Dr. A. R. Risley Backs Attempt To Enter State College In Contest

Efforts will be made to have State College entered as a competitor in this year's Intercollegiate Current Events contest. This was made known this week when President A. R. Risley and Dr. B. Brubacher announced that the college will communicate with the New York Times, which is conducting the contest.

Dr. Brubacher has conferred with Prof. Adam W. Rikler, head of the history department and originator of the College's History 11, "History in the Making," course. Dr. Risley has spoken of the contest to the college. Last week the college received an official notice that it will be able to enroll the college in the contest.

Nineteen colleges are already entered for the contest which is designed to stimulate undergraduate interest in what is going on in the world outside college walls as such happenings are related to the course of events of the day. In each college some time in the week, a set of current events will be held, the winner to be selected after a final examination. The winners will be announced Monday, May 14, 1926.

Unqualified approval of the project has been given by Robert T. Ross, editor of the College May Be In the N.Y. Times. A committee representing the state student committee of the United States Military Academy, United States Naval Academy, Vassar college, University of Wisconsin, Yale university, Williams college and Yale university, has been organized to select a committee of five from the colleges entered. It will be observed that five colleges or universities are located in the east, one in the south, seven in the west and six in the north.

The projects are being handled by the New York Times, which is conducting the contest. It is expected that the contest will be in operation in all the major newspaper centers.

TRIAL STARTS MONDAY; JURY WILL BE CHOSEN

The much-touted trial of a juryman in the case of the State of New York v.ASES will be held Monday, May 14, at 10:30 a.m. in room 23. The trial will be conducted by the New York Times, which is conducting the contest.

The cases are being handled by the New York Times, which is conducting the contest. It is expected that the contest will be in operation in all the major newspaper centers.

TALKS ON MENDELIAN LAW, USING LIVE CATS

State College was host to live cats Wednesday night in room 260. The lecture was given by Mr. Robert E. Lassiter, who is a member of the psychology department.

BE ACTIVE CITIZENS

"It is high time that the shameful inaction of citizens who must be held responsible is stopped," Mr. Lloyd-Smith said, "it is essential that the public be made aware of the importance of being active citizens.

"We must not allow ourselves to be taken for granted. We must actively participate in our community and our institutions.

"The other main item of College costs is the education of teachers in favor of the education of students.

"Let us not be complacent. Let us be active citizens, working for the betterment of our community and our institutions.

FROST ACCEPT BUDGET AND ELECT SECRETARY

Cornelia Van Kleeck was selected secretary of the freshman class and Edith Stainer was selected budget secretary of the freshman class meeting Friday.

The freshman class meeting was presided over by President Harlow, who announced that the budget committee had accepted the budget and that the freshman class had elected Cornelia Van Kleeck and Edith Stainer as their budget and secretaries.

The regular meeting of College club was held last Friday afternoon at 3:30. The program featured Mr. Don Woodruff and his topic was "Collecting Flowers."

"Is there such a subject as International Law?" asks Professor

A. W. Tuohy of the Law Department. In an interesting and informative article in the October issue of the Journal of the New York State College of Agriculture, he raises the issue of the recognition and status of international law and its treatment by the United States. In the article, he sets forth the arguments in favor of the traditional view that the United States is not bound by international law, and that it has the right to disregard the principles on which international law is based. He concludes that the United States is not bound by international law,

but that it has the right to disregard the principles on which international law is based.

"Football got its start in State College last Saturday morning when about twenty men met Coach Hubbard at Ridgeway Park to commence their first instruction in the game. It will be in accordance with the state's requirement to remove teachers from certain institutions in that subject."

The list will be shortened during the year," said Miss Lane. "Not only are some students withdrawn at the end of the year. These are drawn, not for the dramatic ability they may possess but for the interest they display in their work and for the amount of work they do."

One method, of course, is to go over the lesson quickly, then to go over it again carefully. For example, "II. Prepare every lesson carefully."

Dr. Francis Eyre, Dean of Teachers at the Albany High School, said: "If there were points you did not understand, do not let them slip."

Dr. Franklin Johnson, head of the library school, said: "If you had difficulty understanding English or history, be sure to understand them."

"III. I will study frequently."

"The B. S. degree is given if one has studied every lesson carefully, so it is really a good degree."

"If you could not understand English or history, be sure to understand them."

"If you had difficulty understanding English or history, be sure to understand them."

"Your daily aim should be to learn your lessons before beginning your study. You will thus form the habit of concentrating your thoughts on the subject at hand."

5. Do not lose time getting ready to study. The teacher will provide you with the material you need to study."

6. Learn to take notes of the suggestions of the teacher. You will thus form the habit of concentrating your thoughts on the subject at hand."

7. Dependability. Miss Katherine B. Wheeling, head of the library school, said: "If you had difficulty understanding English or history, be sure to understand them."

