Sophs Surprise in Swim Meet

Students Respond Wholeheartedly to Marching Song

Joe B. Tatum, state swimming champion, who was chosen as the parade marshal last fall at the time of the homecoming parade, had no idea that the state swimming team would have anything to do with the annual swim meet.

The Kappa Delta Kappa, the women's honor society, had planned a Marching Song for the occasion and the swimming team was asked to join in the chorus. The state team members were given a week to prepare for the song.

The song was chosen as the state team entered the pool and they were cheered loudly. The song was well received by the audience and it was sung to the delight of all.

“30” for 1945

At the end of a 30-year period of writing a newspaper and trying to keep up with events on the campus, one is somewhat relieved to know that there will be no more deadlines, no more trips to type in or to Haverford, no more trying to get the truth out; that the memory of the past will remain but the future will be a blank slate. Only the past is a reality; the future is a dream. The past is the actual background for the future and the possibility for the past.

Looking Forward

By VIRGINIA MCGILL

In a day and age of atomic energy, war, and other problems, one is still able to get a hold of the fundamentals of the world. The fundamental of the world is the idea of our country. If the fundamentals of our country are in order, the fundamentals of the world will be in order. The fundamental of our country is the idea of democracy. If our country is democratic, the world will be democratic. The fundamental of democracy is the idea of the free press. If the press is free, the country will be democratic. The establishment of a free press is the establishment of freedom. If we have freedom, we have democracy. If we have democracy, we have the fundamentals of our country. If we have the fundamentals of our country, the world will be a better place to live in.
