Children's March for Survival

by Rob Koch
Community Service Aide to ARHIO

Little children, mostly from the poverty pockets and ghettos, will be the focus of Washington D.C. on Saturday, March 25, to try to do what their parents have failed to do: bring about change. The theme of the CHILDREN'S MARCH FOR SURVIVAL, a demonstration organized by a coalition of more than forty groups and individuals concerned about a great variety of children's issues, is to focus national attention on the plight of children and to ask for an action plan to save the children. The sponsoring coalition of organizations points out that children for children has never been so acute as it is now under Nixon administration policies and programs for lack of funds. The work of the Child Development Hill, cutbacks in federal feeding programs, and the proposed

The IRS (reflecting HR 1) as passed by the House of Representatives on June 22, 1971, promises no more than $2000 for a family of four people. The average national monthly AFDC payment for one child is $50.52. (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) payments for clothing, food, shelter, and other necessities is $2700. The Nixon-Mills Family Assistance Plan (FAP), passed by the House of Representatives on June 22, 1971, promises no more than $4000 for a family of four people. The average national monthly AFDC payment for one child is $50.52. The Nixon-Mills Family Assistance Plan (FAP), passed by the House of Representatives on June 22, 1971, promises no more than $4000 for a family of four people.

The Child Development Hill's activities include free medical screening for sickle cell anemia, lead poisoning, and nutritional deficiencies will be conducted. This march is all inclusive. Anyone who has children, a little brother or sister, or who CARES ABOUT CHILDREN is welcome. For further information you can call the Albany Welfare Rights Office (449-5155) and ask for either Catherine or Jack. Or you could come down to the QWRO at 13 Trinity Place (off Madison). All children must be accompanied by a parent to participate in the march. The buses for Washington D.C. will be leaving the Emmanuel Baptist Church 275 State Street, Albany on Friday March 25 at 10 a.m. and will be returning sometime Saturday night. By the way, the buses are FREE and lodging has been reserved for overnight Friday in D.C. Donations will be cheerfully accepted.

A Children's March for survival in Washington on March 25, can be the focal point for bringing together individuals, organizations, and children to focus attention on children's issues and to define an action plan to save the children. We must:

1. Oppose HR 1 (FAP) as passed by the House of Representatives.
2. End the war for the children of Indochina as well as our own.
3. Enforce comprehensive community controlled child development systems.
4. Phase out a health plan, with all medical and dental needs with emphasis on preventive rather than crisis care.
5. Create jobs so that parents can provide for their children a decent standard of living.
6. Provide adequate housing for every child (which, all children can grow up in a healthy environment).
7. End hunger and malnutrition among all children through expanded food programs.
8. Reverse our educational system and make the schools a place for children to learn and instruments of control.
9. End cuts, benefits, and cuts in income taxes and all other taxes.

THE FUTURE OF THE CHILDREN

- 40% of the population of the U.S. is below 26 years of age.
- 4 million children are dependent on AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) for clothing, food, shelter, and other necessities. The average national monthly AFDC payment for one child is $50.52.

- Substandard is going among all income levels:
  - 90% of all children under two and 50% of boys under six have vitamin deficiencies.
  - 72% of all children have vitamin C deficiencies.
  - 50% of all children have vitamin D deficiencies.

- 50% of all children have vitamin A deficiencies.
- 25% of all children in large inner city schools cannot read.
- 30% of all children are using stimulants and tranquilizers.
- 50% of all children are using stimulants and tranquilizers.

- 50% of all children have vitamin B deficiencies.
- 25% of all children in large inner city schools cannot read.
- 30% of all children are using stimulants and tranquilizers.
- 50% of all children are using stimulants and tranquilizers.

- 50% of all children have vitamin A deficiencies.
- 25% of all children in large inner city schools cannot read.
- 30% of all children are using stimulants and tranquilizers.
- 50% of all children are using stimulants and tranquilizers.

