Danes Look To Regroup Against 4-4 Fordham

Two questions will be answered tomorrow at University Field when the Danes (4-5) and the Fordham Rams (4-4) meet for the last time of the season. The answer to the first one is a must. Can Albany regroup against a 4-4 Fordham? Can the Danes shake off last week's devastating loss to Ithaca, and perhaps most importantly, can they emerge from this game with a win? The answer to the second question is even more critical. This is it. This is the last chance for the Danes to get their season back on track and score a bowl game bid. The Danes are not true Division I-A schools and thus are not eligible for bowl games. A loss tomorrow would cement their status as a rebuilding team in the NCAA. If they win, they have a chance for a shot in the playoffs. This is why tomorrow's game is crucial.

The Danes originally had plans to face Ithaca, unlike Montclair, has a winning record this year. Montclair, who is 2-3-1, can still claim an Eastern spot in the NCAA from the southern section were tabbed to play their way into the playoffs.

A Dane rout of Fordham would practically be essential. It's helpful if you consider that if the Danes win tomorrow, they will be 5-5 on the season. This is significant because the Danes are the highest ranked team in the nation's third division. They are a team that plays well against the proof of this is their impressive wins over Rochester (26-12), Washington and Lee (27-15) and Seton Hall (10-0), but has also been defeated by Millersville, 48-7, and lost to Ithaca last week (27-23).

Mike Ford, Albany's head football coach, said that he will be fighting to get two teams into the playoffs. If you always have two teams in the playoffs, it's fair, yet still would make some people sad. With Albany absent from this season's NCAA playoffs, the team that finished fifth in the nation is out in the cold. Apparently out in the cold, if you say it, students at some SUNY's have been waiting a long time. The cause of SUNY Schools Curbing Student Booze Use.

Class Council Votes For Dues Hike

PERSPECTIVES

Class Council votes for dues hike

Class Council has voted to increase student fees for the 1980-81 academic year by $10 per student, according to Richard A. Mace, Class of '81, council president.

Mace said the increase will result in a total of $55,000 in additional revenue for the university student association, which will be used for a variety of student programs.

The increase will be implemented over the next three years, with the second year to be split between two categories of student fees.

Mace said the increase will help defray the cost of the university's auxiliary enterprises, which are currently subsidizing various student programs.

The increase will also help fund the university's annual budget, which is currently $9 million.

The increase will be implemented over the next three years, with the second year to be split between two categories of student fees.

The status quo of Russian troops in Cuba was established at least since the mid-1970s, even in the face of relative military weakness. We can hold up to Soviet blackmail, can we hold — and stand — if we undertake a vast buildup of our strategic military advantage? Does it mean that we are losing the political use of strategic superiority as an umbrage to the Soviet strength? A more forceful U.S. response will demonstrate the Russians' fundamental unbelief in the notion that all is well.

On June 18, 1979, President Carter and his delegation arrived in Havana for a three-day visit. The Cuban government organized, equipped, and trained its forces in preparation for the visit. Carter was formally greeted by a military band in a ceremony that marked the beginning of what would be a significant military advantage for Cuba. The visit was met with intense media coverage and debate, as the United States and Cuba continued to compete for strategic and political influence in the region.

The treaty is inequitable, allowing Moscow to leverage its superior strategic arms. It is a sign of appeasement and distraction of Americans from the real threat. The treaty is not in the best interests of the United States. It is a sign of appeasement and distraction of Americans from the real threat. Ohio State Slips Past Nebraska For Second Spot

(AP) Anderson's hold on the No. 3 slot of the AP Poll was never in doubt. The Buckeyes topped the 1,170-point mark for the first time since 1999, and Ohio State clamped Nebraska in a last-second win.

Ohio State's rank jumped from No. 4 to No. 3 in the latest AP Poll released Monday, joining No. 2 Alabama and No. 1 Tennessee. The Buckeyes, led by quarterback C.J. Stroud and running back TreVeyon Henderson, have won seven straight games, including a 21-13 win over Texas in the Big Ten title game. Stroud was 10 of 15 passing for 122 yards and a touchdown, while Henderson rushed for 234 yards and two scores.

The Associated Press college football poll narrowed Monday while Texas climbed from eighth to sixth. The Longhorns received 981 points for a 21-13 victory over Oklahoma State, which fell out of the top 10.

The Cougars were 11th a week after losing to Florida State, one of the nation's top 25 teams. Houston is now ranked 20th in the AP Poll, down from No. 18 last week.

The Chargers, 7-0 losers in the AFC West, are one game ahead of Cleveland — the Browns, 4-7, aren't wildcard candidates, and they're not in the national rankings. However, the Browns are on an upswing, having won three of their last four games.

The Second Ten consists of Pitt—Pittsburgh, a 49-14 winner over Akron while Tulane is 8-2 after two straight losses. The Owls are now ranked No. 20 in the AP Poll, up from No. 22 last week.

Late Heroes Lead Fordham Past Danes, 35-28

Ahead 21-0 At Halftime, Albany Falls To 2nd Loss

by Paul Schmitt

The game paralleled the Danes' season - a different experience of the 1979 NCAA Div. III Playoffs. Although they started well, their season, like the team itself, ground to a halt. After the offense was stifled, the defense lacked energy, and the team fell behind. The loss dropped the Albany State football team's record to 6-2. (Photo: Bob Leonard)
