Dane's Pace Too Quick For Southern Connecticut

Owl's Early Delay Strategy Stalls; Pressure Ignites 65-53 Dane Win

by Mark Farritor

The Danes' scoring power was on display and Southern Connecticut State's plan to slow them down was not in the cards Saturday night at Center for Recreation and Fitness. The Owls lost 65-53 to the Danes, and Albany's Paul Eichler had 27 points and 13 rebounds.

The Owls hoped to come away with a seven or eight point lead in the second half, but their defense couldn't hold the Danes. Albany's Paul Eichler had 27 points and 13 rebounds.

The men's track team traveled to Cortland on Saturday and finished second in the last type of basketball game that the Danes got some breathing room in this low scoring contest. Albany hit the Owls with some of their composure every time the Owls made a big shot.

Grasso Dies of Cancer

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) Former Gov. Ella "Greco" Grasso has died. She was 56. Grasso was diagnosed with breast cancer in June 1980 and continued to do a part-time job through the early 1980s, according to her doctor, Dr. John C. Hinson, who confirmed her death.

"Ella Grasso represented all that is good and great strength, skill, and when required, toughness. That is her legacy, and it is a lesson to all of us," Hinson said.

Sodomy Charge Denied

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) Rep. Jon C. Hinson, a Democrat, will be arraigned Wednesday on a charge of sodomy. The congressman, 35, was arrested earlier this week after being accused of having sex with a 16-year-old boy.

Hinson, 35, represents a predominantly black district in the southeast part of the city. He has been a member of Congress since 1977.

He is accused of having sexual intercourse with a boy in a men's room at a bar. The congressman denies the charge.

SASU to Fight Tuition Increase

The Student Assembly has voted to oppose the proposed tuition increase.

Aid Forecasts Recovery

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) The Department of Education forecasts a recovery in the nation's aid programs.

The department expects a 5% increase in federal aid to education.

Swiss ambassador, to the United States, conveyed that the nation is suffering from its "worst economic situation." "We are not alone," he said.

Uptown Housing Options Viewed

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has presented a report on housing options in the Uptown district.

The report recommends the construction of new housing developments.

SASU of Uptown Dorms

The SASU has met with the administration to discuss the possibility of establishing a student government in the Uptown dorms.

SASU also opposes the proposed tuition hike.

RCO Honors Program is Offered

The RCO has launched a program to honor student government leaders.

The program will recognize outstanding student government leaders.

SADMU President Comments

"I think the program is a great idea," said the SADMU president.

Fears of Family Riots

"We don't have any fear of family riots," said a spokesperson for the administration.

Despite the uniformity of the uptown dorms, there are a few exceptions. "They set up a pool table in their dorm," said a student.

"And they set up a TV in the dorm," said another.

OTHER STUDENT ISSUES

Some student government leaders are concerned about the proposed tuition increase.

"It's a lost cause," said one student government member.

"We can do our functions without tuition," said another.

"But we have to do it," said a third.

"We are looking for people who can help with set-up, clean-up, and cooking."
Hospitality House Offers Emotional Rescue

In Brian Schwartz's Michael Rocke, a man whose life didn't work out the way he'd planned, the many years spent living in a drug rehabilitation program called Hospitality House could change his life.

NEWS FEATURE

The last thing most people associated with the University at Albany would call Hospitality House. But, the house has spent the last sixteen years providing a drug rehabilitation program called Hospitality House, which is a drug and alcohol treatment program for five years.

When a person first comes here and stays for ten days, they begin to take part in the program, including at least two hours of group therapy and one hour of individual therapy. A semi-independent living program is also provided to those who want it after they leave the program.

INTERVIEW

"I think we can do a lot for people here. I think the house has changed my life and I hope it changes people's lives. I've been sober for five years and I can't imagine my life without it."

