PLEASURE

When you're out for pleasure

...and tie up to Chesterfields...
you find a cigarette

that has refreshing mildness

...a taste that smokers like

...a pleasant aroma.

Mild ripe tobacco—home-grown and aromatic Turkish —and pure cigarette paper—
the best ingredients a cigarette can have... that's why Chesterfields give you more pleasure.

A little white book no one can the silence of the death of Robert Cogger Saul Greenwald Otto J. Howe Business Manager ROBERT E. HERTWIG

Published every Friday of the college year by the News Board representing the Student Association Nước ADVKRTISINO IV THE NEWS BOARD

When we were home for vacations this year, we were introduced to a remarkable system of lecture and debate. The debates were on a variety of topics, from the economy to international relations. We found the discussions engaging and informative. It was a refreshing change from the usual school activities.

The system was intended to bring the students into contact with the outside world. It was a great disappointment to us. The performance was not what we had hoped for. The speakers were not up to our expectations.

The system was a failure. It did not produce the expected results. We believe that the system was not well-planned. It was a waste of time and effort.

We hope that the university will consider other options for improving the educational experience of its students. We suggest that the university consider a more balanced mix of lecture and practical experience.

The only result of the present system is that the students are not being adequately prepared for the real world. The system is not motivating the students to learn.

It is our hope that the university will consider other options for improving the educational experience of its students. We suggest that the university consider a more balanced mix of lecture and practical experience.
