In the depths of my memory I am left with the image of a small boy wanting to be a major league baseball player. I remember the feeling of excitement and anticipation that was generated by the story of the day and the idea of being a star. This feeling was further enhanced by the thought of being a part of the team's success. That was the only thing I was interested in. I remember the feeling of being a part of the team and the joy of being able to contribute to their success. The idea of being a part of the team's success brought a sense of pride and satisfaction.
