this week. She's Mrs. Tibbetts who is taking over for Mrs. Genevieve Moore. We'll miss Mrs. Moore, who has done such a splendid job in the library for four years.

Who can forget the help she has given to all of us? We can still remember what an excellent sport she was when the alarm clock went off during library. The Crimson and White is particularly grateful to Mrs. Moore for her marvelous cooperation with the staff as an adviser. The senior class certainly has appreciated her friendliness and aid as a class adviser.

Mrs. Moore will be remembered by all as a friend and a grand person. The entire school will miss her smile and will miss HER.

Come On Milne

Milne is playing V.I. this Saturday night in our next to the last game. This means that we haven't much time to show the team how much we really appreciate their efforts. The only way we can convey our thanks is to turn out at the next two games and YELL!!!

V.I. has an excellent basketball team but so has Milne. The Milne boys will always put up a good fight and they are out to win. This coming game should prove to be a thriller.

Milne has a fine squad of cheer leaders who have worked hard to think of new cheers to spur the team to victory. The Varsity has a splendid record for this season. They certainly deserve the wholehearted support of the student body. Let's really get out and show them that we can do our part too.

Senior Spotlight

Phil Stoddard

"Stretch" was born in Iowa City, Iowa many years ago. He lived there amidst the corn until he was thirteen and then he came to Milne and found that the corn was still green.

He is president of Phi Sigma this year and can be seen chasing the initiates around with a long, long paddle. He is also secretary of the student council and head of the traffic squad.

"The Boy With the Station Wagen" likes to go places, but I'm afraid he won't get there in the wagon because he said he would like a nice, little "voiture" all his own. He likes to stay out nice and late, likes to eat but he's on a diet (That's a joke, isn't it) and best of all, he likes the word "graduation".

Phil's dislikes include a violent hatred of chemistry but he just loves the teacher! He doesn't like persimmons, delicacies and, above all, all crew cuts. (Phil, what's that you are wearing?)

After graduation, Phil will move to Illinois. There he plans to attend the University of Illinois for a year. (Tell us, Phil, how did you get accepted?) For the following three years he would like to attend Michigan or the University of California.

Jack Underwood

Jack was born in Cleveland, Ohio in 1928. He lived in the South and entered Milne (7th grade) a few years after coming North.

As for importance, Jack is one of the big men in the senior class. He entered Adelphi in his sophomore year and is president of that same society this year. He is also president of the Boys' Inter-Society Council.

You all must recognize Jack. He was the boy that wrote to the senior about Compulsory Military Training last year and was anxious to keep out. (Phil, what's that you are wearing?)

He dislikes homework, turnips, winter, wind and never drinks tea or coffee. He makes up for all this by liking food, milk, summer, sports, bridge and other indoor sports.

Alumnus news by Peg

Quite a few alumni turned out to see the team beat Seliher. Two were seen at Hackett were Ralph Manweiler, '45; Bill Kelly, '45; Charlie Neydorff, '45; Bob Weig, '45; Al Jones, '45; and many others were seen after the game.

The marriage of Joan Manweiler, '41 to Gordon Underwood, '41, was held last week at the Sunset Alleys. Dave Vollmer was the chauffeur for the gang. Man, what a carload!

Norma Belle Singer and Lionel Sharp, '45, went to the midnight show at the Strand Friday night.

Jack Paxton went to Siena Dance Friday night with Harry Van Dyke.

Milne Defeats B. C. H. S.
In Weekend Game, 40-35

Hunting Hits Sixteen
For High of Evening,
B. C. H. S. Win J. V.

The Milne team defeated BCHS in the fourth quarter of the team's second meeting. The Milne team was hemmed in, hard fought and well played but the Milne superiority showed in the last period a way with the game home team 14-10 to go home on the long end of a 40-35 score.

First Half Slow

The first quarter was slow as each team tried to find out what the other was playing and figure a way to break it. When the gun sounded the score was 14-10 in favor of Milne.

The second period was equally as slow as the first, as neither team could seem to get their offensive working and also because the team's defenses were very strong. Again when the gun sounded, Milne was in the lead, 14-9.

The third quarter was easier to watch since both teams picked up a little and the game became even and rough in a few places. The quarter ended in favor of Milne 26-25.

In the fourth and final period, Milne rallied in the late minutes to take a well-played, hard-fought contest from the Bethlehem Central Varsity, 40-35.

Hunting of Milne took scoring honors for the evening with 18 points while Manns and Powers led BCHS with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Fred Powers, high scoring forward and sharpshooter, made nine points and passed well blocked.

The BCHS school got some satisfaction from the night when their Jayvies outscored the Milne team ahead by one or two points most of the time. Mable. Franks, substitute, played guard. The score standing 30-22.

At the end of the third period, the Milne team made a 14-8 run in the fourth period of the Academy, who immediately expanded their lead in the beginning of the fourth quarter. "Arnie" Austin started as forwards of the second and third quarters, substituting for Barbara Fretter.

The Milne team's passing was very fine and the visitors' offense and defense was well unerringly blocked. The score standing 12-12 at the end of the first three quarters. "Red" Austin was high scorer for the Milne team in a close game, 17-16. Arnie was high scorer for the varsity with 12 and Martin was high for the second team with 12 also.

The teams left directly after school and were greeted by the Academy girls, immediately after which the games began.

The varsity contest was close, the score standing 12-12 at the end of the half. "Arnie" Jan Paxton and Ellen Fretter started as forwards with Mary Kirby, Alice Wilson and Margie Boettcher in the back line. The game was speedily from the beginning with the girls on both teams working hard. The score was nip and tuck, neither team taking a large lead at any time during the first three quarters. "Red" Austin and "Fletch" started as forwards of the last two quarters, substituting for Barbara Fretter.

