Basketball Season Returns

With the end of Thanksgiving vacation comes basketball season returns for some time and now we meet the fall support of the basketball teams.

Last year our naps were and were made through our daily games. The spirit shown at the beginning of the season somewhat early, the aim of the end of the season, the enthusiasm, although good, didn't quite make up for the spirit we had.

A basketball game presented a novelty to fans. It was a game which held the interest of the fans as they watched the match with the war. Let's take advantage of their presence to watch the game.

Working against great odds, State's team played a great season last year. This year we expect great things to happen. If the fans are going to support, the players should be cheered on the court.

Let's get back on the team and keep up the spirit throughout the season!
