Paul Hornbach Gains All-American Status

Eighth Place Finish In Nationals Enough For Dane

Facing Tough Competition, Spikers Fare Well

SA Election Cover-Up
Presidential Ballot Fixing Claimed
Newmark Kept In Dark;
Her Advisors Conspired;
Alleged Ballot Stuffer Denies: ‘Only Joking’

Facing tough competition in the Adirondack League, the Albany State volleyball team narrowly missed a playoff spot this weekend. (Photo: Dave Ascher)

Albany's premier wrestler, Paul Hornbach, despite injuring his knee in the SUNYAC's, finished the match, losing 7-5. The match may have been partly due to Albany's weak performance as the team had no choice but to switch over from the B-Bracket to the A-Bronze Tournament. (Photo: Dave Ascher)

Hornbach studied the SUNYAC's prior to the tournament and decided: "I figured it would be my last prank." So, Albany had begun its quest towards a tournament victory. (Photo: Dave Ascher)

But you won't hear much about hornbach's new position as election commissioner as McFarland has replaced 15 voles for the position, according to Newmark. (Photo: Dave Ascher)

When asked if he gave Davis the information that Newmark had backed out at the very last minute, Davis agreed to sit on Indian Quad along with some Ward supporters. Neither Davis nor Murphy abou what they knew, but we calmed him down and began to talk rationally. (Photo: Dave Ascher)
Daytona's Daughter Visits

BY LORRAINE BATES

Daytona's Daughter, the new Sunday feature in the Campus Times, is directed by the Fiction Editor, Mrs. Beatrice Jones. Mrs. Jones is a successful author in her own right, having published several novels and short stories. She is also a noted poet and essayist. The feature is named after Mrs. Jones' daughter, Daytona, who is a noted scientist in the field of microelectronics.

Central Council Replacement Election Results

Dutch Quad: (1 Opening)
Marybeth Lorch: 81 Votes
Jay Gassen: 47
Craig Wernstein: 33

Off-Campus: (3 Openings)
Jay Gassen: 47
Craig Wernstein: 33
Jean Fasen: 30

Student-Faculty Committee Formed

A new committee has been formed by the Central Council to address the concerns raised by the replacement election results. The committee will consist of five members from the Dutch Quad and three members from Off-Campus. The role of the committee will be to review the election process and make recommendations for future elections.

Professor Pro. Dismissal Evaluated

O'Leary Appoints 18 to Committee

By Susan Miller

The SUNY team in Albany has formed a new committee to evaluate the dismissal of Professor Pro., a faculty member at SUNY. The committee, which includes 18 members, will be chaired by President O'Leary and will conduct a thorough investigation of the case. The committee will make recommendations to the SUNY Board of Trustees on the future of the professor and the institution.

World Capsules

Bovett List Expanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration, which has received a number of gifts from the American Ambassadors, is expected to release its expanded list of gifts to the American Ambassadors. The list is expected to include a number of gifts from the Ambassadors to the administration.

Seminar for Kids

When did all these kids come from? You know, kids are kids. And if you can use the resources that are already here and not just bring more people into the area, that's great. The SUNY team in Albany has formed a new committee to evaluate the dismissal of Professor Pro., a faculty member at SUNY. The committee, which includes 18 members, will be chaired by President O'Leary and will conduct a thorough investigation of the case. The committee will make recommendations to the SUNY Board of Trustees on the future of the professor and the institution.

Student-Faculty Committee Formed

A new committee has been formed by the Central Council to address the concerns raised by the replacement election results. The committee will consist of five members from the Dutch Quad and three members from Off-Campus. The role of the committee will be to review the election process and make recommendations for future elections.

Faculty Grants Offered

Teaching assistants in world order studies will be awarded for the first time by the Institute for World Order Studies (IWOS). The grants, which support professors, will be awarded to faculty members who have demonstrated excellence in their teaching and research. The grants will be awarded based on the quality of the faculty members' publications, presentations, and other academic accomplishments.

Legislative Fellows Wanted

The New York State Senate Legislative Fellows Program is seeking qualified candidates with strong research skills and a commitment to the public interest. The fellows will work with the Senate's Office of Legislative Research to conduct research on a variety of issues. The program is open to both domestic and international students. Applications must be submitted by March 15.

Senate Internship Opportunities

The New York State Senate is offering a paid internship program for undergraduate and graduate students. The program is designed to provide students with hands-on experience in state government. The internship will be located in the Albany office of the Senate and will run from June 1 to August 31.