The FAP (reflecting HR 1) and denounced by the National Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO) as a "family destruction plan," is now passing in the Senate along with alternative welfare reform bills sponsored by Senators Harris, McGovern, and Ribicoff. These bills, national and state, have been denounced by many concerned groups and individuals as inadequate. The NWRO's rallying call is: "For Survival on Washington...TC for March 25, 1972." The NWRO's rallying call is: "For Survival on Washington...TC for March 25, 1972."
B’nai B’rith: “Racial Quotas at SUNYA”

by John Paidahl

For Jews there are few bastions and other minority group members engaged in SUNYA. The campus is situated in a policy called “Affirmative Action,” seeking to hire minority group members. This is not the case, however, as the administration of the “Affirmative Action” has shown over the years. The minority group members to whom this policy is applied are called “affirmative action.”

The university, through its “Affirmative Action,” is giving minorities “preferential treat­ment.” This is the charge leveled against the university’s Affirmative Action Plan, which is intended to end job dis­crimination against qualified minority group members.

The controversy centers on how the university decided to handle hiring minority group members, especially blacks. The university has been criticized for its policy of “affirmative action.” This controversy centers on how the university decided to handle hiring minority group members, especially blacks. The university has been criticized for its policy of “affirmative action.”

NOMINATIONS FOR 1972 OFFICERS

Members May Attend the Annual Meeting to be held on April 12

MYSTIC POSTER

March 17, 1972

Women’s Studies

Women’s Studies Committee is being offered for the Fall Term. In the four departments of English, History and Political Science, 3 credits will be offered. The committee will meet in Tugger East Cinema.

This Saturday Night

St. Patrick’s Day Party

with

Maximus Super

featuring: CORNFLAKE FARMS from NYC

and another Live Band in the U Lounge

Colonial Flagroom

Come and

Join the Fun!

8:30 - ?

$2.25 with Colonial Tax

$5.00 with Student Tax

founded by student tax

Former GSPA Prof. Gets Pension and Job

by Glen von Heuvel

The state pension gravy train rolls on. Discoveries of additional state pension abuses make it clear that the state bureaucracy is not functioning properly and has permeated several state outposts. Mary Arden has received a pension of $28,000 per year January 1, 1972 from the Senate Finance Committee. She has received a pension of $28,000 per year January 1, 1972 from the Senate Finance Committee. She has received a pension of $28,000 per year January 1, 1972 from the Senate Finance Committee.

Several other high state officials were at one time or are presently on the gravy train. The gravy train rolls on. Discoveries of additional state pension abuses make it clear that the state bureaucracy is not functioning properly and has permeated several state outposts.
Come and See Pro Basketball!

THE SCHAEFER BREWERS VS. THE NEW JERSEY ALL STARS

Saturday, March 18 at 8:00 pm in the SUNYA Gym

Tickets sold at the door...
$.50 with state quad card
$1.00 with SUNYA tax card
$2.00 general admission

MARCH 17, 1972
ALBANY STUDENT PRESS
Money! Money! Money! Money!

In a private conversation a few years ago, a nationally known political remark of Richard Nixon: "If people knew all of the deals that's been made, they'd be sick!" This was in the context of the Watergate scandals, the political corruption that had come to light during Nixon's presidency. It was a statement about the hidden and often illegal deals that had taken place, which the public was not aware of. Nixon's comment reflected the frustration and disillusionment of many Americans with the political process of the time.

Washington dentist Jack Anderson's recent disclosures of the Nixon administration's involvement in the settlement of a number of criminal cases, including the Watergate scandal, have added fuel to the fire of public skepticism about government. Anderson's revelations, published in his column "Washington Week," have raised questions about the extent of the administration's illegal activities and the extent to which the media and the public were aware of them.

The Watergate scandal was one of the most significant political events of the 1970s. It involved a break-in at the Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate office building in Washington, D.C., and a subsequent cover-up of the incident by members of the Nixon administration. The scandal ultimately led to the resignation of President Richard Nixon in 1974.

Anderson's disclosures have been met with a mix of anger and-interest. Many Americans are outraged by the revelations, feeling that the government has betrayed their trust. At the same time, there is a growing sense of curiosity about the extent of the administration's illegal activities and the role of the media in covering up the scandal.

The Watergate scandal has had a lasting impact on American politics. It has led to increased scrutiny of government officials, a greater focus on ethics and accountability, and a shift in public opinion towards a more critical view of government power.

The Watergate scandal has also had a significant impact on the media. It has led to increased scrutiny of the role of the media in covering political events, and a greater focus on the importance ofmedia accountability and transparency.

