The Outside World

By the Bystander

"But I am much bigger than you," said the Elephant Convalescent Home. "I have grown much bigger since I was last here."

The Donkey, who was tiny by comparison, was alarmed. "What have you been doing?"

"I have been resting," said the Elephant Convalescent Home. "I have been getting well."
Drought At Dippikill...

In 1966, members of the Student Association voted to purchase a college campsite six miles north of Athens, called Dippikill. The name—'Dippikill—the name it has unofficially been giving itself—is an irregularity in spelling. Since that time, a Camp Board composed of students and faculty members has worked to plan, publicize and promote the campsite. Some work has been done at Dippikill; chiefly the evacuation of an old farm house which was the property. Since purchase, a very small amount of work has been accomplished, as the group is finding that there is some time to plan before the trip.
