Summer Student Survey Shows $115 Expense Budget

by Jean Doe Furst

A recent survey of 270 summer students living in residence halls in New York State indicates that the average annual non-academic student expense was $115. Of the students, 87 per cent spent more than $100. The survey is based on a random sample of summer students of both sexes at 30 University of New York State institutions.

Problem of Lunches Persists

Mid-Day Classes are Cause of Hunger Troubles

The lack of any definite lunch hour has been a source of frustration for many students. A new law passed last year allowed colleges to change their lunch hours to 12:00 to 1:00, but this has not yet been enforced at many schools. As a result, students are forced to eat in the dormitories or bring their own lunches. The United States Department of Agriculture has recommended that all college campuses provide adequate lunch facilities.

I Believe - Do You?

I believe in the education of the mind in its fullest and most complete sense. But more than that, I believe in the education of the heart— that music, organ where finer things can be expressed in a more beautiful manner. There are many who are masters of the craft, but there are few who can truly express the beauty of that fine organ. The education of the heart is immeasurable. It is the ultimate expression of where we are as human beings.

There are many who are masters of the craft, but there are few who can truly express the beauty of that fine organ. The education of the heart is immeasurable. It is the ultimate expression of where we are as human beings.

The educated people know that "embrace me" is the true expression, not only of the heart but also of the mind. The mind and the heart are one, they must work in harmony.

As I sit and ponder in a group of people who do work on the subject of education, I am reminded of you, dear reader. I marvel at the beauty of your soul, and I am filled with gratitude for the privilege of knowing you.

Food for Thought

Culture in State College is a non-entity. The fault, dear readers, is not with the administration but with ourselves, who have taken no interest in creating a community and making the best of our situation.

We are a city without organizations and the knowledge of the accomplishments of outstanding people in all fields of endeavor. We are a city that is not aware of its resources and its potential. We are a city that is not aware of its ability to improve itself. We are a city that is not aware of the fact that it can be a great place to live and work.

That is why we must strive to improve our community and make it a better place to live. That is why we must work to bring in resources and opportunities and make the best of them.

So let us all work together to create a better future for our city.

Curtain!

Charles Daniel, managing director of the Mohawk Ford Co., recently attended the show of "A Little Night Music," which is being presented by the State University of New York at Albany. The play has already been performed for school groups in the Capital District. It is a stirring story of a woman who found music and love in the midst of a difficult situation.

Charles Daniel is the dramatic talent of a woman who is known for her musical abilities and her ability to be comfortable in any situation. She has been a teacher for over 20 years and has been recognized for her music education and her service to the community.

The play begins with the character's interest in music and her desire to express herself through music. The play also shows her love for life and her ability to be happy in any situation.

The performance was a success, and the audience was impressed with the talent and energy of the performers. The audience was moved by the music and the story and left feeling uplifted.

The play will continue to be performed and is highly recommended for all who enjoy music and theatre. It is a powerful story of love, music, and determination.

Communications

Dear Editor:

I would suggest an idea for the college's communications department regarding the college's programs for next year. Since that time he has been teaching at the college.

Dr. Bruce is offering a creative writing program, which I believe would be very beneficial to all the students. This program would allow students to explore their creativity and express themselves in a unique way. The program is designed to encourage students to write and to share their ideas with others.

The program would consist of several workshops and courses, each focusing on a different aspect of creative writing. Students would have the opportunity to learn about various writing techniques and to practice their skills. They would also have the chance to read their work to others and to receive feedback.

I believe that this program would be a great addition to the college's offerings. It would provide students with a valuable opportunity to develop their writing skills and to express themselves in a unique way.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Ryan

P.S. The college's Summer School, which takes place at a resort in the mountains, will also be offered next year. This program provides students with an opportunity to study in a beautiful natural setting and to experience the beauty of nature.

Academic and administrative professionals Dr. Bruce and Dr. Osborne have been invited to speak at the program. They will discuss the benefits of the program and how to get involved.

The program is open to all students, and I encourage you to consider attending. I believe that it would be a great experience for you.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Ryan
Kleptomania Strikes State School Authority
According to the reports of Dr. John H. Richardson, head of the State School Authority, one of the most distressing of present day problems is that of the kleptomaniac. At present, the State School Authority is working closely with the local police department to eradicate this problem.

The first incident occurred last Friday evening when a student was discovered trying to steal a bicycle from the campus. The police were notified immediately and the student was apprehended. Further investigation revealed that the student had a history of kleptomania.

Dr. Richardson emphasized the importance of early intervention and urged parents to be vigilant in monitoring their children's behavior.

"Our Town" Opens Tuesday

The State College of Teachers, under the direction of Professor Adna W. Risley, will present "Our Town" in the Outdoor Theater on Tuesday, August 12. The play will be directed by Betty Dodge and will feature a cast of undergraduate students.

The play, written by Thornton Wilder, is a realistic portrayal of rural life. The audience is invited to see this classic American play, which is sure to be a hit.

STATE CAFETERIA

The State CAFETERIA will be closed on Monday, August 11, in observance of the Labor Day holiday. The cafe will reopen on Tuesday, August 12, with a special Labor Day menu.

State College for Teachers, under the leadership of President Samuel E. Craven, has a strong commitment to providing a quality education for all students. The Labor Day holiday is an excellent opportunity to reflect on the efforts of those who have made our country great.

Milne Library Is Scene of Forum

Supervisors and Principals Debate Concern of College and High School Administration

As an open forum on the question of college and high school administration, the Milne Library is the site for a discussion between supervisors and principals. The forum is sponsored by the Department of Education and is open to all interested parties.

The forum is divided into two sections, one for college administrators and another for high school administrators. Each section will be moderated by a seasoned educator.

The purpose of the forum is to explore the challenges and opportunities facing today's educators. The discussion will focus on the needs and expectations of students and the role of the teacher in the modern educational environment.