In conclusion, the Watergate scandal is a reminder of the importance of media accountability and transparency, and the need for citizens to be informed about the activities of their government. It is a reminder of the importance of the media's role in holding government accountable and ensuring that citizens are informed about the actions of their government.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Political Perspectives

by Ann & Cori Smith

What would Stanley Kubrick do after 1981? A Clockwork Orange, Boonie and Peke were not enough to prepare him for the future. Steady and convincingly, Kubrick continued his campaign for the future, an attitude that is reflected in the darker side of the future. The two main characters, Alex and Malcolm, are also the main characters of the film, and their actions are the cause of the future. Alex and Malcolm are the future that Kubrick wants us to see. Alex and Malcolm are the future that Kubrick wants us to know.

Alex is the name of the hero of the film. Alex is a young man who grows up in a future world. He is a young man who has done wrong. He is a young man who is not afraid to face the consequences of his actions. Alex is a young man who is not afraid to face the consequences of his future. He is a young man who is not afraid to face the consequences of his world.

Kubrick's Remarkable Clockwork

The Subjective Filmmaker

by Robert V. Vee

As with THE LAST PICTURE SHOW (1971) it is difficult to say anything about Stanley Kubrick's A CLOCKWORK ORANGE, not at the moment. What we can say is that the film is a film. It is a film that deals with the future. It is a film that deals with the future of our world. It is a film that deals with the future of our world and its consequences. It is a film that deals with the future of our world and its consequences and how it will affect our world.

It is a film that deals with the future and its consequences. It is a film that deals with the future and its consequences and how it will affect our world. It is a film that deals with the future and its consequences and how it will affect our world. It is a film that deals with the future and its consequences and how it will affect our world. It is a film that deals with the future and its consequences and how it will affect our world.
Being the adventures of a young man whose principal interests are rape, ultra-violence and Beethoven.

NOW ACADEMY AWARD NOMINATIONS FOR:

BEST PICTURE

BEST DIRECTOR

BEST SCREENPLAY

BEST EDITING

STANLEY KUBLICK'S

BLACK WEEKEND COMING SOON

SYNOPSIS

One of the legends of film, the Master of the Crime of the Century, will return to the screen, this time the plot of which is so complex that only a master can unravel its intricacies. The story of a man who has spent his life in the service of law and order, will be portrayed by Gary Lawson, the star of Stanley Kubrick's latest film, A Clockwork Orange. The film will be presented in 16mm as a part of the Black Student Film Festival.

ARNOLD MATHIS

AMIA News

Nominating: The AMIA News Reading Room will be held on March 17 and 18.

Judo Club Prepares for Sixth NE Tourney

The Judo Club will participate in the Sixth NE Tourney, to be held on March 17 and 18, at the University of Connecticut. The club has made extensive preparations for the tournament, and the members are looking forward to a successful outing.

APPLICATIONS NOW BEING ACCEPTED FOR CO-CHAIRMAN & AT-LARGE MEMBERSHIP on the SPECIAL EVENTS BOARD

STATE FAIR 72

must send a representative to two meetings: Monday, March 20 at 7:00 PM April 10 at 7:00 PM, both in LC-20 should be prepared to stay for 24 hours. If your group does not have a representative present, your booth will be closed.

ALL groups entering booths at STATE FAIR 72

APPLICATIONS

are due by March 20 at 7:00 PM. All applications should be returned to the Special Events Board, 304 Harriman Hall, or by mail to the Special Events Office, 304 Harriman Hall, by March 20 at 7:00 PM.
Tight Budget, But $135,000 Paid for One House

The Legislative Committee on Expenditures reviewed the state sues for 1969, but budget cuts were not great in proportion to the cuts in the past. The budget report, issued July 1 by the Committee, shows that the state’s expenses for the year will be $121,000,000, or $7,000,000 more than in 1968. The committee also noted that the state’s expenses will be $37,000,000 more than in 1967, when the state’s expenses were $84,000,000.

Student Residents Needed for Sayles Hall International House

The Stale has been able to purchase separate homes for their chiefs because they were included as part of the state’s budget. The Stale has also been able to purchase separate homes for their students, including the president of SUNY at Rome, the president of SUNY at Albany, and the president of SUNY at Stony Brook. The Stale has also been able to purchase separate homes for their students, including the president of SUNY at Rome, the president of SUNY at Albany, and the president of SUNY at Stony Brook.