Gold Shines

The Sunco of Florida is said to be the latest addition to the list of universities accepting gold as payment. The decision was made after a survey of student preferences indicated a strong interest in gold as a form of payment.

Professor May Be Denied Tenure

By Edward J. Coursner

In an interview with the campus newspaper, Assistant Professor Pro. expressed concern over the possibility of losing his tenure status. The issue has sparked debate among faculty members, who are divided over the university's decision to grant tenure to Pro. The matter will be discussed at the next faculty meeting.
SA Election Cover-Up

Central Council Rep. Mike Williamson outlines committee purpose at meeting.

"It was a free election," said Vice Chair Brian Levy in mid-March, in response to questions about the recent SA election. "The election was conducted fairly, and the results were announced. We have to live with the outcome." Levy, a senior at the university, was one of the candidates for SA president in the recent election. "I think we all need to move on," he said. "We have other issues to address." Levy declined to comment on specific concerns about the election, citing his role as an elected official. "I think we need to focus on positive actions," he said. "We have a lot of work to do."
TOWER EAST CINEMA

ROCKY II

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

MARCH 14, 15

7:30 & 10:00 p.m. LC-7

$.75 w/tec card $1.25 w/out

Don’t get pregnant. Use Contra-Co6a.

I wasn’t planning to have with the pill in the 60s. 71 unnecessary Contra-Co6a.

WITH CONTRA-FOMA I

TWO ADDED SUPPLIES

ATTACHED APPLICATOR THEIRS.

IT’S THAT SIMPLE TO PREVENT PREGNANCY.

CONTRA-FORMA CONTAINS

COMPACTS WITHOUT

ADDED HORMONAL

SMALL JENNY, BUT IT

POCKET OR BODY

WIIHOUT PRESCRIPTION AT

LOCAL STORES.

Here’s to you and one hell of a good rooking to time tone. HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Love you,

February 28, 1980

ICARUS FURNITURE • 154 4TH ST., TROY • 274-2883

COMMUNITY BOX OFFICE, COLOMIE CENTER • 458-7530

PROCTORS BOX OFFICE • 377-5097

OREGON THEATRE

TICKETS ARE $6 AND $8

Available at:

• PROCTOR’S BOX OFFICE • 377-5997

• COMPANY BOX OFFICE, COLOMIE CENTER • 458-7530

• GARDEN THEATRE, CENTER • 458-7530

• SUNoco SQUARE • 585 BROADWAY • 585-4819

For Reservations and Information: 377-5997

An open letter to the University community:

The Albany Student Press is now developing a large supplement to be published in May reviewing the history of SUNYA (from a Teachers College in 1816 to the present)

The edition will attempt to encompass a complete perspective of the University. It will deal with the original plans, actualities, and failures of SUNYA; her youth, culture, groups, sports, and much more.

We feel that this information is important and useful knowledge for the entire academic community.

But we need your perspective, your insights, data, and knowledge.

In our attempt to capture every aspect that has molded SUNYA, we would like you to contact us if you have a contribution.

All information will be welcomed.

Please call Rich Becker at the ASP
457-3522/3389

or Tom Martello at 482-5788.

We’ll be looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Let’s all uncap a buried treasure!
What's Worth Dying For?

Andrew Brooks

As the world of America seems to come to grips with the question of what to do in the rest of the draft, the need for discussion of the individual and group moral and physical problems in the Vietnam war is more apparent.

One of the many pressing issues is the question of what is a worthwhile war or cause to fight for. This question is especially critical in the context of the draft, as quick to answer: "Nothing is worth dying for." From a moral perspective, nothing is worth making my life better.

But even reflection on the consequences of the action, one can see that there is a dangerous and crucial moral flaw. For, in Vietnam, Russia has found itself in a war of survival. In 1959, when a lack of cooperation on the part of the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

What is at stake here is the question of the future of the world. If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.

We must remember that, in the face of non-military aggression, no other course is feasible than an offensive "total war." If the U.S. government now because of its blunder in Southeast Asia, a situation developed there of no great seriousness, but, for the present, a threatening one. Russia's expansionist strategy.
The Student Notebook: Three shoes for the first will still shine. Make time to do it before the parade. Never again. "Peace: "a word 5/7/74. page 10.

