Baseball -- Tennis -- Hikes -- Hockey -- Soccer

This is our program this year. Does it interest you? It does. We are here to learn more than subject-matter, to keep our intellect shapely, our home in condition, and our standards high. Here we have a chance to do all these things. After our physical house slows down all slows up. A dull eye means a dull head. So let's keep steam up and give the engine a little run every day.

Here is how we will do it. A tennis tournament for the women, one for the men, and one for mixed doubles. When you aren't playing a championship match, take a friend and run over to Washington Park or to Ridgeland, where the court on the campus. Tennis is fine and exhilarating. It stimulates the eye, foot, hand and brain to sharp-edge, our house in condition, and our standards high. When one of these three strikes, they all do it, for they are inseparably linked. DR. A. R. BRUBACHER

Dr. Brubacher, President of the College, will not be at State this summer, but will live to have you know him by sight, at least. He was graduated from Yale in the class of 1897, and since has received his Ph.D. there.

Since graduation he has taught Greek at William Seminary, Electra, among others, and at Yale Col­lege. He has also been principal of the Schenectady and Gloversville High Schools. After his principalship in Schenectady he was super­intendent of schools in that city. Since 1915 he has been president of State. Among some of his publica­tions are the English grammar by Brubacher and Snyder, and the Latin grammar by him.

COMMUNITY CHORUS

Music Faculty Introduced

Beginning Monday evening, July 11, at 8:30 o'clock, a Community Chorus for the students and faculty of the Summer Session and open to the public without charge will be held each week in the College Auditorium. It will be in the charge of Dr. Harold W. Thompson, Mr. Frederick T. Candlyn and Mr. Ernest G. Hesser, and will afford a means of recreation for the students and their friends as well as an opportunity of observing the methods employed in directing the singing of a large group of people. Special features will be introduced each evening.

The first program will serve as an introduction to the faculty of the Music Department, and will consist of singing by the chorus under the direction of Dr. Thompson, with Mr. Candlyn at the piano. (Mr. Hesser will also give selections.)

When the courts don't appeal, a hike or a stroll to some interesting spot is well in order. Your only difficulty will be to select the destination, for the places of interest in and about Albany are too numerous to catalogue here. So be sure to hike some of the first two weeks to condition yourself for the trips to Indian Ladder and the third Saturday. Everybody takes this in.

For the people who—women or men—love rough and vigorous sports (or just want to get out of the heat)—baseball, too. A series of three games between two picked teams, and perhaps a team to represent the College in a game with some outside club.

A big field day will be held late in the session at Ridgeland, field day, except for the baseball game. The "Pasts" may rival the "Pasts" at any time of the year, but this is a real chance for a game against the "Futters".

FACULTY AND STUDENT RECEPTION

Opening Function of Session

Although we shall all try to make you feel very much at home here during this first week when we meet in classes and about the College halls, perhaps not every one will yet have a name of belonging to State College. To prevent such a grievous thing you are to be wel­comed at an informal reception in the gymnasium on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

It has not been definitely decided just how the affair will begin. Perhaps there will be a reciting line, or you may be given little slips of paper with your name on to wear so that it will facilitate introduc­tions. Whatever plan the commit­tee may have developed we may be sure it is a good one. Here is your opportunity to meet all of the fac­ulty, too. They really are very jolly.

In the midst of a general uproar of voices someone in the balcony will make an effort to be heard. This means that the program is about to be announced. There will be speeches by Dr. A. R. Bru­bacher, President of the College; Dean H. H. Hoener, Director of the Summer Session; and Harold C. Baldwin, 22 Chairman of the Stud­ents' Summer Session Committee. The talks will be followed by vocal

FIFTH SUMMER SESSION

WELCOME

What’s worse than going to a strange place where there is no one to welcome you? State College isn’t like that, unless you consider almost a hundred students as nobody.

There are, to be sure, some who can’t find their way around. But if you give them a hearty welcome, and you won’t be sorry, and your heart will be filled with joy just as it is every time your life, for they are regular State College students and know what a fine place it is.

This really is one of the best colleges in the world, and not only that. We want to make it yours, and we can do that only when you come half way. Do your share and we’ll try to do our best to make you very happy and welcome. In your Alma Mater.

The most effecting way to make people feel that college is of vital interest to all is through student self-expression and suggestions.

The way that you can all express your opinions to State’s staff and good points is through the columns of our "News," which is always more than glad to publish them at any time.

They say that "any old place has its home, sweet home." Please try to hang your hats somewhere around State.

JOIN THE STUDENT ASOCIATION

State College believes in some work and some play—not all work and no play. It does believe that people can have more pleasure if they cooperate than if each seeks enjoyment by himself.

Membership in the Association is open to all students, and the tickets admitting to all the fun of the Summer Session are on sale at one dollar each. For this sum you will receive the Admission Ticket, which gives you the right to enter the building at any time.

ALL HAIL TO THE STATE COLLEGE NEWS

Everyone has had to depend upon the bulletin boards and local newspapers for announcements of college activities. Make it YOUR NEWS.

In addition to this wonderful opportunity the dollar admits you to all Friday night entertainments. They include Miss Luegger’s readings, an account of which is given on the front page. After the readings unique entertainments will be given in the gymnasium.

The department is in the Manhattan’s carnival which surpasses Barnum and Bailey’s greatest, and all the features are dancing on the campus, lots of poppy seed, and the best ice cream in the city.

Six weeks for a dollar! For 65 cents you receive one copy of the "News" and one evening of fun which is guaranteed to make you forget all the worries of the teaching profession.