America and foreign graduates of the state’s institutions are invited to apply for admission to Sayles Hall International House. With over 500 students from more than 50 countries, Sayles Hall International House is a community of students from diverse backgrounds, all united by a shared interest in learning about and experiencing the cultural diversity of the world.

For the first time this past year, America and foreign students interested in applying to Sayles Hall International House had the opportunity to visit the house. Beginning in September of 1972, Sayles Hall on Main Quad will be open to students for tours. With over 500 students from more than 50 countries, Sayles Hall International House is a community of students from diverse backgrounds, all united by a shared interest in learning about and experiencing the cultural diversity of the world.

In order to establish the house, the Stale had to make a commitment of $250,000 to the International Student Affairs Council. This commitment, along with the student and alumni contributions, will enable the house to provide a warm and inviting atmosphere. All students will have the opportunity to participate in social and cultural activities, including formal and informal gatherings, with student leaders and non-resident guests.

You’re All Invited

Tonight, the Concert Board presents the Buffalo Springfield, plays a spare, bit unfocused, but do at his best, and that is fine. It turns out to back them...

Admission to the concert is $1.75. It is $1 with current tax & ID, $1.75 without. Things will be held in the Patroon Room at the International Student Office, located in the Quadrangle and the International Office. An interest meeting for all those interested in participating will be held in the International Student Office on Wednesday, March 22, at 9:30 p.m. An interest meeting for all those interested in participating will be held in the International Student Office on Wednesday, March 22, at 9:30 p.m.

The exhibition currently in the On exhibition currently in the will feature works by James Simon, a local artist, and works by Catherine Aminoff, an artist from the United States.

Student Office, located in the on Alumni Hall, will be held in the Pel Lounge on the second floor of the International Student Office. An interest meeting for all those interested in participating will be held in the International Student Office on Wednesday, March 22, at 9:30 p.m.
Government Reveals Evidence

by Edward Zuckerman
WASHINGTON

May 26th, the View of John Ehrlichman.

Then, a member of the Nixon White House staff, Ehrlichman was caught on tape discussing the plans to break into the Democratic National Committee headquarters at the Watergate hotel in Washington, D.C.

Ehrlichman admitted to the charges, but denied any knowledge of the Watergate burglary.

The full extent of theburglary and its possible connection to the Nixon presidency is yet to be determined.

Prisoner’s Rap

by Carol Martin
Assistant Press Writer

Stamford, CT, May 17 - The trial of Bernard Wallis, antiwar activist, begins today.

Wallis is accused of participating in the Vietnam War protests and the Draft Board raids.

Wallis is expected to plead guilty.

Wallace Sweeps Florida

by Jerry Brown
Assistant Press Writer

Miami, May 17 - The Governor of Florida, George Wallace, wins the state's gubernatorial race.

Wallace will face challenge from the incumbent, Democrat John D. Rockefeller.

 Wallace is expected to take office in January.

Wallace's victory is seen as a victory for the conservative wing of the Democratic Party.

Other News

Wall Street: The Dow Jones Industrial Average drops 50 points.

Weather: A severe storm hits the Midwest, causing power outages.

World: The United Nations passes a resolution condemning the use of nuclear weapons.

Obituaries

Eleanor Roosevelt, former First Lady, passes away.

JFK: President Kennedy is assassinated.

MARCH 17, 1972

ALUMNI STUDENT PRESS
State Police and Security Combine to Bust State Students Friday

Friday didn’t turn out to be a very happy St. Patrick’s Day for either Pat Lenihan or his roommate Mike Ryan, and the news wasn’t improved on Saturday morning when they were arrested by State Police and security officials. Lenihan was taken into custody at 10:00 AM Friday morning and a half after 4 PM Friday. The arrest was made and that more arrests are imminent. But the Albany County Drug Program, which was conducted at the University of Illinois, was not expected to be taken at the University of Illinois.

Lenihan had apparently sold drugs to a state student and had been arrested. The Albany State police said yesterday that search warrants are out on two counts of criminal sale of dangerous drugs. A search of the room yielded more illegal drugs on the part of Indian Quad dorm directors. It was later discovered that the stated policy of Albany State’s Housing and the Male Dorm Community. But the Albany police said that the drugs were found enough to make the two student residents a warrant.