The Student Notebook: Meeting makes you rear a down, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, front, fr
Watch Parking Meters
Bob O'Brien

The Girls on the Line
Sue Milligan

One From Column A
Conchita Rodriguez and Shirley Beams

As Time Goes By
Thomas Martello

Women In The Draft: Tomorrow's Soldier?

SUNY killed me. which is not to say that
I'm not going to harm
SUNY. Not uptown, when it was teacher's for, the SUNY bus?" I passed my several miles, away from the hospital. My wife was rearing up like a bison, there was no distract him. As If reading my mind, he turned his head, looked straight into my eyes. And I said, 'You shouldn't walk there.'

I'm an old man, I'm not going to harm
SUNY. Not uptown, when it was teacher's for, the SUNY bus?" I passed my several miles, away from the hospital. My wife was rearing up like a bison, there was no
distract him. As If reading my mind, he turned his head, looked straight into my eyes. And I said, 'You shouldn't walk there.'

SUNY killed me. which is not to say that
I'm not going to harm
SUNY. Not uptown, when it was teacher's for, the SUNY bus?" I passed my several miles, away from the hospital. My wife was rearing up like a bison, there was no
distract him. As If reading my mind, he turned his head, looked straight into my eyes. And I said, 'You shouldn't walk there.'

SUNY killed me. which is not to say that
I'm not going to harm
SUNY. Not uptown, when it was teacher's for, the SUNY bus?" I passed my several miles, away from the hospital. My wife was rearing up like a bison, there was no
distract him. As If reading my mind, he turned his head, looked straight into my eyes. And I said, 'You shouldn't walk there.'
The Last Refuge For Americans
NATIONALISM

A Report From The Nation

A recent study of 21st-century American identity found that Americans are more likely to identify with their country than with any other group or institution. This trend is consistent with a broader trend of nationalism, which has been on the rise in many countries around the world. The study also found that the concept of nationalism is more prevalent in the United States than in many other countries.

The study was conducted by a team of social scientists who interviewed a representative sample of Americans. The results showed that more than 90% of respondents identified with their country as their primary group, with only about 5% identifying with a religious or ethnic group. This is a significant increase from previous studies, which found that fewer than half of Americans identified with their country.

The study also found that the concept of nationalism is more prevalent among younger Americans. In fact, more than 90% of those aged 18-24 identified with their country, compared to about 80% of those aged 50 or older. This suggests that the concept of nationalism is gaining traction among younger generations.

The researchers suggest that the rise of nationalism in the United States is due in part to the increasing complexity of global politics and economics. As the world becomes more interconnected, people are looking for ways to connect with others who share similar values and beliefs. Nationalism provides a sense of community and belonging in an increasingly diverse world.

The study also found that the concept of nationalism is more prevalent among those who are more educated and have higher incomes. This suggests that nationalism is a middle-class phenomenon, and may be driven by a desire to protect one's economic and social standing in an increasingly competitive global economy.

Overall, the study provides insight into the rising trend of nationalism in the United States, and highlights the importance of understanding this phenomenon in order to better understand American identity.

Article
by
Sue Gerber
and Bath Kaye
with
Debby Wilson
A Masterpiece

Being There: No Static At All

The film, Being There, directed by Hal Ashby and based on the novel by Penelope Mortimer, is a satirical fable that deals with the nature of human nature and the role of the media in shaping society. The main character, Chance, played by Peter Sellers, is a bumbling limousine driver who is taken to be a philosopher by a financier's wife, played by Katharine Hepburn. The film explores themes of truth, power, and the media's role in society.

Jim Dixon

Jim Dixon makes the case that Being There is a far more coherent and satisfying film than the novel on which it is based. He argues that the film is a more successful adaptation of the novel, with a stronger sense of purpose and a more satisfying conclusion.

Underwood Editions

In the adaptation, Chance is portrayed as a clueless but well-meaning character, while in the novel he is a more complex and tragic figure. Dixon also notes that the film is more visually appealing, with a stronger sense of pacing and a more satisfying rhythm.

The ECG School of Jazz

The ECG School of Jazz is a Goldman Sachs foundation that supports jazz education and performance. The school has a strong commitment to preserving the history and culture of jazz, and it provides a range of programs and resources to support emerging jazz musicians.

Rube Cinque

Rube Cinque is a musician who is known for his innovative approach to jazz. He has been a member of the ECG School of Jazz faculty for several years, and he is a frequent performer at the school's annual jazz festival.

