Choirs Vocalize In Assembly

This year's Christmas assembly, held in Page Hall, opened with the band playing a medley of "Deck the Halls" and "Jingle Bells." The senior choir then sang, "We Wish You a Merry Christmas," "Peter, Go Ring Dem Bells," and "Old King Cole."

Hear Piano-Trumpet Duo

Accompanied by Adela Mayhew on the piano, Jerry Hanley played "The Toy Trumpet." The Milnettes are again part of the Milne Christmas assembly. During the assembly they sang, "The Penny Parade," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "O Holy Night." This year, the Senior Choristers are Jane Sternfeld, Carol Jean Foss, Adelia Lather, Doreen Cromwell, John Carlough, Nancy Olenhouse, Jean Foss, and Sue Gunther.

Cynthia Berberian then played Chaplin's "Fantasy-Inportune" on the piano.

The junior choir made up of grades seven, eight, and nine next sang "Scouse Lades," followed by the two choirs singing "O, Holy Night." This part of the program was connected by a series of interludes arranged by Mr. Roy York, Jr., head of the music department.

Group Presents Play

Mr. Montgomery then took over with a one-act comedy by Christopher Sergel, the name of "Pop Reads the Christmas Carol." Mr. Jones, the father, was played by Jerome Hanley. His wife, by Nancy Olenhouse. The children by Paul, Junior, and Mary Jones were played by Bennett Thompson, James Rusillon and Gretchen Wright, respectively. George Code portrayed the part of Jane, Paul's girl friend, and Reiford Sanderson played the part of his boy friend, Jacky.

Montgomery Directs

Lighting was by George Kendall, and Morton Hess was the stage manager. The complete production was directed by Mr. Richard W. Montgomery of the Milne English department.

The Milne band closed the program with "Silent Night," and "O, Come All Ye Faithful." Both choirs entered the junior school pictures, and the audience joined the band in singing.

YEARBOOK PROGRESSES

Richard Propp announced that the photographer has completed the pictures of the Bricks and Ivy group pictures, along with the senior class pictures. All the pictures taken are going to be rectangular, and the class pictures have been taken in home rooms. Throughout the advertising section there will be snapshots with writing under them.

The art group of the yearbook has decided that the Bricks and Ivy covers will be in the same color. The seniors will have brown covers and the others will be in black. They will be embossed with maroon writing and say "Milne" on the outside instead of Bricks and Ivy. The divider will also be different. Instead of being black and white, they will be in different, contrasting colors.

Dick and the staff are striving for relationships of pages to be opposite each other. That will make it much more readable.

Juniors to Present Ball

"Black Magic" To Invade Gym

At Alumni Ball

Members of the junior class are busy making plans for the eleventh annual Alumni Ball to be held December 29 from 9:00 to 1:00 in the gym.

Richard Thomson, president of the junior class, and chairman, announced the membership of the coordinating committee. They are David Carlisle, vice-president of the class; Dennis Perelman, secretary, Carole Jean Foss, treasurer of the class, and Frank Cappello, chairman of the class, plus the chairman of the program.

"Black Magic" Is Theme

Bunny Walker, chairman of the decoration committee, said that his committee decided the theme of the dance would be "Black Magic." In keeping with the theme, the gym will be decorated in black and silver with top hats and silver snow scattered around the gym.

Two groups of his orchestra will provide the music for the ball. Eleanor Patterson and Joan Edelen, chairman of the music committee, scheduled Mr. Farina.

To Receive Guests

A floor committee is to take care of receiving the guests and seeing that everything goes along smoothly. Richard Nathan and Robert Barsam will head this committee.

The invitation and publicity, of which Nancy Bellin is chairman, has sent out 350 invitations to alumni who graduated in the last five years. Also, an invitation was given to Bill Hayes, chairman of the junior class, to be read at the senior class meeting, and to Dr. Theodore Fossieck, to be read at the faculty meeting. All alumni and members of the junior and senior classes may attend the affair.

To Serve Punch

Refreshments for the dance will consist of cookies made by some of the junior girls, and punch. These will be served by the refreshment committee headed by Gene Cassidy and Don Leslie.

A finance committee is to handle the expense for the evening. Carole Jean Foss, as treasurer of the class, is chairman of this group.

Chaperons Attend

Mrs. Margaret Armstrong, of the commerce department, Mrs. Anna Barlow, of the English department, and Mrs. Harlan Raymond, head of industrial arts, will attend the ball as chaperons.