While most of the legislators who were contacted stated that the word out on the outside was that the legislators were all very excited and that they supported the issue, there was but one voice in favor of the issue. Another high school student said that the legislators’ response to their comments was “very much.” They were more interested in the legislators than in the student body’s position.

About 800 students from throughout the state gathered in Albany on Thursday to protest plans to increase regis-

Students Protest Appearance of Chase Manhattan Recruiter

A gathering of angry students presented the appearance of a Chase Manhattan recruiter at the placement office as a protest against the bank’s handling of potential employees.

The recruiter, Mr. Edward Law, was expected to speak to the student body. His appearance was expected to be followed by a demonstration. The bank handles the State Dormitory System, and the state college system has asked for permission to use the dormitory system in their recruitment efforts.

Senators of the state legislature have been contacted by the bank to request their assistance in the recruitment efforts.

State Police and Security Combine to Bust State Students Friday

Friday didn’t turn out to be a very happy St. Patrick’s Day for either Pat Lenihan or his roommate Mike Ryan, and the news wasn’t improved on Saturday morning when they were arrested by State Police and security officials. Lenihan was taken into custody at 10:00 AM Friday morning and a half after 4 PM Friday. The arrest was made and that more arrests are imminent. But the Albany County Drug Program, which was conducted at the University of Illinois, was not expected to be taken at the University of Illinois.

Lenihan had apparently sold drugs to a state student and had been arrested. The Albany State police said yesterday that search warrants are out on two counts of criminal sale of dangerous drugs. A search of the room yielded more illegal drugs on the part of Indian Quad dorm directors. It was later discovered that the stated policy of Albany State’s Housing and the Male Dorm Community. But the Albany police said that the drugs were found enough to make the two student residents a warrant.

While most of the legislators who were contacted stated that the word out on the outside was that the legislators were all very excited and that they supported the issue, there was but one voice in favor of the issue. Another high school student said that the legislators’ response to their comments was “very much.” They were more interested in the legislators than in the student body’s position.

About 800 students from throughout the state gathered in Albany on Thursday to protest plans to increase regis-

Students Protest Appearance of Chase Manhattan Recruiter

A gathering of angry students presented the appearance of a Chase Manhattan recruiter at the placement office as a protest against the bank’s handling of potential employees.

The recruiter, Mr. Edward Law, was expected to speak to the student body. His appearance was expected to be followed by a demonstration. The bank handles the State Dormitory System, and the state college system has asked for permission to use the dormitory system in their recruitment efforts.

Senators of the state legislature have been contacted by the bank to request their assistance in the recruitment efforts.
The Sioux, some wearing their complaints on them because (am­round the town. The gang had "false imprisonment", not mur­der.

The prime minister said on her return Sunday that the violence stemmed from the murder of the President and the prime minister’s cousin, the head of the President’s family, by a "false imprisonment".

The agency said the victims belonged to the Front for Democracy of Yemen and were killed in a gunfight. The victims were said to be the same, according to the agency.

The prime minister said on her return Sunday that the violence stemmed from the murder of the President and the prime minister’s cousin, the head of the President’s family, by a "false imprisonment".

"I'm sick and tired of reading that when a patient is in solitary confinement, some have been forced to wear urine-soaked clothes and others no clothes at all. I lie­ dentially retarded be declared violations of patients’ con­ditions at the Willowbrook State school for live­ mentally retarded."

"Thanks to Gordon’s Community Action Center and the SUNYA Rhetoric and Public I…"

"We won • but not completely, to the prosecutor, the mayor of Gordon’s Community Action Center and the SUNYA Rhetoric and Public I…"

"We won • but not completely, to the prosecutor, the mayor of Gordon’s Community Action Center and the SUNYA Rhetoric and Public I…"

"We won • but not completely, to the prosecutor, the mayor of Gordon’s Community Action Center and the SUNYA Rhetoric and Public I…"
The IRA Are the People

By George Colman

The IRA is not the people. The IRA is not the Irish people. It is not the Irish who are engaged in a struggle against the British in Northern Ireland. It is the IRA who are engaged in a struggle against the British. The IRA is a political organization which has a membership of approximately 20,000. It is a paramilitary organization which has a membership of approximately 500. It is a terrorist organization which has a membership of approximately 10. It is a group of men who are engaged in a struggle against the British in Northern Ireland. The IRA is not the people. They are not engaged in a struggle against the British. They are engaged in a struggle against the British. The IRA is not the people. They are not engaged in a struggle against the British. They are engaged in a struggle against the British. The IRA is not the people. They are not engaged in a struggle against the British. They are engaged in a struggle against the British. The IRA is not the people. They are not engaged in a struggle against the British. They are engaged in a struggle against the British.

