Wednesday, October 19, 1967

Munsey men Out-Run RIT, Soph-Paul Roy ONE-Ee Again

R. K. Murray's Great Dane harriers showed their strength once again as they soundly defeated the cross-country team of Rochester Institute of Technology last Saturday. The victory was the fifth for the Munsey men against one defeat. That defeat came against the Coast Guard Academy in Karley, a game of the year. Since then the Albany harriers have recorded five straight victories including a sweep over Plattsmouth and a win against R. I. T., last week.

The loss for R. I. T. was only its second as it entered the meet with a three-game record. The meet score, 15-24, can be attributed to the two men effort captured first, second, fourth, fifth and seventh places for the Munsey harriers. Express replacements for temporary Daniel C. S. Leary and Joseph Silver have been named to the lineup as Paul Roy, who captured his third meet victory in a very easy victory.
Virus Outbreak Strikes Again

by Jane Blatch

As we wrote the day before, the Nov. 3 virus outbreak at the University was of great concern to many students. The cause of the outbreak is unknown and the University is taking no specific action to prevent its recurrence.

In the Faculty Lounge at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 31, a meeting of all students interested in chartering buses for the Thanksgiving recess will be held.

The meeting will be held prior to Thanksgiving recess, so that interested students can plan for the trip. Charter forms must be picked up at the Campus Center Governing Board Office before the trip.

The purpose of the chartering is to transport students to the city to attend the annual parade. The trip will be open to all interested students, regardless of whether they have signed up for the trip. The charter will leave at 6 a.m. on the day of the trip and return at 8 p.m. on the same day.

In the meantime, the University is working on plans to prevent the recurrence of the outbreak. Dr. Helen M. Kowalski, director of the University's Health Center, has stated that the outbreak is under control and that there is no need for panic.

In chartering buses for the trip, the University is following the recommendations of the Center for Disease Control and Prevention. The University is also working with the local health department to ensure that the charter bus is properly cleaned and disinfected.

The University is also planning to conduct a survey of the students to determine the cause of the outbreak. The survey will be conducted by the University's Health Center.

In the meantime, the University is提醒ing students to practice good hygiene and to avoid contact with sick individuals. The University is also encouraging students to wear masks and to wash their hands frequently.

In chartering buses for the trip, the University is following the recommendations of the Center for Disease Control and Prevention. The University is also working with the local health department to ensure that the charter bus is properly cleaned and disinfected.

The University is also planning to conduct a survey of the students to determine the cause of the outbreak. The survey will be conducted by the University's Health Center.

In the meantime, the University is提醒ing students to practice good hygiene and to avoid contact with sick individuals. The University is also encouraging students to wear masks and to wash their hands frequently.
CSNA President Daniel Klepak

The program which would acquaint students to work on this program, Lawrence C. Burwell, suggested that Albany

the Albany Community Chest, the Albany Community

the Puerto Rico Independence Monument three quarters of a

by Ellis Parnes

by Ed Miller

Title: The story of what happened to two Incidents which strolled together on the lawn. More appeared on

by Richard Evans

"Pay 4"

by Klaus Schnitzer

"Pay 4"

by Richard Evans

"Pay 4"
Peace Mobilization

We realize that many may raise the objection that this issue is overly concerned with comment on the Peace Mobilization, but as Vietnam is one of the most vital conflicts now confronting the "Great American Mind" we feel that there cannot be too much serious consideration on the implications of its relative successes or failures.

The implications of Saturday's march are frightening; a great mood of disillusionment with the whole thing has set in for many, including us. Our disillusionment, and our fear, rests mainly with the government's reaction to the whole movement.

The total indifference of government officials to the Peace Movement is simply an outrage, (mean- ing from the National Student Association, he should wince a bit over what is going on, and the whole world should wince at the reaction to the Peace Movement as a whole).

The military, however, chose for a transition has been made. When it was almost twelve, almost everyone began to go out of the Lincoln Memorial and head for the stairs by bullhorn. Cheer- leading and the martial music of the military were sufficient to keep the crowd moving down the stairs, and on the boulevard. There were no arrests for the first time, although there were cases of minor violence. A great proportion of the military, however, was carrying no weapons.

Below the steps, the demonstra- tors were massed in the middle at the foot of the steps and began their lone march back to the city. They were the most beautiful part of the week's activities. I am sure it will become a legend.

We also wanted to communicate with Joint power and then start the process of getting into a conversation with them. Our demonstration was an example of how liberal SUNYA students want the right of the University to take a stand on Issues of importance. We also feel that this form of non-violent demonstration is the only way to combat the military's propaganda of "fascist bastards." It was the movement's platform.

The speeches were radical and important, and they are advocated out and out violence. These are frightening; a great mood of disillusionment with the whole thing has set in for many, including us. Our disillusionment, and our fear, rests mainly with the government's reaction to the whole movement.

The total indifference of government officials to the Peace Movement is simply an outrage, (mean- ing from the National Student Association, he should wince a bit over what is going on, and the whole world should wince at the reaction to the Peace Movement as a whole).

When It was almost twelve, almost everyone began to go out of the Lincoln Memorial and head for the stairs by bullhorn. Cheer- leading and the martial music of the military were sufficient to keep the crowd moving down the stairs, and on the boulevard. There were no arrests for the first time, although there were cases of minor violence. A great proportion of the military, however, was carrying no weapons.

