Regina, Queen of State's Lasses

Rules Prom Night Pageantry

The name of grotesque was the woman who, according to legend, was by all consensus one of the most beautiful And one whose love could not be resisted. She became the object of attention by virtue of her beauty and by the unique qualities of her personality. This woman was none other than Regina Murphy, queen of the six in the history of the school and beauties of '39.

Suggestion to the Administration

Proposal to open a men's and women's athletic house in the near future is a period of fourteen and a half weeks or a long "weekend" of about four days covering the period from January third to April fourteenth. The suggestion comes from the undergraduate Newspaper and is made with the hope that in this book some of the talents inherent in the students will be brought to the fore. When the rabbit woke up he was surprised to see these people down in the gallery of the state. So, if you are so wise—sign up for those activities which will be continued without any lapse until Easter recess.

The News, referring student opinion, believes that some change in our present social activities would be advantageous. The same plan for an Easter recess remains, but there should be added to it some change in the social activities. The students of State College have a right to have Walter and Lorraine's birthday one of the two days added.

The other plan has to do with the activities of the athletic and social clubs. The institution of a spring recess should be considered. State College students have discovered that our vacations do not coincide with the spring vacations of other colleges, and many of us go home. The result of our friends from other schools have already had their vacations and are back in school.

The Easter recess coming so late as it does this year, there is a controversy between the clubs and the administration in the minds of the students. Of course, some clubs always desire more time off. The vacation does not divide the working time evenly. The controversy is not due to the fact that the Easter recess is following the Easter holidays.

Author of the preceding plan sincerely involves an addition to the present number of vacation days of the second semester. The author of the following plan calls into our schedules when we need them most.

You'll find MORE PLEASURE in Chesterfield's milder better taste

...and when you land on Chesterfields you find the three points of smoking pleasure... all you look for in a cigarette

MILDNESS that's refreshing

TASTE that smokers like

AROMA that makes you down-right hungry for a smoke.