---

Solidarity with South Africans

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my solidarity with the South African students who are fighting for their freedom. I believe that the students of South Africa are fighting for a just and democratic society. I support their struggle for justice and equality.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]

---

The Big Apple

By Richard H. Shwed

The South African government has a policy of apartheid which they call "separate development." This policy is designed to keep the black population separate from the white population. It is based on the idea that black and white people should not interact with each other and that they should have separate schools, hospitals, and other facilities. This policy has been in effect since 1948 and has led to a great deal of suffering and violence.

---

Bad Air at Denby's

By Bob Green

Denby's, a popular restaurant in New York City, has been cited for violations of health code regulations. The violations include unsanitary conditions in the kitchen and improper handling of food.

---

Never Engaged in Defense

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my opposition to the use of military force by the United States in the Middle East. I believe that the United States should not be engaged in military operations in that region.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]
The Dope On Grass

The President's National Commission on Marihuana and Drug Abuse announced last week that its final report will be entitled "Marihuana: A Signal of Societal Dysfunctions." The full text of the report written by approximately 150 pages and will be available from the Government's printing office in Washington, D.C. The commission expects to distribute the report to various groups of interest in the coming weeks.

The report will be released in the public during a press conference in Washington Wednesday afternoon. Assistant Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, Sidney P. Marland, Jr., will introduce the commission's findings, and representatives of various organizations will discuss the report's implications.

The commission's findings are based on extensive research and analysis of available data on marihuana and its effects on society. The report examines the medical, social, and legal implications of marihuana use, and offers recommendations for policy makers and the public.

The commission's report is expected to be widely discussed and debated in the coming weeks, as policy makers and the public grapple with the issues raised by marihuana use.
Spring is a time to forget your bad encounters with the recent past, cherish those precious happy moments, and look forward to a better summer.

The past two semesters have not been without tragedies and discouragements. We have witnessed and protested the happenings at ATTICA. Our tuition and fees were skyrocketed without our slightest approval and an airline crash missed our university by 2 miles and killed 16 passengers while Doc Sauers received the NCAA's verdict.

Life is not without its ecstatic moments either. After three long years of waiting Jon Guttman finally got the chance to "vomit" Burney Fowler at the recent telethon - and missed. Our young football club improved significantly and our huskers were unbeaten at home. We have also witnessed the placement of Women's Liberation, Gay Liberation, Sweetfire, and Grassroots in the same room.

As for the future, look forward to days when the campus fountain will overshadow your study schedule. Perhaps you will meet a new friend on the podium, as the warmth of spring seems to slow our pace and allow us to enjoy and dream. Better days are ahead, or so they say.

THINGS WE LIKE TO FORGET

THINGS WE HOPE TO SEE
Photos by Steven Pollack

Schaeffer Brewers Edge N.J. All-Stars

By Bruce Magle

Saturday night semi-pro basketball took over the university gym as the Albany State-Albany
Brewers edged the New Jersey All-Stars, 133-111.

The game was a wide open affair. Both teams displayed minor league basketball and major league hoop is team work. The main difference between minor league basketball and minor league basketball is teamwork. The balance of the game was 42 times the ballplayers would chuck the ball through the lane.

The Brewers were able to inch their way to the second half even through Kramer fouled his decide. The New Jersey and the Schaeffer winning combination was to be the difference in the final half.

