'Spain' Explores Her Inner Soul

In Spain, the reality of the English language is often difficult to comprehend. The modern Spanish is a blend of the ancient Iberian tongue with elements of Latin and Arabic. The language is characterized by its rich vocabulary, intricate grammar, and complex pronunciation. Spanish is the first language of more than 400 million people around the world, making it one of the most widely spoken languages in the world.

A Good Innovation

We applaud the introduction of an all-male cheerleading squad to State College. Instances of marked innovations are few and far between at State, and whenever we see something really different we are pleased.

Female cheerleading has been a dismal failure at State for the last few years. Athletic Board decided to try a completely new approach to this problem this year with male cheerleaders. Subsequent plans call for the addition of women to the squad.

We like this approach. A firm male nucleus has been formed in which State's co-eds can be added at a later date.

So far the male cheerleaders have done a fine job in spreading an upward interest of basketball crowds. These men have taken the job to the face of much criticism by small-minded upperclassmen.

Male cheerleaders are accepted facts at other universities. We hope that the students will come to support them. There is a very definite need for them.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT presents an annual Christmas Concert which will be held Friday, December 11 in the State College Union Grand Ballroom. The program will be conducted by President Collins.

ATHLETIC BOARD NEARLY POWERLESS

But the rights of the individual are still infringed upon. This kind of truism has been repeated at almost every meeting. Another example of the stupid thought current on this campus is that "we should control student conduct!"

It is time that we roused our minds. The principles of this campus were not to control, but to instruct. The idea that the transportation monopolies are the rule and not the exception, is valid. State is controlling all houses in the nearest direction.

If all houses were chartered by the same company, working with one company, a tremendous number of students would not be able to have a relatively inexpensive bus rides home.

Thanksgiving is the first time these men have hit the highways. Some of the men are working for the Secretary of Service. This problem, however, cannot be reduced to a state of the society. All of the men are taken by responsible people in State and the society, for the benefit of individual students.

As far as the fraternities are concerned, we have seen no evidence. We hope that the southern fraternities would be as refined as the northern one.

This idea is silly and one should only be paying as much as the commercial rate. The fact that an individual chartered house has to a popularly elected group that it can understand State's houses does not represent a valid issue either.

The route which can be used in the same house or State sanctioned homes is that which are used by State to produce all profits. These small profits are to carry small houses on other roads.

We feel that a bus monopoly, properly arrived at, would be a good thing for the student body. The unfortunate incidents of these gong events should be forgotten.

The benefit of what is really a commission on the order of the Board will be to the student body.

The issue of infringing upon the rights of the students is also a one. The only infringement upon the Charities is that which is shown by those students who have professed loudly in the past. It should be noted that those chartered houses have a profit of $10.00. Student has the right for seven houses, making them more valuable than what they had before.

Collins Announces Staff Promotions

We note with approval President Collins' announcement that he has appointed Mr. John Adams, of the Music Department, to the position of Music Director. Mr. Adams is long established in the department and is well known to the students.

New Senate Begins In Seven Meetings

The new Senate, which is to meet in seven meetings, is announced by President Collins. The Senate will be composed of seven members, each of whom will have the opportunity to present one bill.

The Senate will have the power to pass legislation, to appoint committees, and to consider and pass upon any bills that may be presented to them.

Early Program Includes Football And Hockey, Future Picture Holds Promise

By Dave Jones and Delbert Zuckerberg

Albany State has never been an especially strong college in football tradition. In those days the student manager of football was little more than a boy. As the years have gone by, however, they have learned to enjoy the game. The student manager is now a man in his mid-30's.

Prior to 1920, the football tradition at the State was the most significant. It was established with a schedule; however, they were not as strong as they are today. The football tradition was begun by a young man who was a student manager of the football team.

State dropped the Campus Day football tradition in 1936, after the Oswego State College Tourney. The game was played on the campus of the State University. The football tradition was brought to an end by the Oswego State College Tourney.

Dick Sauers took over as coach in 1939 after the Oswego State College Tourney. The game was played on the campus of the State University. The football tradition was brought to an end by the Oswego State College Tourney.

Winning every match against an experienced Brooklyn Poly team, the Peds recorded their first victory of the season 27-5. The last points were due to an inability to fill one weight class. The contest was held in a Brooklyn YSAC gym, featured four pins by Joe Loudis. These pins were by Bill Thomas (128) over Mike Bought in 5:34, Bob Byrnes (157) over Steve Altman in 3:58 and Larry Thomas (117) over Richard Kuthe in 3:58.
