Munseysmen Sweep Adelphi, Second Shutout of Season

The Albany Cross-Country Invitational was held on campus in October 1967. The team, under the direction of Coach Don Attwell, ran with speed and precision, finishing six of the top ten places. The invitational featured some of the largest college-level cross-country teams from across the country, including strong competitors like RPI, Harpur, Stonybrook, Siena, and Cobleskill. The team's performance was a testament to the hard work and dedication of the runners, as they entered the final stretch of the season strong.

Notices

- SPORTS CALENDAR
- Kansas Korn
- SNAPPY BARBER SHOP
- R.K.O. Cleaners
- MR. HOT DOG

Central Council “Objects” To SA Voting Procedure

The Central Council meeting on October 26th addressed issues related to the Student Association’s voting procedures. The meeting involved discussions on the election bill, which set up the student government organization, and the Central Council’s approach to voting methods. The debate centered around the “system of voting,” and the Central Council’s role in ensuring fair and transparent elections. The meeting was a significant moment for student governance, as it marked an effort to strengthen the democratic process within the student body.

‘PRIVATE LIFE’ TONIGHT, TOMORROW

The upcoming events feature performances of “Frida” and “Private Life,” which showcase faculty talent and highlight the college’s commitment to arts and entertainment. These performances provide a platform for students and faculty to showcase their skills and engage with the community. It’s an exciting time for the college, as it celebrates the rich cultural tapestry that makes up its vibrant student life.
Keyserling To Speak To Social Workers

Lauri Keyserling, attorney and noted social observer, will deliver the lecture "Breakdown" at the University of Michigan on Monday, November 17. Keyserling's address will be the keynote address of the Michigan State Social Welfare Council's annual conference on "Social Change: A Challenge." The conference, which is being held concurrently with the Michigan State Medical Society's annual meeting, will bring together social workers, medical personnel, and other concerned citizens to discuss the implications of Keyserling's work for the field of social welfare.

Keyserling's Lecture Themes

1. The Nature of Social Change: Keyserling will explore the complex nature of social change, emphasizing its role in shaping modern society.
2. Institutional Resistance: He will discuss how institutions within society often resist change, creating barriers to progress.
3. The Importance of Social Observation: Keyserling will argue for the importance of social observation in understanding and predicting social change.

Conference Details

- Location: University of Michigan, Ann Arbor
- Date: Monday, November 17
- Time: 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

This event is co-sponsored by the Michigan State Social Welfare Council and the Michigan State Medical Society. For more information, contact the Michigan State Social Welfare Council at (313) 404-3000.
A new initiative is being undertaken by the University to integrate a nursing program into the curriculum. The program will be offered in the spring of the current academic year, and students will have the opportunity to enroll in the courses as part of their regular course load.

New Nursing School To Integrate Program

The program will be housed within the newly constructed science building, which is scheduled to open next fall. The building will feature state-of-the-art facilities, including simulation laboratories, classrooms, and a state-of-the-art clinical skills laboratory.

The program will be open to all undergraduate students who meet the prerequisites. Students will be required to complete a rigorous curriculum, including courses in anatomy, physiology, pharmacology, and nursing theory.

The program will also include a clinical component, where students will gain hands-on experience in a variety of settings, including hospitals, clinics, and long-term care facilities.

Student enrollment is expected to reach 150 students in the first year, with plans to expand to 300 students by the third year. The program will be held in close consultation with local hospitals and health care providers to ensure that students are prepared for a wide range of career opportunities.

Students enrolled in the program will receive a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree upon completion. Graduates will be well-prepared for entry-level positions in a variety of health care settings, including hospitals, clinics, and long-term care facilities.

The program is housed within the Department of Health Sciences, which offers a variety of other programs in the health sciences, including a master's degree in public health and a doctorate in health administration.

For more information, please contact the Department of Health Sciences at 555-1234.
Soil Destruction

At last week's Central Council meeting, in a lack of self-destructive energy, a small faction of Council members around a hill which would underline the problem. Who's Who, Central Council, and LAAC elections which were then being held under the auspices of Election Commission. The grounds for the charges were not elaborated, but some were about the issues. A concerted effort was made to have the irregularities in the voting procedures.

The action was self-destructive because the present council members were not concerned with the election of the Supreme Court. At that time, the Supreme Court passed down a policy statement that would have to be approved. Last May lost only five of the nine Court chairs were filled; however, these five chairs made the necessary quorum. Later, one person resigned leaving the Court with no quorum and no power. It is amazing that this situation was not made public before this, and that immediate action was not taken to amend the Constitution to provide for alternate appointments for the Justices. However, Jeffrey Michael, president of the Student Association, stated that he did not want to get into the present requirements, that the Constitution to provide a clause for alternate appointments for the Justices. After this, MYSKANIA was presently working on a plan whereby they would assume the function of a judicial body. Therefore, something had to be done to correct the situation.

There seems to be only two flaws in this logic: first, the constitution clearly states, through clauses, that the Student Association should have a functioning judiciary at all times and second, even though MYSKANIA which incidentally seems to have dug itself under the high hopes of still existing as a presence as little bit of a bunch of people, this change would require a 20 per cent vote of Student Association membership to make the MYSKANIA-in-Judiciary move constitutionally.