When asked about the progress of the dance, Bennett Thomson said, "The committees are working very hard, so I'm sure that the dance will be a huge success. I hope everyone has a wonderful time."
MERRY CHRISTMAS

"Merry Christmas" Each of you will use and hear that phrase many times in the next weeks. I plead that each time it is used it will not be a cliché brought out at this time of year as the juke box operators bring it in connection with Christmas. It may interest you to know that our Anglo-Saxon forebearers first used the term "Merry." I would like you to think about what makes Christmas pleasant. Is a Merry Christmas one where you receive so much that you don't know what to use first and one where you eat so much that you are uncomfortable?

You want your school and parents to treat you as adults; so you should be developing adult standards from judging Christmas. It was an adult kind of Merry Christmas that James Russell Lowell had in mind when he wrote:

"Not what we give, but what we share: For the gift without the giver is vain; Who gives it, gives it all—his heart, three— Himself, his hungering neighbor, and me."

—Dr. Theodore H. Fossiek.

GOSH, WE HOPE SO
By DORIS PELLMAN

Every year in this issue, you're probably accustomed to seeing a letter to Santa Claus from the senior class. While this is all very fine, we feel rather strongly that the members of that poor, under-privileged, self-sacrificing body—the junior class (of which, by a strange coincidence, we happen to be a member) should also be given the opportunity to voice its Christmas requests between the pages of our hallowed journal.

Far From Perfect
Dear Santa:

We know that we haven't been perfect this past year, but we have sincerely tried to be good little people. We've done our homework, and we haven't talked too much in class. Really, we've kept the spitballs and sticks in the locker room brawls. After all, we're juniors, we'll be seniors, you can expect this from us. Only Essentials—only the really important things.

Full coverage insurance policies for the girls when they play murder ball.

A loud gavel for our "pres", Bennett Thomason.

Everyone's class dues for Carol Jean.

Some dark socks for Henry Cohen, 'cause he doesn't like bright colors.

First names for Tripp, Dyer, and Bellin. Pulease—a terrific Alumni Ball! A television set to brighten up the fourth period English class.

And for the girls bringing a few who are six feet two with eyes of blue.

We'd better have a Joe Miller joke book to add to the reference collection.

A package of Tintair jet black for M.F., because she daze us.

Plenty of pizza! Straight A's for everybody (are we mad?)

More Requests

Sneeze-proof powder for those locker room brawls.

That grey stuffed poodle in Hayter's window, because he's so darling.

Buses that run on schedule.

Only Essentials

We know that this doesn't sound like too much, Santa, since we've tried to keep it down to the barest essentials—only the really important things.

If, in the past, we haven't lived up to your expectations of us, you can bet your boots that from now on we'll try to be extra good. Why, we'll be sure to keep all of our New Year's resolutions—well, for a week, at least. Since, come next Christmas, we'll be seniors, you can expect a much better report.

Look Forward to Visit

We're looking forward to your visit on Christmas Eve, and you can bet that this will be our merriest. Sincerely,

The Juniors.
Squad Shows Improvement

By DICK NATHAN

The Milne school basketball squad began its season November 20, with a decisive 52-29 victory over Cambridge central school. The game featured a much improved Milne team aided by excellent teamwork and a very prominent defense. Bob Page '52 tallied the first field goal of the season, giving the Raiders a two-point advantage. Dave Clarke and Frank Parker paced the winners each with four points in the first period. When the buzzer completed the opening quarter, the score was 15-6 in favor of the Crimson.

In the next period the Raiders increased the margin from 9 to 16 points. As the half ended a very fine looking Milne squad was leading 27-11.

In the second half the Minnites continued to score almost neck and neck with Clarke raising his eight points to a 14 point final tally. Clarke and Walker each with six were high for the first two periods. Doug Billon '53, playing an exceptionally fine game scored in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter to round out the half-century, an even 50 markers. Walker's field goal completed Milne's 52 to win by a decisive 23 points.

The Raiders were outstanding defensively as they held their opponents to only 29 points, while scoring 52. With five odd points for each a 13-man squad.

Clarke's 14 was high for the game followed by Noxon of Cambridge with 10 and Frank Parker from Milne with nine.

The junior varsity won handily, 45-33, to complete the evening, a twin victory for the Crimson.