Budget Cuts:

SUNY In Trouble

To the Editor:

I write in regard to the results of the past few weeks. President Ronald Reagan is planning drastic cuts in federal education assistance programs, such as BEOG and NSL1H, while his only response to deficit budget figures is allowing inflation. Governor Carey is coming under increasing pressure to start cutting in New York State, and the SUSD mandate allows Governor Carey to do whatever he pleases. Several concerns include the elimination of 200 faculty positions, the elimination of state university student tuition assistance (SUSTA) which was solely designed for building repairs and equipment, and probably his most absurd proposal — asking the SUNY Board of Trustees to request the SUNY Higher Education Loans, the 12 million last year, and we must do this in the very near future. This will make it one of the highest priced states for higher education. This is where your part comes in. This is the time to be aware of the plight of the students of the seventies. Talk to the deans and the legislators and let them know that you stand by the students the way we stand by the students of the past. We are the last year of the students of the seventies. Emotional Recluse

Back In The U.S.S.R.

Joanne Weiner

Dear Ann Landers:

I am a man in his 40s and a father of two children.

I have been married for 10 years, but I am unhappy in my marriage.

My wife is a beautiful woman, but she is not the type of person who I am attracted to. I find myself constantly thinking about other women, and I am constantly unsatisfied in my marriage.

I am afraid that I may be cheating on my wife, but I am not sure.

I am not sure what I should do.

How can I stop thinking about other women?

Ann, please help me.

Yours truly,

Student Art:
Pictures At
An Exhibition

Andrew Carroll

At the annual Student Art Exhibition this year, there were more items than ever. Works included essays, paintings, sculptures, and a number of student works. The exhibition was held from February 12th to March 10th in the Student Union Gallery. Some of the students who attended were happy about the increased number of works on display. "I think it's great that there are more students participating," one student said. "It really shows how much talent we have on campus." Another student added, "I'm glad to see so many different types of art represented. It's really nice to see a variety of styles." The exhibition was open to all students, and anyone who was interested was invited to submit their work. The gallery was located in the Student Union and was open from noon to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The exhibition featured a variety of works, including paintings, sculptures, and photographs. Many of the pieces were created by students who were just starting out, and they showed a lot of promise. The exhibition was a great opportunity for students to showcase their work and get feedback from others. Overall, it was a successful event that brought together a diverse group of artists. "I think the exhibition was a huge success," said one of the student organizers. "We had a lot of interest from the students, and we were able to feature a wide range of works." The exhibition was a great way to celebrate the talent and creativity of the students on campus and to bring the community together. The gallery was well attended, and many people came to see the works on display. The students who attended were proud of their work and enjoyed the opportunity to share their creations with others. Overall, it was a great event that demonstrated the richness of the student art scene on campus.

Concerts are The Competition, and the film's pace, without the benefits of the director's goosing up the action, becomes a labored struggle. At this point the film is limp and the story's premise, so brilliant in its simplicity, is a trifle glib and the emotions in it are not believable. As Tess arrives, he tells the boy, "Tess, as conceived by Hardy, could be the love story is not without interest. After all the plot carries us along on the strength of In-
Setting Standards

In 1974, SUNYA enacted a plan for liberal education. The university decided that students had to fulfill certain requirements in order to graduate. At the time it seemed like a great idea. It was the end of the turbulent 60's and the nation was caught in a media blitz to appease the student revolutionaries. Today's working force is reared in a wider range of lifestyles than ever before. The new distribution requirements would make students more independent.

We would like your opinion. Within two weeks we will be distributing a survey. Although some students may have an affinity for the new requirements, we are concerned that some of you may have not been informed about them. Please take time to fill out the survey to help us shape our future. We hope you will participate.

Danes Caught Out Guard

Tommey Tipton caught the ball at the three-point line with 26 seconds left on the clock, and a second on the shot clock. Tipton's shot was good and would, for all intents and purposes, be the game's only field goal scored in regulation. The ball hit the back of the hoop however, and everyone was on the court as the five Tipton points hardly guaranteed the 64-57 win over '81-82 champion Maine. (Tipton is Tooma's only legal days to play school basketball this year.)

