One Streak Ends, Another Starts for Batmen

Oneonta Nine-Run Seventh Wins Opener
But Albany Slugfest Gains a Dane Split

As Larry Sejic was starting up his truck in front of an old flashtube that had burnt out. They were going to photograph the Duquesne Days and were finding that their film was for work. The news that the camera was out didn’t make the Danes’ pitching that bad. The family run and the Danes’ pinch hitter allowed them to score three runs. The Danes had a lead, 7-6.

The first game was a struggle for the Danes as they lost their lead, 10-4. On May 5, 1981, Albany’s lead held until the ninth inning, but Siena tied the game with a bases-loaded walk. The game was tied, 10-10, and went into extra innings.

Albany first baseman Bruce Rowlands tries to tag an Oneonta base runner in the ninth inning. The game continued on page fifteen.
SUNYA and National News: The Year in Briefs

CAMPUS
Core Requirements Instituted
The University Senate passed a bill mandating that students must enroll in a 250 credit-hour program. The new requirements will go into effect in the fall of 1982.

Fonda Movie Filmed
Sunya's marijuana bill was transferred into a federal law that makes it legal to grow marijuana. The law was enacted by the Senate and signed by the President. The movie is "a thriller about national security."

Women's Safety Discussed
Women's safety made the news this year. The "Men's Movement," which broke up in the last semester, is still in question. The move, which has been endorsed by the various student groups, is still being debated. Student groups and other community groups are now considering the issue.

"Mayfest" Debated
A recent incident caused a stir among students. The "Mayfest" event, which was scheduled to take place on May 8, was canceled due to student protests.

ROTC Extension Approved
A recent extension was approved by the University Senate Council. The extension will allow ROTC programs to continue for another year. The extension will be debated in the next meeting of the Senate.

President Reagan Shot
President Reagan was shot in a recent incident. The shots were fired by John Hinckley, a mentally disturbed individual. In a recent interview, Reagan has expressed his desire to run again in 1984.

El Salvador Questioned
President Reagan was recently questioned about his stance on El Salvador. Reagan has been criticized for his support of the Salvadoran government, which has been accused of human rights violations.

National Budget Cuts Debated
A recent bill has proposed budget cuts for the next fiscal year. The bill is expected to be debated in the next session of Congress.

Reagan, D'Amato Win
Terry O'Neil has been reelected to Congress. D'Amato has been elected to the Senate. Both have been endorsed by the Republican Party.

El Salvador Peace Project
A recent project has been established to promote peace in El Salvador. The project is being funded by the United Nations and the United States government.

Tuition Hikes Are Predicted

Washington, D.C. (CNS) - One of the consequences of a new law is that it will no longer be possible to freeze tuition charges at state universities. The Higher Education Commission, which limits increases in tuition charges to 5 percent, has announced that this limit will be replaced by a 10 percent increase. Tuition hikes were predicted to be as much as 15 percent.

You'll be amazed at all the opportunities and advantages the Army offers men and women with BSN degrees:

- Excellent starting salaries and benefits, including liberal vacation policy.
- Real opportunity for advancement and professional growth.
- No basic training for nurses; just a basic orientation.
- Intermediate, advanced, or additional education.
- Opportunity as medical corpsman, nurse, or additional satisfaction.

Privacy Laws to be Changed

CPS—The day of private student records may be numbered, according to a variety of privacy law sources. A number of the important laws that presently protect the privacy of student records are likely to receive new emphasis. The recent development of the Buckley Amdendment may be the most obvious change.

The Buckley Amendment requires schools to provide written notice of the categories of student information that they keep and who have access to the information. It also requires schools to notify students of their right to inspect their educational records, and to allow students to designate which categories of information may be disclosed to third parties.

In addition, the Buckley Amendment makes it more difficult for government agencies to obtain students' educational records without written consent. The amendment also provides for the appointment of a oounsel representative to represent students in disputes over the disclosure of their educational records.

The Buckley Amendment has already been the subject of much debate among educators, lawyers, and students. Some educators conside the amendment to be too restrictive, while others believe it is necessary to protect student privacy.

SA Lawyer Recommended

The Legal Services Board Com-mision has recommended that the University of Maryland use a private lawyer to advise and represent the university in cases in-volving students' rights under privacy laws.

The recommendation was made in response to a complaint filed by a student who alleged that his education records were released to a government agency without his consent.

The university has been required to implement new procedures to protect students' privacy, and the Legal Services Board has been appointed to monitor these procedures.

The recommendation is expected to be implemented within the next month.

Military vs Academia:
Conflict of Interest

Dean Belz

This year the administration approved a proposal that will allow the ROTC to move its operations into the SUNYA academic program. This will allow the ROTC to keep its current enrollment levels while also allowing them to gain more students. The ROTC program is one of the few institutions left that have been able to keep their students and the military engaged with the goals of high education.

The SUNYA administration has also been taking steps to keep its students enrolled. They have been trying to keep the ROTC program on campus, but that has been difficult. This presence will probably not go away as an extension center will give them a chance to expand.

Allowing the Army ROTC to use our campus is one of the few institutions left that have been able to keep their students enrolled. The SUNYA administration has also been trying to keep the ROTC program on campus, but that has been difficult. This presence will probably not go away as an extension center will give them a chance to expand.

The Anti-Speech
Hopes And Dreams From The Voices Of '81

The following is a collection of speeches submitted for consideration to the selection of Graduation Speeches for the Class of 1981. While each speech delivers an account of life at SUNY and its various styles, unique in different aspects and concepts, we offer this space to be allocated to these pieces of our lives.

These speeches represent a very important aspect of our college and the world itself, our all about.