Later a bill was presented to amend the Constitution to provide for alternate appointments to the Supreme Court. This is process provides for the emergency appointment of Justices in order that, in a similar situation, the Constitution can continue to function.

It is necessary that the Supreme Council regain its own power as soon as possible, since the present situation goes against the best interests of the Constitution. If MYSKANIA wants to stick along and formulate a better plan, it can be conducted when presented. Until then there is no excuse for not taking every effort to stabilize the judiciary. We have now.

Notes from the Movement

By Peter Plotek, Editor, Albany Student Press

It takes the idealistic, apolitical volunteer being aware he is giving it, and because he does not gather the political sophistication to manipulate people, that you have a college volunteer. Instead, what he was called to do it, was to handle things and that the IRA does make contact in London where—sometimes on an official level, sometimes on a more covert way in Columbia settings. They are needed to help put people back in the student's world where they were demonstrating. This is an idealistic, apolitical volunteer being aware he is giving it, and because he does not gather the political sophistication to manipulate people, that you have a college volunteer.

It is amazing that this situation was not made public before this, and that immediate action was not taken to amend the Constitution to provide for alternate appointments for the Justices. However, Jeffrey Michael, president of the Student Association, stated that he did not want to get into the present requirements, that the Constitution to provide a clause for alternate appointments for the Justices. After this, MYSKANIA was presently working on a plan whereby they would assume the function of a judicial body. Therefore, something had to be done to correct the situation.

There seems to be only two flaws in this logic: first, the constitution clearly states, through clauses, that the Student Association should have a functioning judiciary at all times and second, even though MYSKANIA which incidentally seems to have dug itself under the high hopes of still existing as a presence as little bit of a bunch of people, this change would require a 20 per cent vote of Student Association membership to make the MYSKANIA-in-Judiciary move constitutionally.

Later a bill was presented to amend the Constitution to provide for alternate appointments to the Supreme Court. This is process provides for the emergency appointment of Justices in order that, in a similar situation, the Constitution can continue to function.

It is necessary that the Supreme Council regain its own power as soon as possible, since the present situation goes against the best interests of the Constitution. If MYSKANIA wants to stick along and formulate a better plan, it can be conducted when presented. Until then there is no excuse for not taking every effort to stabilize the judiciary. We have now.
| Course Title | Instructor | Time of Class
|--------------|------------|---------------|
| Introductory Chemistry | J. Smith | M 9:00-10:00
| Organic Chemistry | Dr. Johnson | T 1:30-2:30
| Physics I | Prof. Lee | W 9:00-10:00
| Computer Science | Dr. Patel | Th 3:00-4:00

Arranged by: [Arranged by invitation or committee]
Communinations

Friday, November 3, 1967

Albanian Student Press

Page 7

CIA Questioned

By Prof. Schutto

Should the CIA be considered part of the university? That is the question which many students are asking themselves these days. The CIA, or Central Intelligence Agency, has been accused of a number of activities that are considered illegal or unethical. The Agency has been accused of overstepping its bounds and interfering in the internal affairs of other countries. The CIA has also been accused of conducting experiments on humans without their consent. These activities have led to questions about the role of the CIA in the university. Should the CIA be considered part of the university? Should the CIA be allowed to operate within the university? These are questions that need to be answered.

Hallucinogens

By Prof. Gold

The use of hallucinogens has been a topic of controversy in recent years. The use of these substances has been linked to a number of problems, including addiction and mental health issues. The use of hallucinogens is also associated with a number of deaths. The use of these substances has led to questions about the role of the university in the use of these substances. Should the university be involved in the use of hallucinogens? Should the university be able to control the use of these substances? These are questions that need to be answered.

New Left

By Prof. Cohen

The New Left has been a force in American society for many years. The New Left has been associated with a number of groups, including the Students for a Democratic Society and the YAF. The New Left has been associated with a number of activities, including protests and demonstrations. The New Left has also been associated with a number of intellectuals, including Noam Chomsky and Howard Zinn. The New Left has been associated with a number of issues, including civil rights and anti-war activism. The New Left has been a force in American society for many years and continues to influence the political landscape today.

Holliday's Review

By Prof. Gold

Holliday's Review is a magazine that has been in publication for many years. The magazine has been associated with a number of intellectuals, including John Updike and John Updike. The magazine has been associated with a number of writers, including John Updike and John Updike. The magazine has been associated with a number of issues, including civil rights and anti-war activism. Holliday's Review has been a force in American society for many years and continues to influence the political landscape today.
'Word Deemed Worth Reading, Variety of Genres Included'

by Louise Cello

The American Council on the Arts, which is one of the nation's leading agencies in the field of arts, has recently released a report titled 'Word Deemed Worth Reading, Variety of Genres Included.' The report highlights the importance of literature in today's society and emphasizes the need for a diverse range of genres to be included in educational curricula.

The report notes that while the United States has a long tradition of literary excellence, there is a growing concern that the country is losing its literary heritage. According to the report, this trend is particularly evident in schools, where literature is often given short shrift in favor of other subjects.