Following the successful start of the '51-52 season, the Raiders competed with 11 area teams in the Basketball Jamboree at the Washington Avenue armory. Milne's first contest of the evening against the very powerful Albany high school varsity was tied at the finish 4-4. The winner was then determined by five odd points for each team. The Minnites failed to match or better their opponents' two completed shots losing a real thriller 6-5.

Milne's second appearance provided the evening's greatest excitement as the Crimson defeated St. Ann's high. The Raiders were trailing 5-4 with only a few seconds remaining when Frank Parker followed Dee Parker's attempt scoring a field goal, winning by one very important point.

The Season's Greetings

Red Raiders Down Indians

The Raiders' second game was against Averill Park following the cancellation of the St. Peter's of Saratoga game which was scheduled for the previous night. This being the first home game it drew a very large crowd of well satisfied spectators as they watched the home team defeat the visitors in both J.V. and varsity events.

The first quarter of the varsity game was very undecided as the visiting Indians showed a great deal of competition. The Raiders however managed to gather a five-point advantage because of slightly dominant boardwork.

The second game began with a brief Milne rally featuring field goals by Salker and Frank Parker and a free throw by Hayes giving the home team a much more powerful 10-point margin. The game then evened off again as the Indians began to score. The 10-point margin prevailed almost to the close of the half when an A.P. foul throw lowered the difference to nine points. Halftime score was 29-20.

With a fairly comfortable nine-point lead the Raiders used the second team during most of the next two periods. They managed not only to hold their advantage, but they also doubled it. The Minnites seemed to overpower their opponents easily in the last half because of their greater reserve power. The Indians used only seven Braves in the entire game while the visitors divided the action among a 13-man squad.

The high scorers for the winners were Bill Hayes '52, with 13 markers and Bob Page with 10. The visitors however, provided the evening's best individual tally as Perault almost tripled his teammates best total, raking up a very substantial 17 points. The J.V. won by a large margin, Art Melius and Don Leslie were high for the winners each with 13.

The Season's Greetings

Ines From Mary Alice Leete

The snow and cold weather have forced us to turn our attention to other types of games in the absence of our two beloved sports, hockey and roller skating. It seems a pity that the weather has not been more favorable so that we could carry on a game of hockey. Field hockey, not ice hockey! Since we did not have any time for hockey this fall, we will continue it in the early spring before we begin our softball season.

New Game Found

Our gym classes are now engaged in a new type of game. This game is similar to murder ball in some ways, but the object of the game is to catch the ball, not to hit someone with it. The purpose of it is to teach the girls some fundamental techniques in basketball. It seems to be a success because everyone has fun and learns her lesson at the same time.

Roller Skating Party Successful

Our annual roller skating party was held on Saturday, December 8, turned out to be very successful. Along with all the bruises and skinned knees everyone looked okay as she left Hoffman's roller skating rink. We also had some of the amateur skaters who tumble at every turn, a couple of professionals. It is really wonderful how they manage to stay on their feet all the time.

Intramurals Varied

The December program has a jammed sports program. We try to give you a large program of sports consisting of many different games. This year, since the gym classes have been cut in the length of time in each class, it is impossible to hold bowling during the regular gym class. We did not bowl a game of either duck pins or regular pins and replaced the class with the next class. To remedy this situation, we have decided to hold intramural intramurals after school for both senior and junior high. State college student teachers will help the junior high. They will try to stop them from following their balls down the alleys. The senior high has three senior girls helping out from the M.G.A.A. council. They are Cynthia Talmor, Carolyn Kitzler and Mary Alice Leete. If you can't find your score or are having trouble, they will try to help you as much as they can.

Ring stick hockey takes place on the alternate days from bowling for both senior and junior highs. Ring stick hockey is held on Wednesdays and Fridays for the senior high and on Tuesdays and Thursdays for the junior high. Junior high basketball will be held on the Fridays when the boys gym is not used by the boys' basketball team.

Cheerleaders Go To Manhasset

This December, the senior varsity cheerleaders had a great experience. They went with the team and cheered at all their games and really had a wonderful time. In this case we want to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!
Manhasset High Conquers Red Raiders In Long Island Contest; 56-53

By DICK NATHAN

Varsity game at Manhasset was a real thriller as the Crimson played a very fine game. The first quarter was undeveloped as the Milnites, sparked by junior Don Coombs, scored two three-point field goals, lowering the margin to six. The home team retaliated with four points, but were quickly stopped as the Crimson netted three quick field baskets, two by Clarke and one by Coombs. The score was then 5-15 with the Crimson trailing by five.