We hope this compiled offering can be uplifting to both graduates and students worldwide. The SUNY system will continue to grow. The people who accept these speeches can pass on their knowledge and insight to the next generation. We, the students, will continue to grow.

Take the Class of '81. Best of luck in the future.

Get 100 blocks from the theme of the story. Three numbers of It is all right. Edward D. Wood, Jr. and Ed Wood Productions present the musical, "Faster, Pussycat! Kill! Kill!" The hero, a small and pudgy character, wooden and dull, is played by Mark Rosser. Though his performance is trite, it is excellent. Particularly his dressing is excellent. The music is trite, but the plot is excellent. The whole thing is trite, but the plot is excellent. The whole thing is trite, but the plot is excellent.

Fear of Clothing on Fire Island

I was always a little wary of walking on the beach without my clothes on, especially in crowded areas. I also avoided being seen by anyone other than my friends. However, I couldn't help but notice how easily people would strip off their clothes and just start enjoying the beach. It was like a whole new world opened up to me.

Michael Brandes

I understand the appeal of being free and unencumbered, but it's important to remember that there are consequences. People can be watched and judged by others, even if they don't mean to be.

Another way to experience the beach is to go to a nudist beach. It's a different kind of freedom, but it's not without its challenges. People can be judgmental and intimidating, even if they don't mean to be.

Sebastian Tells All:

How To Be As Great As I

There are a few tips on how to be a great person. The first is to be kind. Treat others the way you want to be treated. The second is to be honest. Always tell the truth, even if it's difficult. The third is to be patient. Don't rush things and don't be impatient. The fourth is to be persistent. Keep trying even when things are tough.

Softball Squad Wins, Gets Ready for Playoffs

Women Netters Shut Out Oneonta

By Bob Brown

Junior third baseman Julie Wagner, junior shortstop Rosemary Slocum and junior center fielder Ken DaRos each hit a home run as Albany defeated Oneonta 8-0 in the first game of a doubleheader Wednesday afternoon.

The Danes defeated Oneonta 7-2 in the second game.

Coach Mike Motta said his team was ready to make a run in the playoffs and unable to reach the .500 mark. The Danes dropped to 3-7 with their latest effort Wednesday to bring their overall record to 3-7-1.

As the season winds down, Motta commented on his team's play.

"We have a lot of talent, but we just didn't click as a team. Overall record was not indicative of our problems with our defense. Our performance. It's really been a plus all season with outstanding effort," said Motta.

"Both those guys have been a real help," said Motta.

The inconsistent varsity lacrosse team is looking to get off the roller-coaster ride that has characterized this season. The Stickmen dropped to 3-7 (0-5 in the SUNYAC) with a 11-10 loss to Colgate Wednesday night.

Mike Motta.

"If it rains in nine of them, it won't rain in 100 percent of them," commented Motta.

"I'm not going to say we're going to win the ride. You can't say they're going to win," said Motta.

The 1980-81 Dane Season in Review

By Bob Schleifer

It's hard to find the words to describe how Bob Schleifer's season ended with the basketball team. It may seem like an understatement to say that he was a great sports writer, but his work in that capacity was more than that. He was a true scholar of the game, one who understood the nuances of the sport and its players. Schleifer's ability to capture the essence of a game was unparalleled.

One of the things that stood out in Schleifer's writing was his passion for the game. He loved basketball with a passion that was infectious. He was able to bring that passion to life in his writing, making the reader feel like they were part of the action. His ability to paint a picture with words was nothing short of amazing.

Schleifer was not just a writer, he was a true observer of the game. He was able to see things that others couldn't, things that were often missed by the casual observer. His keen eye for detail allowed him to capture the subtleties of the game, the little things that made a big difference.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about Schleifer was his ability to connect with his readers. He was able to make the reader feel like they were part of the team, part of the season. His writing was not just about the game, it was about the experience.

Schleifer's work was an inspiration to many. He showed what could be done with a love of the game and a passion for writing. He was a true example of what it meant to be a sports writer, and his legacy will live on in the memories of those who were fortunate enough to read his work.

That Bob is Out

For over a year and a half Bob Schleifer has been a fixture at the ASP, the last two semesters as sports editor. Bob has done so with each issue (of course, there's the stipend, which works out to a job exposing all sports, top stories with careful attention to the finer points of each sport. He loved it — except for two of the three trips to Potsdam, his second virtue that every coach appreciates.

Bob was a sports writer in residence for the ASP offices on production nights. The nights can gel a little hectic, but Bob always managed to come out on top. He was a workhorse, always willing to put in the extra hours to get the job done.

Bob's work ethic was something to behold. He was a true professional who always put the work before anything else. He was a true asset to the ASP and to the students who worked with him.

Bob's legacy will live on in the memories of those who knew him. He was a true example of what it meant to be a sports writer, and his work will continue to inspire for years to come.

Now I'm Better Off with the Cleats on the Shelf

By Bill Baber

It's hard to believe that Bill Baber has been in thev with the Danes for just one year. He joined the team at the end of the 1980-81 season, and since then he has been a fixture at the ASP. Baber's work ethic is something to behold. He always put the work before anything else, and his dedication to the sport was truly inspiring.

Another One in a Series of Up and Down Years

The 1980-81 Season in Review

It's been another very successful single season, against only five nationally ranked Buffalo and Cornell. The Danes took last year's Old Army and won the MAC title and the Tangerine Bowl. Talk about history.

Maybe so, but Albany didn't gel enough for a win against the Owls. Still that might not have been the worst loss. The Great Danes went to Florida by making a desperation lay-up with 16 seconds remaining.

By experience. The Dane poise in Witlenburg.

The Danes were down by one point to the Bears with 20 seconds remaining; the Bears had one card in his hand — experience. The Dane poise in Witlenburg.
