FRESHMEN'S IDOL RETURNS

Riz Reports Conditions in Europe

Ada Wool Ridley, professor of history, who has been absent on sabbatical leave for a year, returned to college a week ago, following fifteen months' observation in the countries which he traveled in nearly every continental country, besides England, and northern Africa.

Returning to State College probably one of the best informed men in this country on European affairs, outside of the state department, Professor Ridley will use his first hand knowledge in his future courses.

Most important among his many impressions he believes are these:

Europe will go to war again in twenty years.

Germany's spirit is broken, but only temporarily.

Austria is "out of it."

"The United States is one of the very few countries in the world that really teaches and preaches ideals.

But this is not the European interpretation of this country. Europe still thinks we are dollar chasers.

The American newspapers are the only ones in the world that really try to educate their readers.

Conflicting racial ideas, backgrounds, customs, are so important, aspirations, preclude possibility of permanent peace.

The Dawes plan is the best possible solution for Germany economically.

The United States must not get in on the next European catastrophe which will come before 1945.

Professor Ridley sums up the entire European situation in this manner:

"Europe is today side by side of war, hoping for peace, but every country that can is aiming to defend itself and preparing at top speed for another conflict. The common people in all nations do not want war, but they haven't the say. And—if the common people want something and can't get it without war they will want it and they will get it. The Dawes plan, if followed will save Germany. But it may foretell the return into power of a German that does not believe she is responsible for the last war. Today the nations are too uneasy to fight. But they will not remain so long."

STATE OPENS FOOTBALL SEASON

State College football team began practice last week immediately after the opening of college in charge of the new coach, Rutherford F. Baker, former Temple University, Philadelphia three letter man. Coach Baker succeeded Fritz R. Wagner who is principal of a school at Maine this year.

About twenty-five men reported for practice and the coach believes the team will make a creditable record, building on its experience. While this is only the third year the college has had a varsity football team, he believes prospects are good for a season.

Several letter men and a number of other veterans are back this year. Captain F. Roberts is out for tackle position and former Captain Crawford will be one of the quarterbacks. Saxe, Crawford, Gile, Gerow, Horn, Hoyes, Judge, Campbell, Denney, and Gainor are some of the other former players out.

The freshman class has offered about ten aspirants for the team. They include Nelson, Grimes, Michels, Kenan, Azayak and Dobris.

Coxon, Beaver, Hoyes, Luder, Davies, O'Brien are among last year's men who are not in college.

The team will play six games, four away and two at Albany. The first game will be with Westchester Tech at Westchester October 11. The Union freshmen, Springfield College, Manhattan College, Rensselaer Polytechnic, Institute freshmen and Colgate freshmen try the other games. The Colgate and Manhattan contests will be at home still, the coach thinks. Colgate and Spring- field will be played at Ridley Park.

The practice is being held at Leverburgh park.

ART EXHIBIT

For the next two weeks there is to be an exhibit of wood blocks in the Art department, Room 208, which the entire student body is urged to attend. These blocks are of the work of Charles W. Bartlett and depict scenes from India and Japan. This is a rare opportunity to see a collection of this kind, and it is only through the efforts of the Art department that State has been fortunate enough to secure the display.

CO-OP URGES CO-OPRATION

Throughout the past four years the "Co-op" has endeavored to give service to State College students. Since its establishment in 1920 it has striven to meet as nearly as possible all the needs of the college students. These students, all of whom have had occasion to profit by the facilities it offers, realize how noble and hardly a book store run in conjunction with the college is.

Do they also realize that the "Co-op" faces a big problem due to student mismanagement? Do they realize that the losses and profits of these years are due to student mismanagement? Do they realize that the losses and profits of these years are due to student mismanagement? Do they realize that the losses and profits of these years are due to student mismanagement? The "Co-op" is asking for your help this year by cutting down on your purchases and re-selling your collection of books. All students are asked to co-operate in helping Y. W. make the Lost and Found box do better and more efficient service this year by buying from the "Co-op" and not from other stores. Show your respect for the "Co-op" by not holding high enough averages. The 340 students remaining form the class of 1928.

FRESHMEN HIGHLY INTELLIGENT

Registration this year totals about five hundred. In 1928 out of 1,100 students. This, Dr. Brubacher says, is 250 more than the buildings were originally planned for. The freshman class believes the students, after consultation with the psychology and education departments, are slightly higher in intelligence than usual, since it represents the one-fourth of the students for admission who were able to gain entrance. Twelve hundred and sixty applications were received for the college. Six hundred could not satisfy requirements or make other arrangements. Two hundred lacked one or more required subjects for entrance. The remaining 150 had studied at Spanish high schools but had not held high enough averages. The 340 students remaining form the class of 1928.

LOST AND FOUND

All students are asked to co-operate in helping Y. W. make the Lost and Found box do better and more efficient service this year than it has done in the past.

The proposed system is as follows:

As before, all articles found about the college buildings will be deposited in the Lost and Found box by the News office. Persons losing articles are asked to place a written notice in the Lost and Found box containing the following information:

1. Name of student.
2. Date of writing.
3. Detailed description of article lost.
4. Approximate date of loss.

Two weeks from the date of the notice the contents will be returned. Persons receiving articles are asked to sign the register. The article will not be returned. The remaining, if not claimed within three weeks will later be offered.

If father did the washing just once!

If every father did the family washing next Monday there would be an electric washing machine in every home before next Saturday night.

For fathers are used to figuring costs. They'd say: "The electricity for a week's washing costs less than a cake of soap. Human time and strength are too precious for work which a machine can do so cheaply and well."

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR039 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

Dr. Painter, professor of philosophy returned to State College from an allsummer trip to Palestine and Greece, during which he visited places of historical and classical interest.

"I gained great enjoyment in my travels around the Mediterranean and throughout the Near East. Everything has been fascinating and I have learned much about the ancient civilizations of Egypt, Greece, and Rome."

"We visited the pyramids, the Sphinx, and the ancient ruins of Athens and Corinth. I was particularly impressed with the beauty of the ancient architecture and the grandeur of the ancient cities."

"During my stay in Greece, I visited the archaeological sites of Delphi, Olympia, and Syracuse. I was especially struck by the beauty of the ancient sculptures and the grandeur of the ancient temples."

"The trip was truly educational and I hope to continue my studies of the ancient world in the future."

"I also hope to return to Egypt and Greece in the future to explore these ancient lands in even greater depth."

After his return, Dr. Painter will resume his teaching duties at State College.

Q. A. A.

Any possible clue that the thirteenth of September might have cast on N. Y. S. C. T. freshmen was received by the prompt action of the Q. A. A. which prepared itself to 1928 in a picturesque spot in the cafeteria. On account of the rain and darkness, the Q. A. A. was forced to move its activities to other places, but the students were delighted with the change of plans as one of the jolliest of occasions.
