Danes look to bounce back against Stony Brook

By Keith Murray

The Danes look to reverse their recent string of losses as they head to Stony Brook tonight. The Red Dragons are 9-1 to date, but the Danes hold a 30-17 advantage in all-time match-ups. Stony Brook defeated Albany in last year's contest, 81-74.

Albany's only full season so far has been last year, and their 1-30-14 record points to a team in transition. The Danes, on the other hand, are returning from a 21-10 campaign last season, when they lost to Stony Brook in a close 88-89 contest.

The Danes' offense will be led by guard players such as Irv Hirsch and Mike Jones, who combined for 13 points against Binghamton. However, they will need to improve their shooting percentage after only making 43.9% of their shots against the Bearcats.

The key to the game will be Albany's ability to contain the Red Dragons' frontcourt players, such as Greg Reilly and Steve Strickland. The Danes have had trouble defending against teams with height and rebounding ability, so Stony Brook's 7'1" center should be a significant factor.

Albany's defense will look to limit Stony Brook's high-scoring frontcourt players, such as Mike Johnson and Steve Strickland. The Red Dragons have scored 71 or more points in 10 of their 11 games, so the Danes will need to create turnovers and get easy baskets to stay competitive.

In conclusion, the Danes will have their hands full with Stony Brook's size and scoring ability. However, they have a good chance of getting a much-needed win if they can improve their defense and make shots from the floor.

Andropov doing well

Moscow (AP) President Yuri V. Andropov of the Soviet Union will not return to the hospital and will resume his job as party chief within a few days, according to Komsomolskaya Pravda, the official newspaper of the Communist youth movement.

The paper said Andropov was doing well and that doctors had decided to release him from the hospital. The paper quoted a source in the Central Committee of the Communist Party as saying the president was expected to return to work within a few days.

Washington (AP) The White House said Friday that Soviet leader Yuri V. Andropov was doing well and would not undergo further surgery.

"He is doing well and will not require additional surgery," said a White House official. "The prognosis is good and he will be back in the White House soon." The official said Andropov was recovering from a series of operations for a heart condition.

Soviets refuse talks

Moscow (AP) The Kremlin said Friday it would not resume talks with the United States on arms control.

"We are not ready to resume negotiations," Kremlin spokesman Andrey Karpov said. "The American position is too aggressive and unacceptable to us."

Karpov said the Soviet Union would continue to prepare for the upcoming nuclear arms control talks scheduled to begin in February.

Spacelab shows ties

Washington (AP) President Reagan and West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl told the International Space Station Summit in Munich that cooperation between the US and West Germany is crucial for the success of the Spacelab mission.

"We see the Spacelab mission as a symbol of our partnership in space," Reagan said. "It is a symbol of our mutual commitment to the exploration of space and the development of space-based technologies.

Reagan added that the Spacelab mission would "open the door" to further cooperation in space exploration.

Drug use predicted

Washington (AP) Psychologists say that drug use among high school students is likely to increase in the future.

"We estimate that the percentage of high school students using drugs will rise by 10 percent over the next five years," said Dr. John Doe, a psychologist at the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

Doe said the increase is due to a combination of factors, including increased availability of drugs, decreased social disapproval, and increased peer pressure.

Solomon law eyed

Washington (AP) The Supreme Court agreed Monday to hear arguments in a case involving the Solomon law, which allows states to seek compensation for damages caused by federal officials.

The law, which was passed in response to the 1975-76 financial crisis, allows states to recover damages from the federal government for losses incurred during the crisis.

The court is expected to rule on whether the law is constitutional.

Car bomb explodes

Washington (AP) A car bomb exploded Friday night in the United States Capitol, killing one person and injuring several others.

The bomb was discovered when a car was pulled over for a traffic violation. The driver was later identified as a suspect in a series of bombings.

Police said the bomb contained a mixture of explosives and was designed to be引爆 a car. The driver was later arrested and charged with multiple bombings.

NY city gets funds

New York (AP) The city of New York has been awarded a grant of $5 million to help finance the construction of a new public library.

The money will be used to build the library, which is scheduled to open in 1985. The library will be located on the upper west side of Manhattan.

Protestors charged

Washington (AP) A group of protestors has been charged with disrupting a Senate hearing on the Spacelab mission.

The protestors were charged with disorderly conduct and interference with government proceedings.

Each department is charged with creating a policy and procedures for peer review of research. According to a bill, "The faculty of a department must be involved in the evaluation of the leaching abilities of department members."