The Milne team was rolling in high gear in the second International game with the Philip Schuyler varsity and outscored it 22 points to Schuyler's 38.

The first quarter was fast with the crimson and white of Milne garnering 18 points to the home team's 8. The Milne team showed much offensive power as they handled the ball very well and shot with unerring accuracy.

The second period was fought on even terms with both teams playing excellent basketball but Milne held the slight edge, outscoring Schuyler as the third period score of 27 to 29 indicated.

The fourth stanza was played on identical terms with much passing and play making by both teams but this couldn't help Schuyler, who was already defeated. The final score was Milne 55 and Philip Schuyler 38.

Don Howard was high scorer for Milne and got the highest score of the season, scoring 28 points.

Girls' Ball Teams

Play Two Games

The Milne Girls' basketball varsity and second team attended a basketball playday on Tuesday, February 26 at 3:30 P.M. The varsity was defeated 29-22 but the Milne second team defeated the Academy second team in a close game, 17-16. Arnie was high scorer for the varsity with 12 and Martin was high for the second team with 12 also.

The teams left directly after school and were greeted by the Academy girls, immediately after which the games began.

Speaker Tells Group
Of Historic Albany

Miss Edna Jacobson spoke at a seventh grade assembly on February 26, in Page Hall. Her topic was "Street of Albany." She brought the students up to date, Miss Jacobson told briefly of the history of the city of Albany. She told of Albany before the white man, of the first settlers and of its growth as a port and trade center of the state.

New Librarian Arrives

The Milne students welcomed Mrs. Elizabeth Tubbs to the faculty last week as an assistant librarian to take the place of Mrs. Genevieve Moore. A former Milnite and a graduate of State College for Teachers, Mrs. Tubbs taught commerce at Hartford, New York.
Students Suffer For Two Weeks During Initiation

The sophomores are back to normal, normal in the sense that there are no more weird looking bow ties, lunch room antics, or submission underclassmen departed quickly, joined societies. Adelphoi, Phi Sigma, and Theta Nu each controlled a goodly number of lives for this period, meeting them in the morning, at lunch, and at "Eddie's." Two Weeks of Terror

The customary probationary period began on February 25, at 1:30 P.M., although there were a few premature signs of things to come. One may have noticed the two harmonious Theta-Nu pledges at lunch, sounding off with the best in classical music. Then too, there was the Adelphoi conga line put on for the enjoyment of the noon time crowd. Phi Sigma had their share of the fun too, with Gerry Wolfgang and Aubrey Judkins, the idol of ALL the pledges.

This type of "welcome" treatment together with a bit of traditional rivalry between societies went on until last Saturday morning when the final initiation, the "dreamcome-true" for all, came off in the lockers. It began in the early hours of the day and continued until the afternoon.

Adelphoi Begins Initiations

Adelphoi had the honored spot of being the first among the "welcomers", meeting their boys at 7:30 A.M. There were goodies for everyone, including chocolate mustard. Karo syrup, Grapenuts, and powdered garlic which we knew the sophomores would adore. There was also a big fish which jumped gaily from arm to arm, callisthenics and fun for all. After a few added surprises, the boys entered the shower room for the incoming crowd and gratefully thanked us all for our kindness during the past weeks.

At around 10:00 A.M., one noticed a group of Phi Sigma kiddies shivering in the halls. This condition did not last long, however, for they were quickly relieved and headed into the shower room. There, too, (as the picture shows you) the best kind of a greeting was given, including the pleasure of rolling around on the slightly moistened floor.

Theta Nu Holds Last Stand

Theta-Nu and its contingent arrived last, but prepared however to welcome their choices in the most manly manner which has made the society famous. Most unique among the thrills was the considerably "warm" Tabasco sauce plus a hot shower which added to the enjoyment of all. All the boys took an "airplane ride" and were led blindfolded throughout the lockers.

When all was finished, the thankful underclassmen departed quickly, all harboring thoughts of what they will do next year to those ever-inquisitive freshmen!

Bricks and Ivy Goes to Printers Amid Headaches

By JEAN PIRNIE
Editor of “Bricks and Ivy”

"Hey, Price, where's the Math Department layout? Paxton, is the prophecy ready? Will you kids please leave those pictures alone? No, no, that book over there, if you do, everyone else will have to see what's going on, and we'll never make the deadline. Jeepers, I'm going mad! Will someone get those kids out of here!"

"Fletch, find Becky and get the will from her. Where's Miss Cookin'? If anyone sees her, let me know. I'll be back in two minutes—have to call the printer. Lois, ask Miss Anne if that Art page is O.K., will you, huh?"

Why Editors Turn Grey

"Whew! What did I do to deserve this? The yearbook's practically due at the printer's and there is still a pile of stuff to do."

"So this is the way things go. Just ask me if you want to know how to go stark, raving crazy in one hard lesson. You can't beat the game—when things seem to be rolling along, what happens? First, flashbulbs are non-existent, then a camera goes on the blink, and so on into the night. After zooming all over, skidding around corners, falling downstairs, I collapsed on a nice, soft desk. The other poor kids who had been sweating with me dropped themselves conveniently around.

"Jean what's the penalty for breaking a contract?"

"Puleeze! Probably twenty years in Leavenworth, but don't remind me. What do you think I've been dreaming about this week? Come on—we can make it!"

We all staggered back to the mountain of pictures and copy, wondering how we could resist the temptation to heave the whole mess out of the window. They Did It

One hour later there was a neat (?) pile on the desk. Smitty was still pecking away at the trusty typewriter (borrowed from the C. & W.), but we were beginning to see the light. Roz dashed in with the last writeup and you and truly breathed a sigh of relief at long last. We all looked like wet dish rags, our hair had turned gray, but the yearbook was ready!

P.S.—The yearbook will be out early in June.
