Leap Year Question To Be Topic Of Assembly Today

The juniors and freshmen, in the closing session of the annual Senior-Junior Debate, will take part in the second of the series of debates. The discussion will cover the topic: "The assembly should be the supreme governing body of the college." The speakers will be: Seniors, James G. Ross, chairman, and John Jackson, associate speaker; Juniors, Mildred Nightingale, chairman, and Frances Gillis, associate speaker.

The junior team will argue against the proposition that the assembly should be the supreme governing body of the college. The debate will be held at 11:10 a.m. in the chapel, followed by refreshments in the dormitory lounge. The junior team will present their arguments in a series of six minutes for the rebuttal.

The junior team will argue that the assembly should not be the supreme governing body of the college. The debate will be held at 11:10 a.m. in the chapel, followed by refreshments in the dormitory lounge. The junior team will present their arguments in a series of six minutes for the rebuttal.

Faculty Members

Committee on Student Ceremonies

The committee on student ceremonies is composed of Ethel Little, Grace Richardson, and Alice Barlow; and the following members of last year's committee: Helen McGown, Mildred Nightingale, and Marion Hall. The committee will hold its next meeting on Monday, April 17, at 12:15 p.m. in the dormitory lounge.

Reservations Ask Return of Data

The Point System Revision committee will conduct a point system survey to determine the effectiveness of the current point system. The survey will be conducted by means of questionnaires distributed to students. The results of the survey will be compiled and analyzed to determine whether the point system is fair and equitable.

State College Will Be Scene Of Regional N.S.F.A. Conference

New York State College for Women will host the college of the Middle Atlantic district for the regional conference of the National Student Federation of America, including colleges in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and New York. The conference will be held on March 30 and 31, and will include a variety of activities, including workshops, seminars, and panel discussions. The conference will be attended by a large number of students, faculty, and staff from the region. The conference is an opportunity for students to network, learn about issues affecting college students, and participate in discussions on important topics.

Co-ed To Assume Male Duties In Residence Council Tomorrow Night

The Alumni Residence Hall, Delta Omega, will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow night. The event will feature a dance, where the women will be dancing and the men will be in charge of the gate. The dance will be open to all students of State, there is no need to make a reservation. This is a great opportunity for students to meet new people and enjoy a fun evening. The event is free, and all are welcome to attend.

Silver Bay Plans Include Movies, Panel Discussion

The Silver Bay team will begin the showing of their film at 8:00 p.m. in the chapel. The film will be followed by a panel discussion of their impressions. The panel will include representatives from different academic departments, and will provide a variety of perspectives on the film.

IT SHOULD BE PASSED

An act before the state legislature worthy of attention by State students is one which, if passed, doubtless will have a significant effect on the lives of each and all of its members. This act is the one that provides for a more effective educational system in the state.

The issue of educational reform is a complex one, involving not only the state government but also the citizens and the faculty at State College. The act before the legislature is a step in the right direction.

It is hoped that the state legislature will pass this act in order to provide a better education for all students in the state.

The act is a necessary step towards a more effective and efficient educational system in the state. It is hoped that the state legislature will give this act the consideration it deserves.

The act is a step towards a brighter future for all students in the state.

Bay Window Ballads, by David McCord; drawings by Lucie Agostin, Phyllis Kurkbill, Ella Gifford, Mercian Gould, Marjorie Jobson, Phyllis Lichtenstein, Margaret Woodruff, seniors: Alice Barrows, Viola Buth Gillespie, Marie Geesler, Mary Hudson, Aubrey Auoeel, Manager

The groupings in Bay Window Ballads also include "Julian's Window", by "Women's Auxiliary", "Comradely Corner", by "Kitchen Canton", "Secret Swears", and, paradoxical, "Kiss the Dust", in a "Napoleonic" style. The ballads are written in verse and prose, in a highly realistic fashion.

The setting was a good attempt at background, and the performances were good, with the exception of one. The one unfortunate mistake in the production was the overemphasis on the humor by the actors in a manner obvious to the audience. This was a case where the idea of a humorous play was carried too far. The humor was forced and did not fit the play.

G.M.U.

G.M.U., next year as a goal toward which they might guide those who now hold some office has already been set forth. It is under way by the Point System Revision Committee. The present system is no longer considered adequate, and a new one is being proposed. The new system will be voted on by the student association for adoption and approval before the end of the current term.

The new system will be a more fair and unbiased method of determining the point system. It will be a system that is based on merit and not on the slandering of other students.

G.M.U.

There is a lack of real, clear-cut characters. The lines make little sense, and the plot is confusing. The book is not a publication of the college for teachers.

It is hoped that the new system will be a success, and that the students will be able to use it to their advantage.

Attention, Hollywood!

J. T. TENMOUTH Bostoncemal grew into the famous actor. He combined might, humor and wit to make a comic expert. He read books, studied acting, practiced singing. Like all standard movie stars, he was once a workman. There place was Boston, Oklahoma; U. S. A.; because the stars were born in Oklahoma.

He worked his way up from the lowest to the highest. He went from singing at the Panther to being a movie star. And when he was old enough to sing in Manon, the immortal "Buffalo Bill"...Taffy and Belasco. "We've noticed that people who smoke for fun also appreciate fine cigarettes," says William, of Camels. "Camels help us to digest our food."

Hippodrome Books: "I smoke Camels for digestion's sake," says Frank Buck, famous wild animal hunter. "Camels fit me. They're not hot and mellow, yet delicately mild."

Camels set you right!

Camels are a favorite here. We've noticed that patrons who appreciate fine foods also appreciate fine tobaccos," says William, of Camels.

And now we come to one of modern life's most precious pleasures—being on Kent's English Chop House in New York...beats gathering place of those who enjoy good food. Here one can enjoy the best of both worlds...Camels set you right!

If Tenmouth Joseph Bentonelli ever gets into the operatic tenors, he'll find a market for him. Like all standard movie stars, he was once a workman. There place was Boston, Oklahoma; U. S. A.; because the stars were born in Oklahoma.

Junior Week-end
Nets Class Profit

The class of 1937 emerged from the annual junior week-end with a net profit of $8.34, according to a statement by Thomas Median, '37, vice-president of the junior class and general chairman for the week-end.

With all week-end expenses and general class bills paid to date, the junior treasury balance is $128.33, Harry Gumaer, treasurer, stated.

Queen Rea I Ascends Throne As Fourth of Prom Dynasty To Reign At Annual Junior Week-end

The fourth of the dynasty of Prom Queens, Rea La Gru, was crowned before the 152 couples who attended the annual Junior Promenade. According to tradition, the orchestra began the ceremony with the playing of "Pomp and Circumstance." Last year's queen, Rita Kane, led the regal procession extended by Helen McKeown and Mary Lam and she was followed by Queen Rea, upon whom she placed the jeweled crown.

The scene was colorful and impressive, with the 1937 banner as the background for the throne. Queen Rea wore a gown of silver cloth with the regal cape and train of purple and ermine. Two of the attendants wore white, Miss Lam featuring a white tulle gown with a satin embroidered top, and Miss Snyder with white lace. Miss Leonard's gown was a print with a black net redding, and Miss McKeown was attired in an aquamarine and silver gown.