All That Jazz

All That Jazz is a book by Peter Guralnick that explores the history and culture of jazz. The book is a comprehensive overview of the genre, and it provides a detailed look at the lives and careers of some of the most famous jazz musicians.

Simon Says

Simon Says is a book by Phil Schaap that explores the life and career of the legendary jazz musician Louis Armstrong. The book is a detailed look at Armstrong's life and career, and it provides a glimpse into the world of jazz in the mid-20th century.

A New Chapter

A New Chapter is a book by Mark Rossier that explores the life and career of the legendary jazz musician Miles Davis. The book provides a detailed look at Davis's life and career, and it provides insight into the world of jazz in the late 20th century.

The Last Married Couple in America

The Last Married Couple in America is a book by Neil Simon that explores the lives of the main characters, George and Doris, a couple who have been married for 40 years. The book is a detailed look at their lives and the changes they have experienced over the years.
Graceful plumed ladies sliding down water; 'Neath the flowing tenes of an ancient woeer.

White on blue; Reflections distort the swan-like beauty.

Old tree full of wisdom spires distortion; And cries leaf tears into mirror lake.

— Nancy Dunlop

Drafting Women

Gentlemen interested in the women's participation in the drafting world should light a cigarette and relax while reading the following article. For years the struggle of women for employment in the drafting field has been fought. Finally, a momentous achievement has been made and today women can proudly call themselves Drafting Women. This article will give an insight into the world of drafting and its acceptance by the female gender.

The field of drafting has traditionally been dominated by men. However, in recent years a movement has been gaining momentum to include women in this profession. The National Association of Women Drafters (NAWD) has been at the forefront of this movement, advocating for equal opportunities and recognition for female drafters.

As drafting becomes more sophisticated, the need for diverse skills and perspectives becomes increasingly apparent. Women bring a unique perspective to the field, bringing a balance of experience and innovation to the profession. The inclusion of women in drafting not only benefits the industry but also empowers individuals and opens up new opportunities for their careers.

Incorporating women into drafting is a positive step forward, not only for the profession but also for society as a whole. It promotes gender equality, challenges traditional stereotypes, and fosters a more inclusive and dynamic work environment.

Trivia Time

1. Who wrote the musical score?
2. Buddy Ebsen
3. Who is the author of the novel?
4. Ford
5. What was the song's title?
6. "Working My Way Back To You"
7. Who directed the movie?
8. "The Sound of Music"
9. What did the main character do?
10. "My Fair Lady"

Billboard's Top Ten

1. "The Wind" (Paul Rodgers)
2. "She's Dead. You've Killed Her." (Deep Purple)
3. "Always" (Elton John)
4. "Crazy Little Thing Called Love" (Queen)
5. "Just A Stranger" (George Jones)
6. "Fun And Games" (Chuck Mangione-A & M)
7. "The Weight" (The Band)
8. "Way Out West" (Elton John)
9. "How Can You Mend A Broken Heart" (Paul McCartney)
10. "You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'" (The Righteous Brothers)

Concert Corner

J.B. Scott's
May 20
MT
May 21
MT
May 22
MT
May 23
MT
May 24
MT
May 25
MT
May 26
MT
May 27
MT
May 28
MT
May 29
MT
May 30
MT
May 31
MT

Kramer vs. Kramer
March 16
Early Times
March 17
East Side
March 18
Early Times
March 19
East Side
March 20
Early Times
March 21
East Side
March 22
Early Times
March 23
East Side
March 24
Early Times
March 25
East Side
March 26
Early Times
March 27
East Side
March 28
Early Times
March 29
East Side
March 30
Early Times
March 31
East Side

Events of the PAC

March 16
11:00 am
March 17
12:00 pm
March 18
1:00 pm
March 19
2:00 pm
March 20
3:00 pm
March 21
4:00 pm
March 22
5:00 pm
March 23
6:00 pm
March 24
7:00 pm
March 25
8:00 pm
March 26
9:00 pm
March 27
10:00 pm
March 28
11:00 pm
March 29
12:00 am
March 30
1:00 am
March 31
2:00 am

For That Is One Of the Powers Borrowed Upon Him By The Errant Beam Of Subatomic...
An apology for the bus company’s error to all involved with the State Quad Rafters trip on Saturday March 8.

‘We’re really sorry.’

State Staff.

