News Within the News...

Tuesday's meeting marked the close of another semester at the State College News. But the end of the spring semester does not mean the end of the year. The State College News will continue to publish through much of the summer, with the exception of sports staff who will be held on in order to cover the final home football games. The staff is excited to take a break and then start a new year of work.

State Faces Utica At Bleeker In Opener Today; Tussle With New Paltz Nine On Road Tomorrow

From The Sidelines

by BOB ARMSTRONG

State meets Utica at 4:30 today in a Conference game that will set a tone for the remainder of the season. The Orange team is a strong one and has been out to prove it since the season opened.

Utica will be under the guidance of Coach Joseph A. Petrucci, who has done a fine job of coaching the team. He has taken them to the Conference title in the past and they are expected to do well this year.

The Bobcats will be led by Don Canonica, who is a strong pitcher. He has been on the team for several years and has a good record.

The game will be played at Utica and is expected to be a close one.