Senate passes new professor evaluation policy

Washington (AP) The Senate has passed a new policy on professor evaluation that is expected to increase accountability in the academic community.

The policy, which is supported by the American Association of University Professors, requires that professors be evaluated by their peers.

"This is a significant step forward in ensuring that professors are held accountable for their teaching and research," said Senator John Doe, sponsor of the bill.

Ny citySays fire causes smoke, soot damage

New York (AP) A fire at the New York Public Library on Saturday caused smoke and soot damage to the building.

The fire, which started in the basement, was put out by firefighters within an hour. The cause of the fire is under investigation.

Senators applaud when one

Washington (AP) Several Senators applauded when one senator expressed support for the new policy.

"I am pleased to see that this policy is being passed," said Senator Jane Doe, sponsor of the bill.

"This is a necessary step in ensuring that professors are held accountable for their teaching and research."
Myths about AIDS clarified by panel of experts

By Art Miele

It's a one-word answer, a seamless logical connection, a new understanding that can change the way we think about a disease that has become so frightening that many of us are afraid to discuss it. It is a myth that AIDS stands for "AIDS Victim" and that it is a dangerous and deadly disease.

The term "AIDS" stands for "Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome." It is a disease that affects the immune system and makes it more susceptible to infections and cancer. AIDS is caused by the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), a type of virus that invades and destroys white blood cells, which are essential to the body's immune system.

Feminism at AIDS forum

"The signs and symptoms are very non-specific," said Matthew, a participant in the forum. "We don't have a treatment. The treatment we have is for the symptoms, and not for the disease," he added.

Menopause is a natural process of aging and a common occurrence in all women. It is characterized by a decrease in estrogen levels, leading to symptoms such as hot flashes, mood swings, and vaginal dryness. The process is gradual and is thought to be caused by a combination of genetic, hormonal, and environmental factors.

"Feminism is the political movement for women's rights, including the right to vote, to own property, and to participate equally in society," said Matthew. "It is a powerful tool for women to gain control over their own lives and to fight against discrimination and oppression."
New Dutchess eatery enjoys a taste of success

The Office of Research at SUNY alumni has raised the annual alumni support over the alumnist research during the last two years, with the domestic research and decreased in grants and other allocations due to the state's budget problems. The annual alumni support in 1981 was $25 million, while about $20 million came from the state. The remaining $5 million came from grants, contributions, endowments, and other sources.

According to Shumaker, the annual research support came from the alumni and was expected to be $25 million in 1982. The state's budget problems would reduce the annual research support to about $20 million in 1983.

The Office of Research at SUNY alumni has been involved in the University Research Board (URB) since 1980. The URB has been reviewing proposals in the field of education and research, and has been involved in the alumni support for the University Research Board (URB) since 1980.

Difficult future projected for campus film group

By Jim O'Sullivan

Students attending a film shown by IFG. "The biggest problem is that the group is so small. This is a really major problem." -- Sarria

Faced with no working projectors for almost a year, the Intramural Film Group is struggling to maintain one of SUNYA's major film groups in the group's more than 30 year history.

IFG President Deborah Sarria has been committed to seeing the group recondition old projectors instead of buying new equipment. The group is struggling to remain one of SUNYA's major film groups as the group enters its thirtieth year.

1983 Musical Roundup

In the world of music, Michael Jackson, The OC, Elvis, Madonna, and the others have been the talk of the town. Jackson's hit single, "Billie Jean," has been one of the most popular songs of the year and has topped the charts for several weeks. Madonna, on the other hand, has been making headlines with her controversial music videos and her live performances. The OC, a hit teen drama, has also been popular among viewers. The show's music has been praised for its ability to capture the spirit of the times.

David Singer

While Michael Jackson and Madonna may be the most popular names in music, there are many other talented artists who have made important contributions to the world of music. One such artist is Elvis Presley, who revolutionized the genre of music with his unique sound and style. Presley's music has been a source of inspiration for many artists over the years.

Ad Astra: The Heights Or Nothing

A good read will leave you with a sense of satisfaction and accomplishment. If you haven't started reading "Ad Astra: The Heights Or Nothing," then you're missing out on an excellent book. The story is about a young boy who dreams of becoming a astronaut, but must overcome many obstacles before achieving his goal. The author does an excellent job of creating a sense of wonder and excitement, making this a great book for teens.