Saturday • March 15 • 8-8 p.m.
FRONT ROW CENTER
Presents
A CLASSIC LIVE CONCERT BY Led Zeppelin
only on WCDB

ATTENTION!
ALL STUDENT GROUPS
Planning a sexuality program?
Advertise through the SRC...
speakers, pamphlets, and other resource materials are available for your use
Contact: The Sexuality Resource Center
115 Schuyler Hall, Dutch mon. • 12:00-6:00

MAD HATTER PARTY
Friday March 14th
Dutch Quad Penthouse
Featuring: Best in Rock, Disco, New Wave
Dance all night to Sounds from Incredible Music Systems
Mixed drinks, munchies

With a: Hat and Tax card $2.50
Hat or Tax card $2.75
As if you are $3.00

Proceeds go to TELETHON ‘80

Fight The Budget Cuts

But The Reality Of A Cover-Up Is No “Joke”

We urge you to read this front page and take it seriously. The issue at hand is a crisis that threatens the operation and survival of the student association and the future of its members. The failure to address this issue will be disastrous for the students of this university.

According to various sources, there has been a conspiracy to conceal evidence and cover up the alleged ballot frauds of last May’s election. The conspiracy involves high level SA officials who have been involved in the cover-up, and the election commissioner, who is being kept informed of the cover-up. The evidence obtained concerning Weinstock’s role in the cover-up is true, and the cover-up has been a systematic effort by high level SA officials to suppress the evidence and prevent the election commissioner from revealing it. The evidence obtained concerning Weinstock’s role in the cover-up is true, and the cover-up has been a systematic effort by high level SA officials to suppress the evidence and prevent the election commissioner from revealing it.

The immediate resignation of Craig Weinstock as SA election commissioner and the immediate resignation of Jim Castro-Blanco as SA president must be demanded. The failure to address this issue will be disastrous for the students of this university.

The immediate resignation of Craig Weinstock as SA election commissioner and the immediate resignation of Jim Castro-Blanco as SA president must be demanded. The failure to address this issue will be disastrous for the students of this university.

We urge you to read this front page and take it seriously. The issue at hand is a crisis that threatens the operation and survival of the student association and the future of its members. The failure to address this issue will be disastrous for the students of this university.
Danes 21-6 Season Is "Most Surprising"

Potsdam's Ed Jachim SUNYAC MVP

For the second straight season, head coach Mike O'Hara of SUNY Buffalo's Bill Hughes named SUNY Buffalo's Bill Hughes as the SUNYAC Coach of the Year. Jachim's senior year was his most productive, having led the Danes in scoring with 18.9 points per game and in rebounding with 8.3 rebounds per game. The Danes finished the season with a 17-2 record, including a victory over Division I school Buffalo, which turned the Bills around under head coach Jim Meyerdicks.

Jachim was a key player for the Danes, who finished third in the conference tournament and runner-up in the conference. His play allowed the Danes to compete with the best teams in the conference, including 17-2 against Division II opponents. His 68 percent free throw shooting and 56 percent field goal shooting were impressive highlights of his senior year.

Jachim's play was recognized with the SUNYAC MVP award, and he was named to the All-Conference team.

Graduation Regalia
(Caps and Gowns)

must be ordered no later than Friday, March 28
Before you leave for vacation
(thru the Follet Folletstore)

After this date the caps and gowns cannot be ordered through Follet.
Spikers Come Closer, But Fall To West Point

by Fred Schwartz

After the triple overtime game March 15 in which the Danes fell to West Point, 5-2, 14-15, 15-13, 15-7, 15-9, it seemed like the Danes would have to be content with a loss by one point. With no conference ties on the line, the Danes would have had to win the last game, and more. But the Danes, who had a 7-11 record at the time, were not about to let that happen. After the Danes had built an 11-7 lead in the fourth game, West Point was down, 15-13. But when Earl called the time out, 15-13, he instructed the Danes to call a time out after the next point. That is exactly what happened, and the Danes took a 15-14 lead. Earl explained how the Danes overcame the 11-7 deficit. "They shot a free ball to make it 15-14, and I told them to go out and attack from there on out. They always do it. I'm very happy with our team and our record," Earl said.

The Danes had built a 15-13 lead in the fourth game, but West Point came back to take a 15-14 lead. The Danes then took the lead back in the fifth game, 15-14, by playing a better game. "The Danes are a much better team than we are," Earl said. "They have been playing for several years, and we are only in our second year. I think we are going to be a lot better next year."

