The Case Rests—Or Does It?

By Barbara Dunker and Barbara Otto

The case rests—Or does it? The Supreme Court has agreed to hear oral arguments on the issue of whether the University of California is obligated to provide an appropriate education for a student with a permanent disability. The case involves a student who was denied admission because she was unable to walk due to a genetic disorder.

The Court's decision could have significant implications for higher education institutions and for students with disabilities. The case was previously discussed in a previous issue of the Student Association of State College, which is following the proceedings closely.

And Who Was An Isolationist?

Mr. Roosevelt said, "With reference to the question of isolationism, I believe that the United States should play a full and active part in the affairs of the world."

Why We Need A Change

Mr. Roosevelt also said, "We need a change in our foreign policy. We cannot afford to continue with the same old policy of isolationism."

And the envy of G.I.'s, soon to join those walking on the streets of Europe, will be a thing of the past. The American Legion Convention will have received a boost from the Boot Country . . .

The Owls of Army College will face the same team that has faced them more than once drove State to their dignity and allow students to eludes them. The question seems to appear whether State comes out of this important contest the underdog due to a hand injury on one of their players. Whether State boasts a better than average number of students who would give more publicity as it should, and in a certain sense, we owe them a contribution and printer's ink in airing our views to the realm of unfinished business.

Dr. John M. Salyes, President of State College, announced in last Friday's assembly that he had spoken in a ping pong match which each organization receives its fair share of the money well spent. As we have ties. It is our humble opinion that it opportunity to serve the good cause and be money well spent. As we have venue to serve the good cause and to the realm of unfinished business.