Tipton had 15 points and 12 boards, the second game in the season that he has managed to get double figures in both categories.

The win was only second to the eight-point victory over Maine in the Maine game, which is a very significant victory.

Tipton was the game's highest scorer for the Tiptons, with 15 points, eight rebounds, and two assists.

In our psych tactics by shaving their best. It was an important relay. A matter of the team's unity is here. I am most impressed with the way they swam this semester and the team looks tremendous compared to their slump last semester. We still have RPI again for more competitive, most gutsy. I've never seen the way they swam in the 400-yard Medley Relay with his 1:02.6 Breaststroke, (2:19.31). He was also in the 200-yard Butterfly, winning (10:57.72). Again, Bonawitz cruised his second best personal time in the 200-yard Butterfly, winning (10:57.72). Again, Bonawitz cruised in the 200-yard Freestyle and his winning time of 2:06.47.

Danes Don't Get Caught With Guards Down

Clune And Cesare Foul Out But Subs Come Through In 68-64 Overtime Win

by Bob Hallock

CLINTON — In the first quarter, the Academy basketball team was doing just about as well as they could have hoped for against a powerful Albany team. The Danes wouldn't be in the lead, but their scored 14 points and the Gaels 6. The Gaels were for some reason doing some odd things on offense, including an entire series of shots that didn't fall from about 6 feet away. In the second quarter, however, the Academy had a victory, led by an incredible 53-47 win.

The second quarter was a tightly contested affair, with the Gaels using some free throws and two small baskets to keep the Danes from breaking away. The Danes had a slim lead, 21-19, however, at halftime. The Gaels, who are usually tight defense, were able to hold the Danes to just 29 points in the second half, 16 of which came in the third quarter. The Gaels, on the other hand, scored 34 points in the second half, 34 of which came in the third quarter.

In the third quarter, the Danes were able to make a comeback and tie the score at 49-49 with 8:30 remaining. However, in the fourth quarter, the Gaels were able to take the lead again, 53-48, and hold onto it to win the game.

The Academy's defense was the key to their victory, as they held the Gaels to just 39 points in the second half. The defense was led by a strong performance by freshman Alan Schwalke, who scored 10 points and had four steals.

Mayfest Debate Continues

by Andrew Williams

As the semester winds down, a debate rages on about Mayfest preferences. A majority of the student body prefers to keep Mayfest on a Friday and Saturday, while a small minority wants to change it to a Friday and Sunday.

The debate started last week when the Student Assembly (SA) voted to keep Mayfest on a Friday and Saturday. The SA voted 16-1 to keep Mayfest on a Friday and Saturday. The lone dissenting vote came from the Class of '81, who preferred to keep Mayfest on a Friday and Sunday.

The SA vote was met with a mixed reaction from the student body. Some students were happy with the vote, while others felt that Mayfest should be moved to a Friday and Sunday.

SUNYA Ticket Policy Questioned

by Andrew Williams

SUNYA's Ticket Policy is in question, as some students are concerned about the cost of attending sporting events. The policy states that students must purchase a ticket to attend any sporting event, regardless of whether or not they are enrolled in the event.

The policy has been in place for several years and has been well-received by most students. However, some students feel that the policy is unfair and that it should be changed.

SUNYA to Secede from State

by Andrew Williams

SUNYA is considering seceding from the State of New York. The idea has been brought up by the SUNY Board of Trustees, who are concerned about the state's budget cuts and the impact they are having on SUNYA.

The trustees are considering a proposal to secede from the State of New York and form their own university system. The proposal would allow SUNYA to have more control over its budget and to make decisions independently.

Senior Class Plans to Sue SA

by Andrew Williams

The senior class is planning to sue the Student Assembly (SA) for $150,000. The class has been frustrated with the SA's decisions and feels that the SA is not representing the interests of the senior class.

The class is planning to file a lawsuit against the SA, citing the SA's failure to address their concerns. The class is hoping that the lawsuit will force the SA to change their policies and to better represent the interests of the senior class.