The pace evened off again as Manhasset scored followed by Walker’s tally for the Milnites, and another field goal by the home team. With time running out, Frank Parker scored twice, again putting the margin to three points. The final score was 56-53.

MGAA Attends Area Playday

This fall the main sport of the Milne girls has been volleyball. On Saturday, November 17, they participated in a city-wide volleyball playday. The playday was held at Phillip Livingston junior high school. Two teams went from Milne, a junior team and a senior team. The senior team was as follows: Barbara Van Dyke, Marcia Hallenbeck, Joan Callahan, Penny Thompson, Sue Crane, Nancy Tripp, Nancy Redden, Ruth Dyer, Mimi Ryan, and Cressy McNutt.

Here are the outcomes of the games:

Frank Parker racked two successive field goals, lowering the margin to six. Rensselaer Subdues Milne’s Red Raiders In League Tilt

After the victory over Averill Park, the Raiders met the Van Rensselaer Rams at Rensselaer. Since Milne and Rensselaer are the only area teams left in Class C, their two-game meeting will determine which school will send its squad to the Saratoga sectional playoff. The Rams now lead by one game as they defeated the Milnites, 57-43.

Walker ..................... 5-0-10
Wade ....................... 0-0-0
Hayes ...................... 5-4-14
Clarke ..................... 1-0-2
Page ....................... 2-2-6
Coombs ..................... 1-1-3
P. Parker .................... 1-1-3
D. Parker ................... 1-1-3
Totals ...................... 16-10-40

The game began with an immediate Rensselaer drive which gathered a very important 9-point lead. Then the pace evened, and the Raiders left the court at half-time still trailing by nine points behind the title-defending Rams.

The Milnites still couldn’t stop the wild-scoring Rams in second half as the home team raised the margin to 19. Then the Milnites still fighting hard while only six minutes remained lowered the advantage to 14 markers; but their rally was stopped not by the Rams, but by the clock. The final score was Rensselaer 77, Milne 43.

The game’s scoring honors were taken by Bob Giganda for the Rams with 23 points. Bill Havas was high for the Rams with 14.

Milne J.V. won easily, 54-39; Coombs scored a field goal lowering the margin to six. The Milnites outscored their opponents by six points, but were not able to get the three points necessary to deadlock the contest. Frank Parker kicked two successive field goals, lowering the margin to six. Junior Class Selects Books
Doris Perlman, Anne Requa, Sue Crane, and Nancy Bellin recently chose the final list of books for the junior class. This tradition has been carried on at the Milne school for the past six years.

Mr. Cochrane, English supervisor, stated, “As long as the students are going to read the books, they should be able to choose them.”

Selections were made upon completion of a unit on narrative fiction. Each class was permitted to choose up to four books, and the books were then sent to the committee for the final choice. Their list was sent to the library for order.

“The cooperative action used in selecting books is beneficial to the students,” said Mr. Cochrane.

The English department believes that the project of selecting books in class will help the students choose reading material in later life.

It will be some time before the books will arrive at Milne. Mrs. Bush and Miss Manion, librarians, believe it will be about two months before the juniors receive their books.

Group Takes Trip
Two sections of the eleventh grade World History class went to the All Saints Cathedral on December 4. They went to see architecture of the middle ages. An official of the church acted as a guide and explained the structure of the cathedral.

Students of the seventh grade math class visited station WXKW October 5. Mrs. Perry, their teacher, acted as a guide. Station offices for WXKW are located in the Wellington Hotel.

Members of the ninth grade general math class made a trip to Whitney’s department store, to see how it is necessary to consider the fraction of an inch in home plans.

Club Resumes
Once again by popular demand the Milne school has a Dramatics Club, which is under the supervision of Mr. Richard Montgomery, of the English department. The club is currently working on a one-act comedy entitled Pop Reads the Christmas Carol, which they will present at the Christmas assembly. The story is about a harrased father and his family. Some of the cast are: Jerry Hanly, Nancy Olenshouse, Bennett Thomas, Gretchen Wright, Jim Redmond, Nancy Gayle, and Redford Sanderson.

Doris Perlman was elected treasurer and asked if it desired to go so she could visit Whitney’s department store. To see how it is necessary to consider the fraction of an inch in home plans.

Junior Hi Holds Hop
Members of the Junior Hi held a dawson hoilday and they have now $30.00 in the treasury. Other officers will be elected in the near future.

