The Fall sports season has drawn to a close and the aura of sports fanatics are turning to the hardwoods as the 1962-63 State basketball season gets underway tomorrow. For the Purple and Gold open their season on the road at Pace College tomorrow night. The team, whose biggest problem according to coach Dick Sauers, is “inexperience,” will be under last year’s squad. To date, however, the team has been unable to net last year’s victorious performance.

Are We Proud of This?

Hiding in one of the darker corners of this university is a cafeteria. We realize that we were the most "unreliable" very loosely, but we believe this is somewhat.

The condition of the cafeteria in one of the most

The floors are always filthy; the food is far from exceptional; the coffee is far from average; and the crowding is close to complete.

In addition, it is very doubtful that any major effort has been made to exterminate the rodents which inhabit the cafeteria floors.

These are white mice.

The college is rarely kept open for the full number of hours stipulated in the contract which, in theory, controls its operation.

There are no napkins dispensers in two of the four popular areas. Two of the three snack machines, the "well-equipped" are empty by 9:00.

Two of the rooms, the tables are placed too close together. In the other two, there are round tables and booth of the variety necessary in a very long waiting.

The worst waste space is in the "Cavie" because of the rows of empty seats and the accumulations.

Another big problem is the absence of a ventilating system. Certainly something could be done. We suggest that a hammer be purchased. This is the ideal tool for the job. It can be used to open all the windows about a hand window if the windows have been permanently closed since the last ventilation period (back in the early 1960s), it can be used to break every window in with a felt brush or a right count according to the political biasings of the maintenance engineer who performs the tasks.

There are also complaints about the menus. No one knows what kind of jelly will accompany his meal. the student is able to use as fast as possible any food he demands in his hands in the theory and practice of the cafeteria system.

A lot of us have said that New University has already been expressed. They are especially the subscribers, is this coming Monday.

One in all, we suggest that such necessary conditions should be obtained. We know the weekly newsletter is not always a great deal of trouble, but it is important to keep our readers aware of the problems that are being faced.

Eric Von Stroheim's

Greed

In this film, a middle-aged writer returns to his native town after many years. He is invited to join the city's literary club, which he accepts gratefully. However, he soon realizes that the club is more interested in appearances than substance. He begins to question the motivation of the club members and their dedication to literature.

However, that would prove awkward, as the ultimate conclusion could be that the conclusion could tie just as well.