The American Council on the Arts recommends that literature be given equal weight with other subjects in schools. The council suggests that teachers be trained to teach literature effectively and that schools be provided with the resources they need to do so.

In addition to these recommendations, the council calls for the establishment of a national literary institute to promote the study of literature and to foster a culture of reading. The council also urges the federal government to increase its funding for literary programs.

The report concludes with the observation that the United States is at a crossroads in its literary history. It is up to all of us to ensure that the country does not lose its literary heritage. The council encourages everyone to support literature in all its forms and to help create a culture in which reading is valued and respected.

Council Holds Casting Tryouts

The University Theatre has announced casting tryouts for its upcoming production of 'A View of the Arts.' The tryouts are open to anyone of Brass, and will be held on Saturday, November 12, at 9 p.m.

The first show, 'A View of the Arts,' is to be directed by William Minus Childhood, and 'Images' is to be directed by Martin B. Whitman. The production will include performances by some of the university's most talented actors and technicians.

'Cimarron Strip.' The Spectator

The Spectator, Weekly and in advance of all others, has been designated as 'Cimarron Strip.' This is a new type of newspaper that will be published every three weeks, and will contain articles on the arts, literature, and current events.

The Spectator will be edited by Josephine Willie, a well-known writer and critic. The paper will be distributed free of charge, and will be available at bookstores, newsstands, and other locations.

The Spectator hopes to provide a new and refreshing perspective on the arts, and to promote a greater appreciation of the arts among the general public.

The Spectator is published by the Spectator Publishing Company, located at 123 Broadway, New York, NY 10005. For more information, please call (212) 555-1234.
A rough of words on stage is a very nice idea. I was never to sing, but I remember hearing that "I had been trained."

Go of You Girl). A pinball out of its rhythm keeping I don't like "What Do You first side of the album Is excel- it opens up even more dimensions able Instruments — the use Brown has managed to pick the I realized that they were ahead at a party, making the usual though the band was disappoint- fans who remained and it was only about 50 people around. Al­ the same, they're still making a go of It. as the concert, coming to their most impressive

This is the reason that plan and whole instrument, in the politi- come to the wire. With only ten sec­ ical - the way us - the way of making up music - the way of making up story. We are trying to make use of the rhythm playing capacity and story in a less noticeable way. However, this may be the year.

The reason that plan and whole instrument, in the politi- come to the wire. With only ten sec­ ical - the way us - the way of making up music - the way of making up story. We are trying to make use of the rhythm playing capacity and story in a less noticeable way. However, this may be the year.
Jock Scaps

by James Schenck

I have to make this column just a feature where I write something one week and apologize for it the next. At the end of last week's column, I learned that the Utica College game was not scheduled for tomorrow morning. Instead, it was moved to Tuesday, November 7. This week, I apologize for the oversight.

Albany Student Press

Friday, November 3, 1967

ALBANY STUDENT PRESS

Supreme Court Inoperative; Council Tables Amendment

by Ed Silver

General Council denied a proposed amendment to the constitution and by-laws allowing the board of trustees to determine the organization and administration of the college. He recommended that the amendment not be adopted, nor that the resolution of the trustees continue.

The college's proposed amendment was not approved by the trustees. The board of trustees failed to act on the proposed amendment. This is because the resolution of the trustees was not in order for the board to act on it.

The resolution of the trustees was presented twice. The first resolution was on October 30, 1967. The second resolution was on November 1, 1967. The second resolution was not in order. The resolution of the trustees was, therefore, not in order for the board to act on it.

Reform Candidates Challenge Democrat Regulars

by Jim Sheer

The first Annual International Cross-Country meet was run this Saturday. The Utica College team was victorious. The team was composed of Michael Swartout,parallel to the field and into the corner. A good indication of the talent on the visiting team could be seen in the finish of the meet. The old record was set late in the second mile by the State University of New York at Stony Brook.

Utica Falls 3-0, Stonewall Nets 2 donates $1,500 to the American Cancer Society.

R.K.O. Cleaners

50c, 75c, and $1.50

Mr. Hot Dog

Now Delivers To Both Campuses

HAMBURGERS - FRIED CHICKEN - HOT DOGS

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1967

Vol. LIV. No. 7

ALBANY, NEW YORK

China Seminar To Run Today, Tomorrow

The seminar will be held on the campus of the University of Idaho. The seminar will be open to the public. The seminar will be attended by students and faculty from the University of Idaho, the State University College at Corning, the State University College at Fredonia, and the State University College at New Paltz.

Disaster

The Smith To Explain Education Grants

Smith will explain the college's education grants to the public. The college's education grants are designed to help students pay for their college education. The college's education grants are available to students who meet the eligibility requirements. The college's education grants are designed to help students pay for their college education.

Smith will explain the college's education grants to the public. The college's education grants are designed to help students pay for their college education. The college's education grants are available to students who meet the eligibility requirements. The college's education grants are designed to help students pay for their college education.

Howard S. Davis, a Robert B. Roster, makes one of the first goal tenders for work on the new Student Pavilion. The Student Pavilion is expected to be completed in December.