Hi-L-Y Plans Varied Season; Schedule Bowling Leagues
By ELLIOT LIVINGSTON
The Milne chapter of the Hi-Y is again in function this year, and seeks to surpass other years’ clubs by far.

Ronny Thomas is the gavel holder with Andy Wilson his assistant. Gerry Lugg is secretary and Fred Corr is treasurer. Mr. Snyder is our faculty adviser.

The club is assisting the faculty in the following ways this year.

The club is also planning a series of bowling leagues if alleles can be obtained. The first team will participate in the show.

Both clubs are looking forward to a successful year, and there is no doubt in our minds that they will live up to their expectations.

Mr. Blythe of the math department has organized a Junior Red Cross club at the Milne school. Each homeroom was asked if it desired to join the club. Those wishing to form a representative with the others would attend the meetings.

The first meeting took place on Wednesday, December 17. The talent for the show was obtained from the various high schools in the Albany area. Students from Milne participating in the show were Bob Page, who was master of ceremonies on the evening, Larry Gentz, who did a pantomime, Dick McChesney, performed feats of magic, and Cynthia Berberian who played a dynamo.

Girls Order Pins and Keys
It is a tradition of Sigma and Quin that the seniors receive their pins and keys.

All sophomores and new members of Sigma will be ordering their pins. These give the shape of the Greek letters that signify Sigma. New members and sophomores of Quin will also be ordering their pins. These pins are black with three gold initials Q.L.S. on them that signify Quin Literary Society.
Passenger and Drivers Really Think Humanly

By DORIS PERLMAN

Riding on the bus has become such a second nature to us that we are no longer bothered by the coarse pummelings and trammings that we must undergo daily. We just stand there, oblivious to all, and think our own thoughts and try to remain erect even when the bus goes around curves. (We do make an even attempt to worm our way to a seat. Sitting down on the bus has become a lost art.)

Average Passenger

We have figured out the typical thoughts that would probably run through the mind of the average passenger. Here is what we find:

Boy, he would have gone right by me if I hadn't hollered. Shut up, bus driver. I don't want your tone. Can't help it if I don't have anything smaller than a five. What a disposition that guy's got! He has no business telling the passengers that way. He doesn't have to be a bus driver. There's plenty of other jobs he could have taken. It's a wonder they hired him. Now why don't those stupes move back? Just a bunch of morons. Why don't those people wear gloves? They just stand there like so many sheep. Okay, lady, I'm moving back! Some people, honestly! I'm blocking the aisle! Look who's talking! Someone ought to tell you about Rye-Krisp, lady! Will you look at that hat? The things some people will wear! Gee, the power of advertising is terrific these days. People will wear anything! Will you look at that hat? The things some people will wear!

Assembly Opens "Hoop" Season

Milne school started its basketball season on December 20, with a practice session.

The assembly opened with Star Spangled Banner, followed by the March of the Pioneers. Next, Lee Lee led in three cheers for the basketball team. On it went, Bob Grogan introducing the Junior varsity boys. As a brief interlude, Mr. White took a turn at the band, and the cheerleaders came out to sing, "Vince, Vince," and the "Clemson Fight Song." The coach then introduced the players and the cheerleaders.

Dr. Fossick then told us the meaning of Thanksgiving. As exemplified by ancient Greeks and Romans, Thanksgiving is a time to give thanks. And, since Thanksgiving is a day of thanksgiving, we should give thanks to Dr. Fossick, and to Dr. Fossick's assistant, Miss Emma Mater, and Dr. Fossick discussed the school in the usual order.

Latin Club Joins Classical League

Milne's Latin club is going to become a part of the American Classical League. The league is sponsored by the American Classical League. It is a national organization. It is composed of many secondary schools throughout the United States and its territories. The purpose of this league is to foster the appreciation of ancient Greek and Roman culture. Forty Latin students have been elected to membership. Under the guidance of Mrs. Hitchcock and Mrs. Stump, the Latin Club holds its conventions in Euope, annually. Latin Club officers include Joan Hitchcock and Margaret Hitchcock. The Latin Club is to extend its thanks to Dr. Fossick for his generosity, and to the Latin Club officers for their cooperation in granting privileges.

Only two main rules come that must definitely be observed. First, no one may ride in any motor vehicle ' during this time; second, every one is expected to be on time for the 11:41 class. It goes without saying that no one is expected to enter an establishment that sells intoxicating drinks. Sorry, no pizza for lunch.