Rina Young

The year 1983 was a landmark year for music, with many talented artists making their mark. One such artist is the rock band Queen, whose album "Bohemian Rhapsody" became a hit worldwide. The song, which features a piano solo and ballad vocals, was a major hit and helped establish Queen as one of the biggest bands of the decade. The album also included other classic songs, such as "Somebody to Love" and "We Will Rock You."

 nouvel album de Michael Jackson, Thriller.

The English Beat was known for their unique sound, which blended reggae and ska with elements of punk and new wave. "It's My Life," the debut single from the album, became a hit and helped establish The English Beat as one of the most popular bands of the early 1980s.

The Police at The Whiskey

Bobby Sands, a leader of the Hunger Strike in Northern Ireland, was killed during his imprisonment. His death sparked international outrage and helped bring attention to the issue of hunger and the cause of the IRA. The Police, a popular band at the time, dedicated their song "Message In A Bottle" to Sands, which helped raise awareness of his cause.

A Fallen Idol

Idol had been a successful singer since the late 1970s, but his career took a turn for the worse in the early 1980s. His second album, "Rebel Yell," was a critical and commercial failure, and Idol's popularity began to wane. However, with the release of his third album, "Dance Of The Infirm," Idol's career began to take off again, and he became one of the most popular rock stars of the decade.

"It was pretty obvious from the start, then, that Idol was a little less interested in the social impact which the punk ethic tried to deliver, than he was attracted to the hype of being recognized as one of pop punk's first 'heroes.'"

End the war

Why not the best for SUNYA?

Undergraduate programs, represented in the National Honor Societies (Pi Kappa Delta), have made it possible for the universities and the 2,000 majors not possible when the dates were called. In the U.S. News & World Report, the university was given prominence in the annual teaching rankings. The university has been recognized for its dedication to excellence.

The Rapid Escalation in the Lebanon situation has been characterized by two trends. For the Soviets, it is a war of annihilation and for the U.S., a war of survival. The Puerto Rican/Israel conflict has been diverted in their own direction, since they were doing the same thing.

The Syrians, however, will have to decide whether to help their close ally Damascus. The Syrians, it will force the Soviets into an unwinnable situation. Beyond that is the question of whether or not the U.S. will go to war.

The university center was benefitted by the emphasis on research in undergraduate programs. Its graduates would find easy access to the best of professional programs. Corporations would be so foolish as to give its rewards for such exclusions were larger class size, too many classes, low financial incentives, inadequate resources.

The Select Committee Report: undergraduate teaching can be justified by employing these academic "wet-backs" can then be passed. The university, like others oriented to research, treats those who can't do anything else. And so the lowest position is the one that can be taken by those who can't do anything else. And so the lowest position is the one that can be taken by those who can't do anything else. And so the lowest position is the one that can be taken by those who can't do anything else.

Olympic hockey team's attempt to defend their championship. Future reports about the 1984 Summer Olympics.

ASP: It was successful. I feel that we are providing our readers with something extra. I expect that our readers will feel that the next semester's issues will only get better. As with any new project, some glitches may occur, but overall, the project is going well.

Eric Nagler and Keith Marder provide an insight into the world of Saratoga. Nagler has been there for seven summers, and is an important part of the timing of daily workouts. He is the ASP's number one jockey, Angel Cordero. With the snow on the ground and finals coming up there's something to imagine that for one month a year, the Capital District area is the place for sports fans.

With four issues of the Sports Magazine under the belt, I feel confident that next semester's issues will only get better. As with any new project, some intended features have not worked out and some unanticipated features have been successful. I see that we are providing our readers with something extra that could not previously be found in the ASP.

Our next issue in February will provide a special cover story on the 1984 U.S. Olympic Hockey team's attempt to defend their championship. Future reports will track several area athletes professors in their attempt to win medals at the 1984 Summer Olympics. I hope the first few issues of the Sports Magazine have provided enjoyable and interesting reading. It is my intention to continue providing a different look at the sports world.

Saratoga: The August place to be, for everybody

By ERIC NAGLER and KEITH MARIDER

For over 100 years great moments have been witnessed at Saratoga. During the months of August each year the small Saratoga Springs community of 15,000 people becomes a major horse racing center with 100,000 people coming to fill the stands every day.

Saratoga racing is highlighted by the Travers Stakes, the first of the three big racing meets in the U.S. (the other two being in Kentucky and New Jersey). This year's Travers Sates race, which is run over 1 1/4 miles, was won by Devil's Bag in a time of 2:04 1/5.

Devil's Bag, a 3-year-old, was driven by Roger Attfield and trained by Roger Attfield Jr. Devil's Bag is owned by Dr. Carl Berger and was bred by John W. Haywood.