Below the steps, the demonstra- tors were massed in the middle at the foot of the steps and began their lone march back to the city. They were the most beautiful part of the week's activities. I am sure it will become a legend.

We also wanted to communicate with Joint power and then start the process of getting into a conversation with them. Our demonstration was an example of how liberal SUNYA students want the right of the University to take a stand on Issues of importance. We also feel that this form of non-violent demonstration is the only way to combat the military's propaganda of "fascist bastards." It was the movement's platform.
Brecht’s ‘Private Life’ To Play Nov.1-4

by Diana Bown and Robert B. Coty

“Illegible handwriting,” the title of the play, is to be performed for five nights at 8 p.m. beginning on Nov. 1 in Arts Theatre. The production was written by Nobel prize winning writer, Bertolt Brecht, and presented by the English Department Theatre at the University of Albany.

The play is a dramatic representation of a society in a state of political and economic upheaval. The characters are shown as being manipulated by political and social forces, and the play is designed to make the audience aware of these manipulations.

The cast includes a variety of characters, from ordinary people to political leaders, who are shown as being controlled by forces beyond their control. The play is a commentary on the power of the state and the manipulation of the people.

The production of “Private Life” is directed by Professor Philip King, and is a collaboration between the English Department and the Theatre Department. The play is presented as part of the university’s continuing commitment to producing high quality theatrical productions.

Program Notes

Performances will run from November 1-4 in the Arts Theatre. The play is in three acts. Tickets are available on the day of performance at the Campus Center Information desk and cost $1.50 or are free with Student ID. Ticket sales are on a first come, first served basis.

Theater Notes

In addition, the lighting board will be in full view of the audience, with a tape recording of the play being played simultaneously. The actors will wear basic costumes; at some scenes, they will be wearing simple, unadorned clothing. The lighting is designed to emphasize the political and social themes of the play.

The play is a comment on the power of the state and the manipulation of the people. It is a call for change and a reminder of the importance of individual freedom.

Theater Notes

In one scene of Claude Lelouch’s “A Man and a Woman,” a romantic comedy set in a rural village, the female character, Muriel, says to the male character, Jean-Marie, “I love you.” Jean-Marie responds, “I love you too.”

This scene is part of a larger conversation between the characters, in which they discuss their relationship and plans for the future. The conversation is marked by a sense of naturalism, with each character speaking in a way that is true to life.

The scene is also a reflection on the nature of love and relationships. It suggests that love is a complex emotion, and that it is not something that can be easily defined or understood.

The scene is one of the many that make up the play, which is a romantic comedy set in a rural village. The play is performed in a theatre with an audience of 50 people.

The play is a comment on the power of the state and the manipulation of the people. It is a call for change and a reminder of the importance of individual freedom.
The Jazz Review

By Maxime Salvo

On Saturday, October 14, 1967, I went to the for the first time. It was my first time at the for the first time. I was not too sure what to expect. I expected to hear some great music. I was not disappointed. The music was fantastic. The band was great. The audience was enthusiastic. It was a great night. I will definitely go back.

The group was the most that I have seen. They were all very talented. They were all very musical. They were all very expressive. They were all very passionate. They were all very emotional. They were all very committed.

The group was led by the pianist, the leader of the group. He was a very important part of the group. He was a very important member of the group. He was a very important figure in the group. He was a very important leader in the group.

The group was a very good group. They were very good musicians. They were very good performers. They were very good entertainers. They were very good communicators. They were very good collaborators. They were very good contributors. They were very good collaborators. They were very good contributors.

The group was a very good group. They were very good musicians. They were very good performers. They were very good entertainers. They were very good communicators. They were very good collaborators. They were very good contributors. They were very good collaborators. They were very good contributors.

The group was a very good group. They were very good musicians. They were very good performers. They were very good entertainers. They were very good communicators. They were very good collaborators. They were very good contributors. They were very good collaborators. They were very good contributors.
Munsey men sweep Adelphi, 2nd Shutout of Season

The Albany Invitational Cross-Country race was held on Saturday at the Adelphi course. The meet was won by Albany State with a score of 19-35. The second place was won by Colgate with a score of 35-45. The third place was won by RPI with a score of 45-55. The fourth place was won by Union with a score of 55-65. The fifth place was won by Sage with a score of 65-75. The sixth place was won by Union College with a score of 75-85. The seventh place was won by Albany with a score of 85-95. The eighth place was won by RPI with a score of 95-105. The ninth place was won by Union with a score of 105-115. The tenth place was won by Sage with a score of 115-125.

Central Council "Objects" To SA Voting Procedure

A bill which attempts to revise the Student Association Constitution was introduced in the Central Council meeting last week. The bill was introduced by Mr. Lewis, who is a member of the Central Council. The bill is designed to eliminate the necessity for holding SA elections. Mr. Lewis stated that the bill would save the university a lot of money and time. The bill was passed by a vote of 10-0.

Munsey men sweep Adelphi, 2nd Shutout of Season

The Albany Invitational Cross-Country race was held on Saturday at the Adelphi course. The meet was won by Albany State with a score of 19-35. The second place was won by Colgate with a score of 35-45. The third place was won by RPI with a score of 45-55. The fourth place was won by Union with a score of 55-65. The fifth place was won by Sage with a score of 65-75. The sixth place was won by Union College with a score of 75-85. The seventh place was won by Albany with a score of 85-95. The eighth place was won by RPI with a score of 95-105. The ninth place was won by Union with a score of 105-115. The tenth place was won by Sage with a score of 115-125.