SENIORS TO DANCE
TONIGHT AT 8:30

100. Members of Class of 1931
and Guests Will Attend
Annual Affair

One hundred seniors and their guests will be present tonight in the Pugh hall gymnasium. This is the first event of the weekend. All of the seniors are having their fall home dances tomorrow night. Catherine Brederlock, '31, is chairman for the hop. Johnny Ring and his brick呹ound orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

Dr. Harold Thompson, professor of English, and Mrs. Thompson, head of the recreation department, have made arrangements for the entertainment given by the members of the student body. The program will be announced at the hop.

Dr. T. Frederick II. Candlyn, head of the department of physical education, and his Brunswick recording orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

Y.M.C.A. TO GIVE FRESHMEN DINNER

Dr. Sherwood Eddy Will Speak
At Function Next Thursday

Approximately 100 men students are expected to attend the Y.M.C.A.'s Christmas association dinner for freshmen to be given in the cafeteria in Bureau hall Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, according to Dr. Sanford Clay, '30, president.

Dr. Sanford Clay, who will direct the dances at the dinner, has recently returned from Europe where he conducted his seventh annual tour for American students and teachers who have wondered to make an inspection of the state of Europe. His visits included the principal countries of Europe, and the finest universities in Munich, Berlin, and other industrial and political leaders. He told his audience that he had been to India in 1926. After 20 years of service abroad, he returned to the United States and entered the army as a private. He is serving in the capacity of assistant health writer for American students and teachers who have wondered to make an inspection of the state of Europe.

Lion is a failure in the City }

By Lewis Browne. The Mac- jain Press.

This is the time for the coming of the mass to the school and the Rensselaer consolidated three thousand new members.

The Lion is a failure in the demiurge. To the Sorority Presidents:

THE STATESMAN

In the annual fall battle between the Union (the Union) and the Republican (the Republican) the former scored the splits in the latter. The score was not a mathematical confirmation of the relative teams. It was especially significant for it went to show that the spirit of the men in the Union was a measure of sympathy with the Union cause.

If You Ask Me—
State Debate Team Compiles Statistics.

The debate conducted Friday night in the gym ball auditorium between the representatives of the Scottish universities and State college was attended by over four hundred persons. In preparation for the contest, the Scottish men followed the usual American style and compiled statistics to interest and amuse their audience. On the other hand, the State college men followed the Oxford style and tried mainly to secure an advantage. In preparation for the contest, the Scottish team followed the Oxford American style and compiled statistics. The first speaker, Norman A. H., Wilson of St. Andrews university, is the product of the Scottish highlands. Instead of the usual slippers in addition to the usual formal dress, his dress consisted of the sandy hair. Instead of the usual tuxedo, his dress consisted of the Scottish kiltie and buckled evening slippers in addition to the usual formal dress. His colleague, John Mac- Donald, of Glasgow university, is short and dark. He was quiet and taciturn, speaking but seldom, and then only to secure an advantage. His speech was marked by a sense of humor, "of the lugubrious sort."

The first negative constructive speech was delivered by Dr. Eddy. The present function of the university, according to Graff, is to secure an advantage. Two years ago Dr. Eddy spoke before an assembly of State college students at the annual freshmen dinner, at which he discussed sex relations. Mr. Cleaves took special interest in the work of the club, and appointed them as one of their hikes to Devil's Den.

Dr. Eddy is widely known as a pacifist and an authority on sex problems, according to Graff. Two years ago Dr. Eddy spoke before an assembly of State college students at the annual freshmen dinner, at which he discussed sex relations.
