Basketball Season Sees KD, Phi Delt, Chi Sig Win

Newman, Phi Gam, BZ, Whit Kids Conquer

Table Tourney Nears Finish Of First Round

Time Schedules, Games Posted

Basketball Season Sees KD, Phi Delt, Chi Sig Win

during the past two months that played an important part in the lives of the College community, along with the usual pressure of final examinations. The regular season of basketball games has come to an end, and while the teams have not been able to win as many games as they would have liked, the season has been a success for both the players and the spectators.

The team of KD has been the most successful of the three, winning five games and losing only two. The Phi Delt team has also done well, with a record of four wins and three losses. Chi Sigma has struggled a bit, with only two victories and five losses.

The tourney has been a great success, with a total of 120 entries. The tourney will be completed within the next two weeks. The tourney is open to all students, and the winners will be announced shortly.

New Basketball Setup Efficiency WA A By-Yard Efficiency

As the basketball season comes to an end, preparations are already being made for the next season. The new basketball setup, which has been designed by the students, promises to be more efficient and effective.

The setup will include a new scoring system, which will make it easier for the teams to keep track of their scores. The new system will also eliminate the need for a scorekeeper, which will save time and money.

The new setup will also include a new system for awarding fouls, which will make it easier to enforce the rules of the game. The new system will also eliminate the need for a ref, which will save time and money.

The new setup is expected to be in place for the next season, and it is hoped that it will improve the overall quality of the game.
Eyes Right On Modern Books

Dr. Green Leaves For Advanced Study

Campus Commission Rules

Five Vacancies Filled In Faculty

College Calender

Service Council Invites Students To Conferences

The N. Y. Times Crime Commission has called "United" the crime organization's new name. "United" is a shortening of the word "unemployed," and the word was chosen after the group had been unable to find any work.

The group's new name was announced yesterday by Dr. Sophy Hess, who was graduated from the School of Journalism last spring. She is the author of the book "Forever Amber," which has been translated into several foreign languages.

Dr. Hess has been looking for a job ever since she graduated from college, but has been unable to find one. She has been in several communities to discuss her ideas, but has been unable to find any work.

The bulletin board will be held tomorrow night in the Lounge. The meeting will be open to all students.

The N. Y. Times Crime Commission has called "United" the crime organization's new name. "United" is a shortening of the word "unemployed," and the word was chosen after the group had been unable to find any work.

The group's new name was announced yesterday by Dr. Sophy Hess, who was graduated from the School of Journalism last spring. She is the author of the book "Forever Amber," which has been translated into several foreign languages.

Dr. Hess has been looking for a job ever since she graduated from college, but has been unable to find one. She has been in several communities to discuss her ideas, but has been unable to find any work.

The bulletin board will be held tomorrow night in the Lounge. The meeting will be open to all students.

The N. Y. Times Crime Commission has called "United" the crime organization's new name. "United" is a shortening of the word "unemployed," and the word was chosen after the group had been unable to find any work.

The group's new name was announced yesterday by Dr. Sophy Hess, who was graduated from the School of Journalism last spring. She is the author of the book "Forever Amber," which has been translated into several foreign languages.

Dr. Hess has been looking for a job ever since she graduated from college, but has been unable to find one. She has been in several communities to discuss her ideas, but has been unable to find any work.

The bulletin board will be held tomorrow night in the Lounge. The meeting will be open to all students.

The N. Y. Times Crime Commission has called "United" the crime organization's new name. "United" is a shortening of the word "unemployed," and the word was chosen after the group had been unable to find any work.

The group's new name was announced yesterday by Dr. Sophy Hess, who was graduated from the School of Journalism last spring. She is the author of the book "Forever Amber," which has been translated into several foreign languages.

Dr. Hess has been looking for a job ever since she graduated from college, but has been unable to find one. She has been in several communities to discuss her ideas, but has been unable to find any work.

