A Ray View of Sports
by Ray McClintock

Warren Crow, State's First National Champion

When grappler Warren Crow walked off the mat after reclaiming the national collegiate dual division championship with a 31-3 record for the second straight year, he added another first to his series of accomplishments. Crow was the first wrestler from the State University of New York at Albany to win the NCAA championship.

Five ideal dates. Three dollars ($3)

Join us in the adventuous experiment of our time. Operation Match will let you do it yourself. From now on, you'll have some of the fun that the world's matchmakers have had. Are you ready? Then take your Operation Match Quantitative Personality Test Profile! It's the key to finding the one that's right for you. If you like the results, you'll receive a special offer. We suggest you try it. Your future will be better.

Bread Discounts
For the next 12 weeks, from April 30 to June 28, Bread Specials are $0.00. The ASA Student Council offers this discount on its bread specials. The bread special is available from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. weekdays.

Central Council to Consider Compulsory Student Tax

Central Council to Consider Compulsory Student Tax

Two Theatre Productions To Be Presented in April

Two Theatre Productions To Be Presented in April

Political Rhetoric To Be Discussed at Symposium Friday

Five ideal dates. Three dollars ($3)

Join us in the adventuous experiment of our time. Operation Match will let you do it yourself. From now on, you'll have some of the fun that the world's matchmakers have had. Are you ready? Then take your Operation Match Quantitative Personality Test Profile! It's the key to finding the one that's right for you. If you like the results, you'll receive a special offer. We suggest you try it. Your future will be better.

ACROBATICS: Pledge these pledges! Each pledge is a sign of your support. These pledges are a part of your pledge period.

MYSKANIA Chairman Discusses New Role

MYSKANIA elected Ray Crowlam, chairman, Jim Claudinowski, vice chairman, Susan Wade, secretary, and Helen Drimer, treasurer at their first meeting Wednesday night.

SOCRATOS

YAMAN SPORTycles

JAPHERY AUTO SALES, INC

1012 Central Avenue

Dear Mrs. 700, 700

May 27 (or any day that is even better

Operation Match

Concordia Research, Inc. 671 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022

MARCH 23, 1966

ALBANY STUDENT PRESS

VOL. LII, NO. 12

ALBANY, NEW YORK

1012 Central Avenue

1050

181

7

198

5

10.3

21.7

2.2

2.4

315

181

1050

181

5

10.3

21.7

2.2

2.4

315

181

1050

181
Budgets and Needed Revenue

Appraising the budgets of the various Student Association organizations seems to be a greater problem than anyone anticipated. Most of the organizations have submitted budgets equal to or surpassing the one received. The reason for these actions is obvious. The uncertain future of student tax necessitates the curtailing of expenses by organizations.

The obvious solution to this problem would be to make student tax compulsory. This would allow Student Association to know how much revenue it would have to work with.

Pensions are now being taken by members of Central Council to do this; however, it is uncertain what the chances of their succeeding or when student tax would become compulsory.

What is needed is other sources of revenue for Student Association.

For the past few years athletic tax, which is levied along with student tax, has produced a surplus of over $50,000. One hypothesis that can be drawn from this surplus is that the money awarded towards athletics is not used entirely.

We would like to see an investigation of these books. If this hypothesis is found true, then Central Council attempts to persuade the proper authority for the monies obtained from this money.

Presidents of the S.A. already indicated that he feels Student Association is a vital necessity to the University.

Since he does hold this opinion, we feel that a transfer of money from the athletic surplus to Student Association is not unreasonable.

TOWN TWEED

Bad Aspects of Albany Remain

With Preservation of Good Points

by Dave Schneider

from the meeting of 1930, and the remains of 1830, "Diana and Derick" show the scene of "Diana's Emancipation Pennant," on the 25th of May, as the Appeal was then called. It was the first meeting of the Albany College and was held in the Cider Mill. The meeting was called by the Committee of 1826, which had been appointed to consider the matter of the proposed College, and the meeting was held in the Cider Mill of the Albany College.

The committee will have no choice but to cut many items. The University is of vital necessity to the University.

The reason for these actions is obvious. The uncertain future of student tax necessitates the curtailing of expenses by organizations.

The obvious solution to this problem would be to make student tax compulsory. This would allow Student Association to know how much revenue it would have to work with.

Pensions are now being taken by members of Central Council to do this; however, it is uncertain what the chances of their succeeding or when student tax would become compulsory.

What is needed is other sources of revenue for Student Association.

For the past few years athletic tax, which is levied along with student tax, has produced a surplus of over $50,000. One hypothesis that can be drawn from this surplus is that the money awarded towards athletics is not used entirely.

We would like to see an investigation of these books. If this hypothesis is found true, then Central Council attempts to persuade the proper authority for the monies obtained from this money.

Presidents of the S.A. already indicated that he feels Student Association is a vital necessity to the University. Since he does hold this opinion, we feel that a transfer of money from the athletic surplus to Student Association is not unreasonable.

Camp Dippikill to Be Site

Of Informal Discussions

At an experimental camp, will be held at Dippikill, central New York. The purpose of the weekend is to determine the most effective means for providing a vehicle for informal discussion between students and faculty of the State University of New York, for the purpose of creating the atmosphere for a more intimate and free exchange of ideas.

