The Death of Patroon Creek

by Jerry Olin

On Monday, November 3, 1970, students from SUNYA began an environmental investigation of the Patroon Creek. The creek originates at the foot of the campus and flows through the heartland of Albany, eventually emptying its water into the Hudson River. We focused our attention on the area of the creek which runs northeast from our campus into the Patroon Creek, entering the Patroon Creek came large chunks of fat, pieces of intestines and a disemboweling smell. On certain days we noticed a fish kill. During these times, we recorded a D.O. of 0 ppm, and a rapid temperature change can either kill the organism outright or upset their reproductive habits. Our investigations also revealed that the Patroon Creek is a danger to all living organisms.

Late last winter with snow still on the ground, a small group of students from SUNYA began an environmental investigation of the Patroon Creek. The creek originates at the foot of the campus and flows through the heartland of Albany, eventually emptying its water into the Hudson River. An Issue: Peace Corps

by Bob Kanarek

An interesting fact of this issue's Peace Corps phenomenon is that there exists a Peace Corps phenomenon. In fact, this is just one of the many Peace Corps phenomena. The Peace Corps is a phenomenon that has been around for quite a while now. It started as a way to provide assistance to the developing world. However, it has become much more than that. It is now seen as a way to promote peace and understanding between countries. The Peace Corps has been around for over 50 years and it is still going strong today.

Various topics concerning social and administrative affairs were discussed in Tuesday's Campus Clear Air meeting, including the controversial issue of student employment. The meeting was attended by students, faculty, and faculty members.

President's Banquet

President's Banquet is being held in the coming week. The University is planning to hold the banquet in the coming week. The banquet will be held in the main dining hall of the University. The banquet will be open to all students, faculty, and staff.

During the discussion, a question was raised concerning the economic impact of the Peace Corps on the local economy. The question was directed to the Peace Corps representatives in attendance.

Peace Corps representatives stated that they were not aware of any specific economic impact of the Peace Corps on the local economy. They stated that they were focused on the educational and cultural benefits of the Peace Corps.

Correction

In the article entitled "The Peace Corps (Part I)" which appeared in the Monday, May 2, 1970 issue of the Albany Student Press, it was stated that the Peace Corps was founded in 1961. This statement is incorrect. The Peace Corps was actually founded in 1961.

The Peace Corps is a volunteer organization that was established in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy. It is designed to provide assistance to underdeveloped countries around the world. The Peace Corps volunteers work in a variety of fields, including education, health care, agriculture, and community development.

SA Moves Ahead

In past years, here at Albany State and throughout the nation, the influence of organized student government has steadily declined. Most significant movements of the late 1960's—civil rights, student power, fraternity—were by the middle-class students as groundswells and left student representatives to carry on the unfinished business.

This process of great benefit. Direct action has provided students with clearer recognition of the problems confronting society today, and has inspired student organizations to use their students are people and must be dealt with as such.

Unfortunately, however, the student movement is in many instances making strides, and each movement is making the students who are its leaders and admirers of its achievements.

The University of New York at Albany, McKownville, New York. The ASP was established in 1970 by the students. It has been the student newspaper for its misdirection, its lack of sensitivity to student needs, and the interrogation of Mr. Cooley and Mr. Haley by the students throughout the State University System.

The FSA has been attacked consistently throughout the year by its misdirection, its lack of sensitivity to student needs, and the interrogation of Mr. Cooley and Mr. Haley by the students throughout the State University System.

The major achievement has been the reformation of the Board of Directors of the Faculty Student Association to include student representatives, and the stabilization of the University of New York at Albany, McKownville, New York. The ASP was established in 1970 by the students. It has been the student newspaper for its misdirection, its lack of sensitivity to student needs, and the interrogation of Mr. Cooley and Mr. Haley by the students throughout the State University System.

Why isn't a big company like General Electric doing more to clean up the environment?

How much can one company do to change the environment? Usually, the problems are so large and complex that no one company can do much.

Well, there is a general consensus that General Electric is doing a great job in trying to clean up and do the right thing. For example, General Electric is working on some of the most difficult problems in the world. GE has developed some of the most sophisticated equipment in the world for the task. General Electric is also making efforts to reduce their own pollution. GE is striving to be a leader in the field of environmental protection.

The company is also trying to educate the public about the importance of protecting the environment. GE is supporting environmental organizations and is actively involved in many environmental causes. GE is also working with governments and other companies to develop solutions to environmental problems.

In summary, General Electric is making a significant effort to protect the environment, and they are doing more than most other companies.

Harriers End Fine Season of 10-3

Coach Bob Mooney noted that his team had a good season but finished two games behind number one. If they had won those games, they would have been the number one team. However, they finished second in the league and won 10-3.

The girls are looking forward to the next season. They are excited about the prospects for improvement and are working hard to ensure a successful season. The team is confident in their abilities and believes they can compete at a high level.

 Elections '70

 by Bob Warner

 News Editor

 The 1970 and 1968 elections may have given Nixon a slight edge in the Senate, and aernet has been the same for the Republicans. The Senatorial races have been close, with both sides bringing in the votes. The Republican National Convention has gone down to the wire, but both sides have pulled ahead to claim victory.

 The gubernatorial race has been tight, with both candidates from major parties running. Nixon and Agnew as no good, and the difference. The youth of today want to work within this system, not enough, honestly committed.
