Weiner Captures Dancer's Last Waltz

The final ballet concert, Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater, is the last great ballet to feature the dancers of the Ailey Foundation. Ailey died in 1989, and his ballet, "The Lark Ascending," was performed to his memory. The concert was a celebration of his life and work. Weiner, a long-time friend and admirer of Alvin Ailey, has captured the essence of his last dance in this poignant and beautifully choreographed piece.

The Critic's Chainsaw Massacre

"Why should Cimino take the rap for Hollywood's sins?"

Cimino, who has been called a "director's director," is under fire for his latest film, "Heaven's Gate," which has been panned by critics and audiences alike. Cimino has defended his film, saying that it was a "metaphor" for the American Dream and the "real" Hollywood.

Director Michael Cimino

The Blue Moon, a film written and directed by Cimino, is a critique of Hollywood's "artistic endeavor." The film follows a group of actors as they struggle to create a movie that is "realistic" and "true to life." Cimino has said that his film is a "warning" to Hollywood, which he believes is "not interested in reality."

ASP Funding

To the Editor:

I would like to acknowledge ASP's financial support for SUNYA. The ASP has been a valuable asset to SUNYA and has provided valuable services to the students.

SUNYA is facing a $500,000 shortfall due to cuts in state funding. The ASP has been able to provide financial support to SUNYA to help offset these cuts. The ASP's support has been instrumental in helping SUNYA remain financially stable.

I would like to thank the ASP for their support and for helping SUNYA to continue providing excellent services to our students.

Sincerely,

Jennifer L. Whitaker

Good Coverage

To the Editor:

I'm writing to express my appreciation for the coverage of the recent events on campus.

The coverage of the student protest and the subsequent police response was thorough and objective. The reporters did an excellent job of providing accurate and balanced information.

I would also like to thank the photojournalists for their work. The photos captured the essence of the situation and added a visual dimension to the story.

Overall, the coverage was excellent. It was clear that the reporters and editors put a lot of effort into providing a fair and accurate picture of what happened.

Sincerely,

John P. Smith

The Grecian Dune men nipped Oneonta, 5-4, in overtime after a hard-fought match. Bruce Levine, No. 1 singles player, ousted Karpf, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4. Levine was the key match on the day.

In the second singles match, Fred Gaber defeated Dan Arnold of Oneonta, 6-3, 6-7, 6-4. Gaber needed three sets to defeat Arnold in some tough matches.

These two Danes had fallen to SUNYAC's last year. This time, Darren Pratt and Tony Feretti, both ranked No. 1 in the SUNYACs, put Albany on top momentarily.

The day all came down to the one doubles matches. Daniels and Neil Wilson, No. 1 doubles pair, took the first set, 7-5. Gaber had defeated Arnold in the fall 6-3, 2-6, 6-0. In the first singles match, Mann defeated Mengel, 6-1, 6-3. Mann played extremely well. He followed by a challenge to Mann. "Barry played extremely well. He continued his fine season with a steady effort at the number six spot," said Mann. "Barry played extremely well. He

The Albany State varsity lacrosse team hit another valley in their rollercoaster season when they ousted Hartwick, 10-9, to close out their regular season.

"We're going to have to play better on Wednesday," coach Mike Motla said. "We need to get our offense into gear and we need to hold down Hartwick's attack." Motla said that Hartwick is a good team and that his team needs to play better to have a chance against them.

Hartwick, on the other hand, is a team that is looking to make a statement against Albany. "They're a team that's looking to make a statement against us," Motla said. "We need to be ready for them and we need to play better if we want to have a chance against them."

Oneonta Nine-Run Seventh Wins Opener
But Albany Slugfest Gains a Dane Split

by Phil Piccola

The Danes pulled away again in the top of the 9th inning. They already had scored four runs against the left-handed pitcher but couldn't add to their lead. The game looked to be over when they got no base runners on in the 8th. But In the 9th, they added five more runs, including two on a hit by Matt Anzalone. Albany countered with two of their own in the bottom of the inning, but the final score was 9-3, Oneonta.

The win was important for the Danes, who are now seeded fifth in an eight team field. In this weekend's NYSAIAW softball tournament, Albany will meet seventh seed Brooklyn. Oswego St., which is seeded second, will play eighth seed Lehman.

Albany first baseman Bruce Rowlands tries to tag an Oneonta base runner. Rowlands was a key batter in the game, hitting a double and scoring the tying run on base. Rhenish was impressed with his team's ability to bounce back from their mistakes, and they never really gave up hope. Great teams don't do that, he said.

Lee Rhenish feels that pitching will be a key to the Danes' success. They have a good defense behind them and a solid offense. Rhenish has been fantastic so far this season, leading the league in strikeouts and ERA. He was a key pitcher against Oneonta, striking out five batters in the 9th inning.

The Albany-Siena doubleheader ended in a 4-4 tie. Rhenish pitched well, allowing only one run on three hits. The game continued on page 13.

Softball Team Gets Fifth Seed in State Tourney

by Phil Piccola

The Danes women's softball team has been seeded fifth in the state tournament. This is a significant accomplishment for the team, which has struggled in recent years. Rhenish said she was pleased with the team's effort and that they deserved the seed.

Rhenish was particularly proud of the way the team came together as a unit. She said, "We played well, but it was a team effort." The Danes have a strong pitching staff, led by Rhenish and another player, who have been dominant all season. Their defense has also been a strength, leading the league in fewest runs allowed.

The Danes will have plenty of opportunities to prove themselves in the state tournament. They will play the winners and losers of their region, which includes some tough teams. Rhenish said she was confident in her team's ability to compete and even win.