Brewers Leading 122-117, Wilbur Green made a three pointer with the ball from the two or three through the lane. Brewer ball players were hampered by Kramer's foul rating and the All-Stars were able to gain a 32-30 halftime advantage led by the New outside shooting of players from Schaeffer and Phi Delta. Schaeffer led the ball game with 40 points while Kramer was limited to 12. Both teams were concerned that the officials would not let the ball players do their job. In the second half, both teams played exciting fast moving ball basketball. Brewer's of the many fouls, these were conservative but the officials were consistent. Wilbur Green led the Schaeffer backcourt and Phil Schoff. Schoff finished the second half with five personal fouls in the first half. However, the ballplayers did find a rhythm and a style. Kramer shot to bring New Jersey down to one. The All-Stars stole the ball from the Krome and followed it with a fast break. Kramer before the night ended with two points with six seconds to get New Jersey down the road.

The Brewers threw the ball to a field contracts and found a racing pilot under the basket and the New
Brewers edged the New Jersey All-Stars
Saturday. There was no tendency to hold. Harris, Kramer, and brewer preceded a drive. The ballplayers wanted a drink, they had to run to the edge of the gym during time outs. However, the game ended before the final matching and setup the left the gym feeling that it was a worthwhile cause and worth, the price of admission.

Attention Fraternities

CENTRAL BEER & SODA CORP.

1330 Central Ave. 459 - 3483

around the corner from campus
(below Fuller Road)

All Popular Brands Of Beer & Soda
At Discount Prices
In Bottles & Cans

- keg beer in stock
  Bud - Bal - Piels - Schoafer - Carling
top equipment available

Attention Sororities

Charity Tilt Here Friday

Lawmakers oppose 1.6

By Bruce Magle

Friday night March 21 at 8:15
basketball returns to the university gym as the Harlem Laugh-In and the Albany State facility and staff clash in a game for charity.

The Game sponsored by the Albany State Projects to prevent blinding eye committee. This is an organization which they would otherwise quaify. Specifically, the proposed legislation would end the NCAA's controversial "1.6 rule"
• has had the rap for being bush

• Lawmakers oppose 1.6
"1.6 rule" myth.
• schools which do not require en-

• ABA player.
• the lack of an admissions test
• school districts.
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• which they would otherwise qua-

• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
• the lack of an admissions test
• entering freshmen to take the Scho-

• has had the rap for being bush

• of scholastic admission standards.
MAKING MUSICALS

Personal production awaits
Luncheon on family musical "Mary Poppins"

The musical is about a nanny who aids 2 children in overcoming their fears and anxiety.

The performance will be to take place on March 23rd,
at 2 pm in the East High School Auditorium.

AND NOW A WORD FROM OUR CREATOR:

NOTES ON RIDDLE HALL

Riddle Hall is a historical site that opened in 1897 as a residence for women students.

It is now a dormitory and the home of many students.

PAGE 14

ALBANY UNIVERSITY PRESS

MARCH 21, 1972

ALBANY STUDENT PRESS

PAGE 10

ALBANY UNIVERSITY PRESS
Birth of a Coffee House

Over the past few years Albany has been becoming a major residence for poets, and artists. Baxter's has facilities for cafe is a place for Albany talent to exhibit their art. Baxter's has been becoming a major residence for poets, and artists. Various small, obscure places have sprung up as materials, but there has not been a cohesive gathering place for the kind of place that is Baxter's. Baxter's is at 810 Madison Ave., between Ontario and Quail, just behind the while building across the street. Baxter's has facilities for poets to read, musicians to play, and events to exhibit their art. This Tuesday Baxter's presents John Lipman from his successful

Cinema
Good and Cheap

by Stephen Ansell

The best eyes around this campus had the opportunity to catch some good cinema for the money last Friday night. Besides Fellini's part three of his famous trilogy, "Nights of Cabiria", which was being offered for free by the Italian America Alliance, the International Film Group lets you in on Robert Bresson's "Au Hasard Balthazar" for a quarter.

The story of a donkey (I kid you not) in a society who only knows to know how you can best serve it. Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. As he puts it, "in a world where one speaks the language of cinema, there are no dialogue, but rather music and gaps. In all cinema, one finds everything we look for in words." Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. But in the dialogue Bresson's style is quite good. As he puts it, "in a world where one speaks the language of cinema, there are no dialogue, but rather music and gaps. In all cinema, one finds everything we look for in words." Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. But in the dialogue Bresson's style is quite good.

The story of a donkey (I kid you not) in a society who only knows to know how you can best serve it. Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. As he puts it, "in a world where one speaks the language of cinema, there are no dialogue, but rather music and gaps. In all cinema, one finds everything we look for in words." Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. But in the dialogue Bresson's style is quite good.

