We have taken upon ourselves to pass judgment on the fraternities in general. If this happens, maybe not see any drunks on the front steps of a particular fraternity in favor of their new group. Fortunately, most of the men will show their maturity by realizing that they are responsible and that the time has come for them to take a substantial part in the life of the university, which is one of the criteria for their worth.

The person who donates the most will receive the most. This may not be true in other categories.

We must be careful in making recommendations on what the university should live up to the promises of the past. The fraternities have been asked to help with the work of the Student Senate. The recommendations are entirely voluntary.
In the long run, my political positions are notional. I he political positions I take today may be changed tomorrow. What remains the same is my dedication to the welfare of others and my commitment to making the world a better place.

Happiness is not a warm puppy or a climbing tree. It is peace, security, being loved and being loved—It can be grasped but not held; it can be glimpsed but never known, and the search brings unsought pleasures to the seeker.

It is though we walk down a long street. We are looking for happiness. But happiness is mounted on a swift steed and we must follow on foot. The rider seems to beckon and wait—but then charges quickly. I follow her, but my way is passed by singing things—lives, men, dreams, and the wayside is lined with those who need and those who have much, those who believe and those who doubt, those who will and those who will not.

And so I pause in my quest and look about. To go on is futile. The road ahead braves but more of the same. And for what shall I go?—shall we ever be able to catch the horseman unless I can bring with me all that I have and those who can but will not. Then I have brought all and the wayside is lined with those who need and those who have much, those who believe and those who doubt, those who will and those who will not.

So I stop. I speak to the child by my side. "Let us go find a warm puppy and a climbing tree. It will all come with us."

Cerrá Wants Committee Change
To Increase Senate's Efficiency

The following is the platform of Patrick Cerrá, chairman for President and First Vice President.

As a candidate for the highest office of the student government, I understand the importance of the role. It is my responsibility to create a positive atmosphere in the future for student government.

To increase Senate’s efficiency,
I believe we must change the current organization of the Senate.

Cerrá said the Senate is too complicated and ineffective.

The new structure would be an executive branch and a legislative branch.

The executive branch
would be made up of the Senate President, First Vice President, and Second Vice President.

The legislative branch
would be made up of the Senate and the Committee of Conferring.

The Senate President would be the leader of the Senate.

First and Second Vice Presidents would serve as liaisons to the Senate.

The Committee of Conferring
would be made up of the Senate and the Committee of Conferring.

The Committee of Conferring
would be responsible for implementing Senate policies.

If the current Senate is inadequate, it is our responsibility to create a new Senate.

As a student, I am interested in the future of the student government.

I believe the Senate should be restructured to increase its efficiency.

I urge the Senate to consider changing its organization to improve efficiency.

Through conferences and meetings, I believe we can create a more effective Senate.

I support the following platform:

1) To assume the duties of the Senate President.

2) To serve as a non-voting
member of the Senate.

3) To serve as a non-voting
member of the Senate.

The Reorganization Committee has suggested Bicameral Legislative, Other Changes

The Reorganization Committee, a student group composed of a new campus, was formed following last week’s general meeting to discern the germinating concern present Student Government of a new and more efficient system.

Picket Line at Ten

In a few short weeks, State University will no longer be a new campus, but a new system where the President is a new President and a new campus.

New President

In the beginning, it was decided to have a new President to take charge of the State University and Canada.

The President will be a man of the people, but not exactly. He will be a man of the campus, and he will not be a man of the people’s will.

This later became known as Pickett’s Charge.