Other Aspects of Pleasure

Other Aspects of Pleasure

Tennis, bowling, horseback riding, and golf are available to the groups.

The tennis court is located on the southern part of the campus, and the bowling alley is situated on the eastern edge of the campus.

There is a beautiful bus terminal, 30 miles away from New York City. The terminal is located on the Hudson River, and is reached by the New York Central Railroad.

Best Aspects of Albany Remain

With Preservation of Good Points

by Dave Schneider

From the meeting of 1930, and the remains of 1830, "Diana and Derick" show the scene of "Diana's Emancipation Pennant," on the 25th of May, as the Appeal was then called. It was the first meeting of the Albany College and was held in the Cider Mill. The meeting was called by the Committee of 1826, which had been appointed to consider the matter of the proposed College, and the meeting was held in the Cider Mill of the Albany College.

From the meeting of 1930, and the remains of 1830, "Diana and Derick" show the scene of "Diana's Emancipation Pennant," on the 25th of May, as the Appeal was then called. It was the first meeting of the Albany College and was held in the Cider Mill. The meeting was called by the Committee of 1826, which had been appointed to consider the matter of the proposed College, and the meeting was held in the Cider Mill of the Albany College.

From the meeting of 1930, and the remains of 1830, "Diana and Derick" show the scene of "Diana's Emancipation Pennant," on the 25th of May, as the Appeal was then called. It was the first meeting of the Albany College and was held in the Cider Mill. The meeting was called by the Committee of 1826, which had been appointed to consider the matter of the proposed College, and the meeting was held in the Cider Mill of the Albany College.

From the meeting of 1930, and the remains of 1830, "Diana and Derick" show the scene of "Diana's Emancipation Pennant," on the 25th of May, as the Appeal was then called. It was the first meeting of the Albany College and was held in the Cider Mill. The meeting was called by the Committee of 1826, which had been appointed to consider the matter of the proposed College, and the meeting was held in the Cider Mill of the Albany College.
'Naked Night,' Bergman's Film, Shows Growth of Cinema Master

By Douglas Redpath

A week and a half ago the news flashed around the country of the opening of "Naked Night," a Swedish film. Bergman's second, it is important to note, so that one may not consider it a mere fad or a stroke of bad luck. The film is not only a notable step forward in Swedish cinema, but also points to the growth of the cinema itself.

The film is a drama about a young man, played by Ingmar Bergman, who is forced to leave his rural home because of the economic depression. He goes to the city, where he becomes involved in a revolutionary movement. The film is a study of the individual's struggle against society, and is a reflection of the times.

The film was directed by Bergman, who also wrote the screenplay. It was produced by the Swedish Film Institute, and distributed by the American Film Institute.

The film has been well received by critics and audiences alike. It has been hailed as a masterpiece, and is considered to be a significant contribution to the art of film making.

New York Destroying Itself

By Dr. Ivan Steen

"City Destroying Itself," an article by Dr. Ivan Steen, describes the destruction of New York City as a result of the city's lack of planning and the constant influx of people. Dr. Steen argues that the city has become a "hell on earth," and that its destruction is a result of the city's inability to adapt to the constant growth.

The article points out that the city is suffering from a lack of proper planning and development, as well as a lack of concern for the environment. Dr. Steen argues that the city's destruction is a result of the city's inability to adapt to the constant growth.

The article also points out that the city's destruction is a result of the city's lack of concern for the environment. Dr. Steen argues that the city's destruction is a result of the city's inability to adapt to the constant growth.

The article also points out that the city's destruction is a result of the city's lack of concern for the environment. Dr. Steen argues that the city's destruction is a result of the city's inability to adapt to the constant growth.

A.D. Class To Present "The Flattering Word"

By A.D. Staff

The A.D. Drama Club will present "The Flattering Word," a play by William Saroyan, on April 25 and 26. The play is about a young man who is trying to make a name for himself in the world of journalism.

The play is directed by A.D. Drama Club President David K. Smith, and is produced by A.D. Drama Club Vice President James M. Jones. The play will be performed in the A.D. Drama Club's own theater, located on campus.

The play is about a young man who is trying to make a name for himself in the world of journalism.

The play is directed by A.D. Drama Club President David K. Smith, and is produced by A.D. Drama Club Vice President James M. Jones. The play will be performed in the A.D. Drama Club's own theater, located on campus.

The play is about a young man who is trying to make a name for himself in the world of journalism.

The play is directed by A.D. Drama Club President David K. Smith, and is produced by A.D. Drama Club Vice President James M. Jones. The play will be performed in the A.D. Drama Club's own theater, located on campus.

The play is about a young man who is trying to make a name for himself in the world of journalism. He is a reporter for a small newspaper in the city, and is trying to write his first big story.

The play is directed by A.D. Drama Club President David K. Smith, and is produced by A.D. Drama Club Vice President James M. Jones. The play will be performed in the A.D. Drama Club's own theater, located on campus.

The play is about a young man who is trying to make a name for himself in the world of journalism. He is a reporter for a small newspaper in the city, and is trying to write his first big story.