Saratoga is also famous for its races dominated by the questions, "Who do you like?"

During the most recent meet Devil's Bag won the Travers at the odds of 100-1: in the 1973 winning debut. Devil's Bag is a lock to be this year's two year old champion and he is also getting serious consideration for Horse of the Year honors.

However, Saratoga is also famous for its sports figures like Man O War suffering the only defeat of his career. The racetrack has featured such racing upsets as Man O War's defeat and graveyards of favorites.

Skiling in the Albany region

By TOM KACANDES

There's a new crowd of skiers in Albany. A lot of them are middle-aged, and many of them are businesses that have recently moved here. In fact, 75 percent of the skiers who are new to the area are business owners or their employees. They are coming here because they want to get away from the hustle and bustle of the city and enjoy the beauty of the Alps. The new ski resorts are also drawing tourists from other parts of the country, and some even come from abroad. The skiing is great, and the service is second to none.}

By ROBERT SMITH

There are a lot of new ideas being brought to the area, and a lot of them are coming from the younger generation. They are trying to bring new life to the town and make it more of a destination for tourists. They are coming up with new ideas for events and activities, and they are working to make the town more accessible and welcoming to everyone. The younger generation is also bringing a new approach to the way the town is run, and they are trying to make it more efficient and effective. They are working to bring new businesses to the area and to make it more of a tourist destination. The younger generation is also working to make the town more sustainable and environmentally friendly. They are trying to reduce the amount of waste and pollution and to make the town more energy efficient. The younger generation is also trying to bring new ideas to the way the town is run, and they are working to make it more efficient and effective.

University deans propose steps to improve statewide education

By Suzanne Murphy

In a $3 billion education funding battle in the state legislature this month, the New York State Council of Education has proposed a number of measures to improve education and address fiscal problems. The council's proposals included suggestions for better education funding and a more efficient use of resources. The legislation would ensure that every student receives a quality education, according to Robert Koff, chair of the council.

Some of the short term solutions the council recommended were programs that helped prepare teachers for specific fields, ensure better teacher certification, and make education more accessible to all students. The council pushed for long term solutions that included improvements in teacher education, the teacher classroom, and school systems.

They proposed five specific measures to improve education. Some of these measures included providing more financial help to students, increasing teachers' salaries, and a review board to improve education. The measures were based on various skills in addition to teaching.

The council also proposed an increase in teachers' salaries. Koff said that the state is $2 billion a year behind in teacher pay. The council called for an improvement in the "structure and quality."}

The Deans' program also stressed the importance of "improving the teacher classroom." The council called for better teacher salaries and a review board to improve education. The council noted that it is important to come up with long term solutions to the state's problems in education. This council was established in 1982 by Governor Mario Cuomo to address issues in public education. This ranks New York 38th in the nation for the amount spent on public education. This makes a comparison of states and the current allocation of funds important. It is an investment for the future of the state, he said. "Just as there is a need to repair the roads and bridges of the state, so is it important to come up with long term solutions to the state's problems in education," said Koff. "It is an investment in the future of the state." The council, which meets twice a year to discuss New York education policy, is composed of Deans of Education off all public and private universities in New York that offer research and doctoral programs in education. These universities include Columbia, Cornell, SUNY Albany, SUNY Buffalo, Syracuse, and Hofstra.

2. Increasing teachers' salaries
3. A review board to improve education
4. Improving the teacher classroom

Union loses Division 3 title to Augustana, 21-17

By John Parker

After losing the Division III title last year, the Augustana women’s gymnastics team came into this season with high expectations and ambitious goals. They wanted to win the national championship and set the bar higher than ever before. Their bold aspirations were evident in their all-around performance.

Men swimmers take fourth at McGill Invitation

By Adam Constantz

The Albany State men's swim team traveled to Montreal last weekend and took four at the McGill Invitational.

According to Coach Lawrence, the team did very well in Montreal. "We had a lot of good performances and we were competitive," he said. "I was happy with our meet."

The team had a good start to the meet, finishing second after the first day. They then went on to take fourth overall, just behind Eastern Illinois, Ohio State, and Ohio University.

Lawrence said that the team's performance was a result of hard work and dedication. "The swimmers worked hard all season and it paid off," he said. "They were very competitive and they swam their best at the meet."

The team's best performance was in the 200-yard freestyle, where they took second place. Lawrence said that this was a result of the team's hard work on the pool deck.

"The swimmers worked hard all season and it paid off," he said. "They were very competitive and they swam their best at the meet."
