A Vote Well Placed...

Today, you can vote Americanizing for and elect next year's RA officers. Let's see our young men pass on our ideas to the other students. The RA are a good idea here and the only way to get them into the system is to vote. This is a real debate in putting those most capable into the student government, but you should be uppermost in your mind. You've been wanting a more efficient student government so here's your chance to make it possible.

A Job Well Done...

Hail to Student Council and the board for their spectacular and sincere recommendations presented to the Administra­tion. They have again done a job properly and thoroughly in the interest of the students. These recommendations were made by two of the Administra­tions, who expressed pleasure at the good work done. The Administra­tion has had a bad year and it's only fair that they meet with the recommendations of the Student Council, as they have been said to do so in the Rules of the Board.

A Day Well Spent...

This is an excellent day. The weather is beautiful and there are activities for all. We have this opportunity to see the activities of the next year, in action. Do not miss this opportunity to see them work and thereby develop a better student government. The activities of this year have been successful, but it is only fair that we should now support the activities of the next year. The activities of this year have been well organized and well financed, and they should be equal to those of the next year. Do not let this opportunity pass by you.