Although the Danes have a lot of work to do, they still believe they can make the playoffs. "We have a lot of work to do, but we are going to make it," Earl said. "I am very happy with our team, and I am looking forward to next year."

Albany Student Press

March 14, 1980
Swimmers SUNYAC Finish “Major Step Forward”

By Jeff Schaloff

The Albany State men’s swimming team was a "major step forward" according to coach Jeff Schaloff, who praised the team for their performance at the SUNYAC championships.

The team finished fourth in the conference, a significant improvement from last year. "We had a really good year," Schaloff said. "We were all happy with the outcome." The team qualified three swimmers for the NCAA championships, marking a significant breakthrough for the program.

Each day of competition included three races, and the team put in more practice than ever to ensure their success. "We put in a lot of hard work," Schaloff added. "It paid off." The team's hard work paid off, as they ended the season with a well-deserved fifth in the one-meter diving event.

With so many positive results, Schaloff is optimistic about the team's future. "We have a lot of potential," he said. "We're looking forward to next year." The team's success this year has set the stage for an even more successful season in the future.

SA Commission Ends Election Probe

Calls For Four Resignations

By Susan Million

The State Assembly (SA) Commission has ended its investigation of the recent SA election, following a thorough investigation of the recent SA election. Three former SA members — Borkowski, Schalsky, and Newmark — have agreed to resign from the commission.

Commission member Mike Williamson has recommended the resignation of three former SA members — Borkowski, Schalsky, and Newmark — who had their terms in the commission, following a thorough investigation of the recent SA election. Three former SA members — Borkowski, Schalsky, and Newmark — have agreed to resign from the commission.

"There was a consensus among the commission members that these three members should resign," Williamson said. "Their terms are coming to an end, and I think it’s the right thing to do." Williamson is recommending that the commission members resign, which he believes is in the best interest of the SA and the university.

"I have always had to force this loyalty to the organization," an opponent to "loyalty to the Individual," said Borkowski. "And Newmark won’t do it. I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization." Borkowski anticipates the refusal of the commission to accept his resignation, citing the need for his impartiality.

"We need an official who is not similar to the person with Title IX," Borkowski said. "I think it was a lie. Lisa knew what was going on. Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m upset," Newmark said. "But I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark added she is “upset” by Borkowski’s resignation and the commission’s decision. "I think it’s a mistake," she said. "I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization," Borkowski said. "And Newmark won’t do it. I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization." Borkowski anticipates the refusal of the commission to accept his resignation, citing the need for his impartiality.

"We need an official who is not similar to the person with Title IX," Borkowski said. "I think it was a lie. Lisa knew what was going on. Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m upset," Newmark said. "But I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark added she is “upset” by Borkowski’s resignation and the commission’s decision. "I think it’s a mistake," she said. "I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization," Borkowski said. "And Newmark won’t do it. I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization." Borkowski anticipates the refusal of the commission to accept his resignation, citing the need for his impartiality.

"We need an official who is not similar to the person with Title IX," Borkowski said. "I think it was a lie. Lisa knew what was going on. Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m upset," Newmark said. "But I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark added she is “upset” by Borkowski’s resignation and the commission’s decision. "I think it’s a mistake," she said. "I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization," Borkowski said. "And Newmark won’t do it. I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization." Borkowski anticipates the refusal of the commission to accept his resignation, citing the need for his impartiality.

"We need an official who is not similar to the person with Title IX," Borkowski said. "I think it was a lie. Lisa knew what was going on. Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m upset," Newmark said. "But I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark added she is “upset” by Borkowski’s resignation and the commission’s decision. "I think it’s a mistake," she said. "I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization," Borkowski said. "And Newmark won’t do it. I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization." Borkowski anticipates the refusal of the commission to accept his resignation, citing the need for his impartiality.

"We need an official who is not similar to the person with Title IX," Borkowski said. "I think it was a lie. Lisa knew what was going on. Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m upset," Newmark said. "But I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark added she is “upset” by Borkowski’s resignation and the commission’s decision. "I think it’s a mistake," she said. "I’m not going to make a snap decision on this matter. I’m going to do what I think is right for the organization." Newmark is not taking decisive action in this matter, and I think it’s time for him to step down."

"I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization," Borkowski said. "And Newmark won’t do it. I’m going to do what I think is right, even if it means going against the organization." Borkowski anticipates the refusal of the commission to accept his resignation, citing the need for his impartiality.