8. Interclass basketball for girls is planned. The girls' track team will be held in May this year. Miss Eyes, captain, announced recently."

"We understand eyes."

Thompson Completes Task Left To Scott; Edits Volume of Mackenzie's Anecdotes

"Anecdotes and Epitaphs of Henry Mackenzie, 1764-1831," Dr. Harold W. Thompson, whose task is to complete a collection of Mackenzie's anecdotes, will be relaxed from Oxford University Press early in April. Dr. Thompson, who has already written in English, spent last year studying in England at a Guggenheim fellowship.

The book contains anecdotes of several important men in England in the eighteenth century, including Pitt, Garrick, and Lord Byron. It will be edited by Dr. Thompson, and published by Oxford University Press.

The book will be edited by Sir Walter Scott, complete to the work. It happened in 1930 that he so to an edition of the book, "Lives of the Authors of the British Museum," that he decided to edit it himself, and he has been working on it ever since.

The book is expected to be published in the spring of 1934.

Rabbi Ranson Addresses Union Vespers Here; Sees More And Varied Religions In Future

In future years mankind will have more and varied religions rather than the one that has been practiced for centuries. Such is the belief of Rabbi Martin Ranson of Temple Beth Emet, who addressed the combined student groups of W. C. A., Bernadette and Vassar clubs in the commons Sun-afternoon at four o'clock. "The future must not be so rigid," she declared, "but must be fied with vision, yearning and creation so that our aspirations will become more spacious."

The possibility to God and responsible living are the fundamentals of our religion," Rabbi Ranson said. Miss Mary Elizabeth Cole, Bernadette, and Miss L. Emmie Thomas, instructor, interpreted the service.

A love note message is veiled by the different self-woven veils.

FRENCH INSTRUCTOR CONValescing FROM NERVOUS COLLAPSE

"I am feeling a little better," Miss Mabel Tallmadge, instructor in French, said in a recent interview with The Statesman. "I am convalescing from a nervous collapse."

Miss Tallmadge is the daughter of Miss L. Tallmadge, superintendent of the Red Cross. Miss Tallmadge has been a teacher of French at the college for the past ten years and is well known for her knowledge of the language.

Team Will Have Little Trouble In Winning Initial Game, Coach Believes

With only two weeks away from the varsity basketball season, it is rapidly forming into form, according to Coach E. Baker, instructor in physical education.

Coach Baker is solving the problems of the schedule for Tuesday and Thursday evening of each week. Weekly practices will be held at the Alumni High School. Clarence Nephew, '28, captain, and his men are looking up well in the practice and should have little trouble in winning the initial games from the Jamaica teachers' quintet, Coach Baker believes.

Competition for positions on the team is greater this year than for several recent years.

Captain Nephew is playing in his old position at center and is fast developing into one of the best pivot men to represent State in years.

Anthony Kauczynski, '28, La Verne Carr, '29, and Francis Griffin, '28, are the forcers.

Judith Herry, '29, and Howard Gott, '28, are being used mainly as centers by Coach Baker. Louis Klein, '28, guard for Jamaica's freshman team, is also trying out for a position as pivot.

Udy Schenk, '29, manager, has an important part to play in the development of the schedule. The team will play Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute Saturday, the New York trip, February 11. Buffalo Normal will play here February 13 instead of the epoch, March 1.

SEVENTEEN INITIATED INTO CLUB WEDNESDAY

Seventeen students were initiated into Chi Omega Wednesday evening in Alumni Hall. A mock wedding, impersonation of Mrs. Taft and Taft, the German music, art and literature, and present conditions in Russia pointed up the subjects of the German department. The seniors have the negative and the juniors the affirmative by the history teachers and to cooperate with the history department.

Senior and sophomore members of the German club, according to the German department, spoke at the meeting of German club Friday evening.

The club will meet Wednesday of the coming week to members of the arts and sciences association in enforcing the ruling.

The committee includes Helen Tomlinson, '27, chairman; Mary Neville, '27; Josephine Brown, '28; Caroline Schlecht, '28; Janumia McCarry, '28; Karoline Tympany, '28; Marion Monroe, '29.

QUARTERLY READY FOR DISTRIBUTION IN WEEK

The State College Quarterly will probably be distributed next week, according to Julia Pay, editor-in-chief.

An exchange department will feature in the coming issue of the Quarterly with contributions from the Farmington "Tangy" and Mr. Holody's "Baked Table." A quartet singing only in German music, art and literature and present conditions in Russia pointed up the subjects of the German department. The seniors have the negative and the juniors the affirmative by the history teachers and to cooperate with the history department.

SENIOR-JUNIOR DEBATE SUBJECT IS ANNOUNCED

The subject of the senior-junior debate is "Resolved, That the United States should recognize the present government of Persia. The seniors have the negative and the junior the affirmative role of the argument.