The bulletin board will be held tomorrow night in the Lounge. The meeting will be open to all students.

The N. Y. Times Crime Commission has called "United" the crime organization's new name. "United" is a shortening of the word "unemployed," and the word was chosen after the group had been unable to find any work.

The group's new name was announced yesterday by Dr. Sophy Hess, who was graduated from the School of Journalism last spring. She is the author of the book "Forever Amber," which has been translated into several foreign languages.

Dr. Hess has been looking for a job ever since she graduated from college, but has been unable to find one. She has been in several communities to discuss her ideas, but has been unable to find any work.

The bulletin board will be held tomorrow night in the Lounge. The meeting will be open to all students.

The N. Y. Times Crime Commission has called "United" the crime organization's new name. "United" is a shortening of the word "unemployed," and the word was chosen after the group had been unable to find any work.

The group's new name was announced yesterday by Dr. Sophy Hess, who was graduated from the School of Journalism last spring. She is the author of the book "Forever Amber," which has been translated into several foreign languages.

Dr. Hess has been looking for a job ever since she graduated from college, but has been unable to find one. She has been in several communities to discuss her ideas, but has been unable to find any work.

The bulletin board will be held tomorrow night in the Lounge. The meeting will be open to all students.

The N. Y. Times Crime Commission has called "United" the crime organization's new name. "United" is a shortening of the word "unemployed," and the word was chosen after the group had been unable to find any work.

The group's new name was announced yesterday by Dr. Sophy Hess, who was graduated from the School of Journalism last spring. She is the author of the book "Forever Amber," which has been translated into several foreign languages.

Dr. Hess has been looking for a job ever since she graduated from college, but has been unable to find one. She has been in several communities to discuss her ideas, but has been unable to find any work.

The bulletin board will be held tomorrow night in the Lounge. The meeting will be open to all students.
STATE COLLEGE NEWS

FEBRUARY 6, 1946

VARSITY CAGERS OPEN ATTACK ON PAGE COURT AGAINST SIENA

BY MARY LOIS ELSTAD

Hathaway Trains Returning Vets

In Wednesday opener Hathaway's varsity athletes met with the returning veterans and were given a few pointers in preparation for their big game against Siena this afternoon. Though the veterans were not able to take part in the actual game, they did offer their suggestions and advice to the younger men. The veterans could be seen sitting on the bench with their blankets and their Army jokes, but their presence was felt as the younger men practiced their game under their watchful eyes.

BASKETBALL TEAMS SAT FAST PACE AS ROUND ENDS

Basketball players of the college are working at a fast and furious pace in preparation for the Siena game. The team's goal is to win the game and move up in the standings. The players are putting in long hours of practice, honing their skills and strategies. The intensity of the training is evident in the players' focus and determination.

State Fair Will Open Tomorrow Night With Joint States-Men, AEPhi Show

MYSKANIA STUDENT COUNCIL SUBMIT REPORTS OF FALL TERM ACTIVITIES

Myskania and the Student Council submit the following report of their activities for the first semester of the academic year 1945-46. This report has been compiled from the minutes of the council meetings held on a weekly basis. The purpose of the report, Helen Shure, '46, President of the Student Council, states, is to acquaint the student body with the functions, activities, and accomplishments of Myskania and Student Council.

New Constitution To Be Presented For Approval

The new constitution for the MYSKANIA STUDENT COUNCIL will be presented for approval at the next council meeting. The constitution outlines the organization's goals, objectives, and procedures. It is designed to guide the council in its operations and to ensure its effectiveness in serving the student body.

State To Meet Syracuse, Wells Debating Teams

During the week of February 14, the state will meet Syracuse and Wells debating teams in a series of events. These debates are an opportunity for the state to showcase their skills and knowledge in a competitive setting. The debates will cover a variety of topics and will take place in different locations across the state.

Syracuse, Wells, '47

The evening a success, though the flow crowd will bring the Lounge and...'