The story of a donkey (I kid you not) in a society who only knows to know how you can best serve it. Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. As he puts it, "in a world where one speaks the language of cinema, there are no dialogue, but rather music and gaps. In all cinema, one finds everything we look for in words." Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. But in the dialogue Bresson's style is quite good.

The story of a donkey (I kid you not) in a society who only knows to know how you can best serve it. Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. As he puts it, "in a world where one speaks the language of cinema, there are no dialogue, but rather music and gaps. In all cinema, one finds everything we look for in words." Bresson was never overly a writer at treating dramatical dialogue. But in the dialogue Bresson's style is quite good.
Albany Symphony-Needs Work

By Andy Pate

I will say it loud and now that the Albany Symphony is on the bear. I gave them last night at the Palace Theater a few of the things I have seen and heard in the past few weeks. I am afraid the Albany Symphony is not ready to perform. I was seated in the back row, but it didn't bother me. I can still hear the music. The orchestra was very effective, but it lacked the spirit of the music. The sound was flat and dull. The musicians seemed to be just going through the motions. The conductor, George Szell, was good, but the orchestra was not up to par. I hope they improve in the future.

---

A Pint of Pinter

By Michael Lipman

Gas and fumes were present in the room where the play was being performed. The actors were wearing masks and breathing through tubes. The play is set in a laboratory and the actors are experimenting with gases. The play is very much like Pinter's style of writing. The actors are trying to find the perfect formula for a new gas. The play is very experimental and the actors are constantly trying new things. The play is very entertaining and the audience was very much into it. The play is a must-see for anyone who is a fan of Pinter's work.

---

Fight for Sight Charity Basketball Game

Friday, March 24 at 8:15 PM

IN THE SUNYA GYM

PROCEEDS GO TO FIGHT BLINDNESS

Harlem Laugh-Ins vs. Albany State Faculty/Staff

Albany State, led by Prof. Fred Cohen, who was a star at Temple and still holds NCAA record of 36 rebounds in a single game...

---

Dance Troupe To Perform Here

JOSE LUNON has been called "one of the Giants of the Modern Dance." - "A Column," He and company have taken their show to Boston - Washington - Brussels - Amsterdam - Belgrade - Lisbon - Mexico City. Here in Albany.../Above: Blue Moon (left) and, below, Red Moon. // Upper right: The Dancers of Jana. Below: The Dancers of Jana.// Upper right: The Dancers of Jana. Below: The Dancers of Jana.
The Delaney and Bonnie trio consisted of Frank Taylor and two women. In every show, they sang easy songs with rather vague and their way of speaking and then it seemed to be the season of change was finally here. The scene was set for things to get bold and exciting.

The stage was a vast expanse of darkness, punctuated by a single spotlight. The anticipation was palpable. Delaney, Bonnie, and Taylor were known for their soulful harmonies and their ability to connect with their audience in a way that few others could. Tonight, they were ready to take it to the next level.

Delaney and Bonnie began with a soulful rendition of a classic. The crowd was captivated as they held the passion and emotion of the song. The spotlight shone brightly on them, creating a stained-glass effect as it filtered through the windows. The audience was on the edge of their seats, wanting more.

The second song was a powerful, political piece. Delaney, in particular, had a knack for writing songs that spoke to the realities of the times. Tonight, his message was clear and direct. The song was met with a rapturous reception, and the crowd erupted in applause.

The third song was a lighthearted, upbeat number. Delaney and Bonnie had a way of making even the most serious of topics seem approachable and relatable. It was a perfect palate cleanser after the intensity of the previous song.

The crowd was in a euphoric state, and the energy was contagious. Delaney and Bonnie knew how to work a crowd, and they did so with skill and precision. They moved back and forth across the stage, engaging with each other and with the audience in equal measure.

The final song of the evening was a haunting, slow ballad. Delaney's voice was once again the star, carrying the weight of the song and the weight of the world on his shoulders. The crowd was silent as they listened, moved and moved with the story he was telling.

And then, just as suddenly as they had appeared, they were gone. The spotlight dimmed, and the audience was left to ponder the impact of the night. Delaney and Bonnie had left them with a sense of hope and inspiration, a reminder that even in the darkest of times, there is always a way forward.