GET YOUR TICKETS EARLY!

DEAN OF WOMEN

Broadly speaking, the general welfare of the women students is the task assigned to the Dean of Women.

Imagine an average high school graduate is, at the age of only two months, sent as a vacation, been added, separated from her parents, often for the first time, and placed under an entirely new environment with the adjustments involved in such a situation. Multitude the long freshmen get by five hundred or more, and one can partially realize what she is assigned means. To this group add four hundred or more other women who will not advance to the upper classes but still have problems which they bring to the office of the Dean of Women, and no imagination is needed to see that the task is thus increased.

The adjustments to be made by the freshmen might be roughly grouped under two heads: first, those of daily living which relationships have been determined by her parents; second, those of working conditions which have largely been determined by her teachers. Now, these conditions in both living and working are to be chosen or determined by the student herself with some guidance by the Dean of Women.

The first problem for the Dean of Women in this connection is to include a certain degree of self-confidence and self-direction; a high degree of decision and independence; a sufficient experience and judgment have been acquired to judge the two entirely to her own initiative.

The problem is that it takes much time, energy, patience, perseverance, and sympathy. The Dean of Women must intervene in all the various affairs that come to the office of the Dean of Women.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES

State College has seven sororities and four fraternities, which are institutes of a social, intellectual, and social life of the College; the sororities, by having an annual intersession party, an intrasorority party in the social hour, and the fraternities by holding at least two dances, and the fraternities by holding three or four dances, the sororities furnishing something of dormitory life, since all but one maintain houses. The freshmen gave up their houses during the war. However, one is now maintained on the campus.

Membership to the sororities is by invitation and is to a certain degree of scholarship and campus activities. The names of the sororities and fraternities and the dates of founding and the locations of the houses, are as follows:

Sororities
- Alpha Epsilon Phi, Eta Chapter, 1917
- Delta Delta, 1917
- Gamma Phi, 1920
- Kappa Xi, 1917
- Mu Xi, 1917
- Nu Xi, 1917
- Theta Xi, 1917

Fraternities
- Pi Kappa Phi, 1917
- Phi Beta, 1917
- Sigma Xi, 1923
- Zeta Phi Beta, 1918

COLLEGE OF THE EMPIRE STATE

DEAN PIERCE

Here is a picture of the Dean of Women at our winter session. Miss Pierce was graduated from this institution when it was a State Normal school in 1890, and from State College in 1910. Dean Pierce will not be held at our summer school either.

The motions of good fellowship and social life of the College; the sororities and three fraternities for the purpose of gaiety and comfortable surroundings and to fill the somewhat empty halls of the College are as follows:

Our Publications

First Summer "News" Note that you have glanced through the first issue of the "State College News" that has now been published in the Almanac issue, perhaps you would like to know something of the paper's history.

The "News" is published weekly throughout the college year, and its aims are to represent all of the activities and interests of the college.

The college weekly had its beginning on Moving-Up Day, 1916, when the class of 1916 presented an allegory, the object of which was to show the advantages of a college education. The editor-in-chief of the paper was Dr. Broderick, and it was a result of the president of 1916, Alfred E. Peckham, who was published in an Almanac issue for 1916. The first issue of "News" was published in 1916.

With autumn, 1917, came a new change, when the former editor, also the editor of the "Quarterly" was replaced. The former editor was Dr. Broderick, and the latter editor was Dr. Broderick.

The "Quarterly" is State College's literary publication. As is admitted by the student body, its contents and life of the good exchangers brought here from other colleges.

About Moving-Up Day everyone looks forward to the publication of the "Pelagian", the college year-book, which is a publication of the class, the student activities of the whole college for the current year, humorous or satirical expressions of college life, and lots of jokes on college people.

There is still another publication which belongs to State, but which is not published by students who are here now. It is the "Alpha Quarterly", and it is published by the

I WAS WONDERING ABOUT EDISON’S QUESTIONS

Mr. Edison has been having a Lot of fun.
Lately.
With his Questionnaire.

If you want a
Job, you just ask.

About what it
Cops and where is Tallahassee and who
Was Alexander Graham
Why.

And do they think
Greenland is bigger Than Antarctica, and
How did they guess.

And where do
Sardines come from.
And if they can’t Answer most of the Questions they are
N. G.

The big idea.
Is this.
If a fellow has been through College and hasn’t Learned to keep
His eyes open
He isn’t the kind
Edison wants.

The idea is all Right, I don’t Know about the Questionnaire.

Half of us don’t Wake up until
It’s time to go
To bed
Every day.

We go around
As if we were Walking in our Sleep.

And there are whole
Worlds of knowledge
Lying around lost.

For us to pick Up.

If we’re alive.
And we’ll
Keep our eyes
Open.

And our mind Interested.

We don’t need to
Have wonderful Memories.

Oodles of knowledge
Will soak in.

Like we were
A sponge.

I was wondering
If I didn’t;
Better wake up, I

Maybe I could
Know something myself.

Some day.

If I live
Long enough.

STUDY WE MUST

Pleasant as it is to study about the campus, it is equally enjoyable to do reference work in our college library which is well equipped. We are sure you will find everything convenient and comfortable.

In order that you may get that history assignment prepared the library will be open from nine until five each day.

The Pine Hills library on Ontario street, the Y. M. A. library in the Hampton-Bleecker building, on Washington avenue near Lark street, and the State Education building are nearby and may be of some help to you.

Spend one of those rainy afternoons — perhaps there will be a few this summer — exploring not only in the library and at the “Ed.” building but also in the museum.
