State Vies for Regional NAIA Basketball Honors at Montclair

State Vies for Regional NAIA Basketball Honors at Montclair

BY GEORGE HEWETT

One year ago, three points scored by the team at Albany State's debut in national basketball competition and a final score of 44-31 against the national champion, Arizona State, helped the team win the regional championship. This year, Albany State has another chance to make the trip after a last minute decision by athletic department officials to accept Pennsylvania's request to enter the team in the Montclair, N.J. event. The team will be headed by Coach D. J. Wilson, who is expected to lead the team to victory.

Is This All We’re Worth?

Are we really worth some people’s time and attention, or are we something to be looked down on? It seems to me that people have the attitude that since they are from one state, they are better than people from other states.

Do we really have anything to be proud of? Do we really think that we are better than other people? Is it really worth all the trouble to get an education than other states send acre.

Solely Pedagogues?

We believe that these New York State students have no York State to get an education than other states send acre.

Ped Grapplers Close Season At Yeshiva After 16-16 Draw

Varsity wrestling will draw to a close next week as the Ped Grapplers meet the Violets at New York City College to round out a season ending with a 16-16 draw.

The Ped Grapplers have been competing against the Violets for over 10 years, and this year's match was no exception. Both teams entered the match with high spirits and a desire to come out on top.

Despite a close score throughout the match, the Grapplers were unable to secure a victory. The Violets, however, will be looking forward to their upcoming match against the Gophers, who are currently ranked first in the league.

Bridge Life
By RALPH MESSERMAN

This is Bridge Life, a newsletter of the Interfraternity Council, and I'll be as brief and to the point as humanly possible. This week, I'd like to recognize the efforts of the members of KB, the Beta Lambda. They've been working hard and I think they deserve credit for their dedication.
