Village Gate Challenges New Nudity Law

New York (AP) The Village Gate, a theater in Greenwich Village, has been closed by the city because it is next to a school which is in violation of its zoning law. The city has refused to reopen it, and the owners, who believe the theater is legal, have appealed the decision. The owners argue that the theater is not a nuisance, and that the city's decision is discriminatory. They also argue that the theater is not in violation of any zoning laws. The city has not yet responded to the appeal.

SUNY Students Seek Veto of Small Business Tax

Albany (AP) The Student Assembly at SUNY has voted to reject a 10-cent per dollar tax on small businesses, saying it would be unfair to the students. The tax was proposed as a way to raise funds for the student government, but the students argued that it would be too burdensome on small businesses. The Assembly passed the resolution by a vote of 10-3, with 1 abstention.

Enrollment Declines as Budget Tightens

SUNY (AP) Enrollment at SUNY has declined by 3% this year, as the state faces budget cuts. The university has been forced to cut programs and reduce staff, in an effort to balance the budget. The large cuts have caused concern among students and faculty, who fear that the quality of education will suffer.

ACT's Demise Raises Questions

ALBANY (AP) The College Entrance Examination Board, which administers the ACT, has announced that it will no longer offer the test. The board says that the test has become too expensive and that it is no longer able to sustain it financially. The decision has caused concern among students and educators, who fear that it will cause a decline in the quality of education. The ACT has been a popular test, and has been used by many colleges and universities to evaluate students.

Factions Clash at SASU Meeting

BUFFALO (AP) The Student Assembly at SUNY has been split into two factions, with some members calling for a vote of no confidence in the president. The factions have been caused by a dispute over the budget, with some members arguing that the president is not providing enough funds for programs. The president has been accused of making cuts without consulting the students.

Gas Exposure Ruins Govt Defense

BUFFALO (AP) A report by the Department of Defense has found that the government's defense against gas exposure is inadequate. The report says that the government has not been doing enough to prepare for a gas attack, and that more needs to be done. The report has caused concern among lawmakers, who are calling for more action.

Sexual Harassment at SUNY

BUFFALO (AP) The University at Buffalo has been accused of sexual harassment by a former student. The student says that she was subjected to inappropriate behavior by a professor, and that the university did not take action. The university has denied the charges, and has said that it is taking the matter seriously.

Pensions and Benefits

BUFFALO (AP) The University at Buffalo has been accused of failing to provide adequate pensions and benefits to its employees. The university has been accused of not providing enough retirement funds, and of not offering enough health care benefits. The university has denied the charges, and has said that it is working to improve the benefits package.

Judge Crashes Down on Thieves

by David Westwood

A SUNYA student spent last week in jail and his car will be in the Albany chapter's garage while he is there. The student was arrested by police after being caught driving the car on a closed highway near Buffalo.

The student was stopped by police at around 1:15
in the morning on Saturday, January 1.

Police said the student had been traveling from Buffalo to Albany for a weekend visit. He driving the car with another person in the back seat. The car was stopped because it was driving too fast for the conditions.

According to police reports, the student driving the car had no license and he did not have evidence to prove that he was the owner of the car.

The student was charged with reckless operation of a vehicle and was released on personal recognizance.

Police said they would try to find the owners of the car so that it could be returned to them.

Political Science Professor Johnpoll

Suggests Cuts

by Richard Myren

The SUNYA Board of Regents has decided to cut faculty positions in order to reduce budget deficits. This decision has caused some controversy on campus.

The cuts were announced by President Johnpoll, who said they were necessary due to financial constraints.

"It's that time of the year again," Johnpoll said, "when we have to make cuts."

The cuts will affect several departments, including the School of Criminal Behavioral Sciences and the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

Some students have expressed concern about the cuts, arguing that they could affect the quality of education.

"I don't want to see my professors cut,"
said one student. "I rely on them for learning and support."

Johnpoll assured students that the cuts would not affect the quality of education.

"We will continue to provide the same level of education," he said. "We will just have to do it with fewer resources."

Some faculty members have\nexpressed opposition to the cuts.

"I feel like we are being asked to work harder with less," said one faculty member. "It's not fair."

Johnpoll said that the cuts were necessary in order to balance the budget.

"We have to make tough decisions," he said. "I'm sorry if it's hard for some people,
but we have to do it."

SUNYA Meeting Held in Buffalo

by Richard Myren

A meeting of the SUNYA Board of Regents was held in Buffalo last week.

The meeting was attended by faculty and staff members from SUNYA
locations throughout the state.

During the meeting, the board approved several new policies and programs, including a new academic planning committee.

"We need to plan ahead," said President Johnpoll. "We can't just react to problems as they come up."

The new committee will be tasked with developing long-term plans for SUNYA.

New SUNYA Direction is Sought with Shaky Compass

by Richard Myren

SUNYA is being shaped. President Johnpoll and the University are working to establish some new directions. This is causing some confusion among faculty and staff.

One principle is decided clearly:
from now on, the SUNYA Board of Regents will have the last word in decisions. This is a major change from the past, when decisions were made by the SUNYA Senate.

Johnpoll says he is looking for some principles to guide the University's future.

"We need to establish some principles," Johnpoll said. "I want us to have a clear direction."

SUNYA's future will be shaped by these principles. Johnpoll is working with the SUNYA Senate to establish some guiding principles.

"I think there are several solutions
we could choose from," Johnpoll said. "I want us to be clear about what we want."

Johnpoll's goal is to establish some guiding principles that will shape SUNYA's future.

Humanities Dean Ruth Schmidt

The Humanities Dean, Ruth Schmidt,
has some ideas about what SUNYA's future could be like.

"I think we need to be clear about what we want," Schmidt said.
"We need to be clear about what we want to achieve."

Schmidt suggests that SUNYA
could focus on some key issues.

Professors Criticize Academic Consulting

A REPLY TO PRESIDENT FIELDS

After receiving President Fields' speech before the Senate, as well as considering all available data that we could obtain.

1. We support the concept of shifting resources where necessary. However, we question the wisdom of any precipitous cuts in the academic world. The strength of American universities depends upon the vitality and the excellence of the faculties. The evidence shows that academic institutions are recruiting students and retaining valuable faculty members. We are concerned that any cuts in faculty salaries would have a detrimental effect on the quality of education.

2. We support the concept of "centralization." We believe that the local university should have a role in determining the direction and policies of the university. This is essential for the smooth operation of the entire institution.

3. We support the strength leadership President Fields has displayed. However, we feel that the governance structure which the President has in place must be reexamined to ensure that it is working effectively.

A 364 million dollar gain has been made in Los Angeles by eight women who say they were fired from a job as an advertisement for "Sally Brown," and turned the right over to the state attorney general.

The suit has been lodged against 21 women, including the head of the state’s women’s rights commission. Los Angeles officials have filed a lawsuit against the women, accusing them of "independent consulting," which has not been ruled on by a federal agency.

Our Verdict: The women were not fired for their consulting work.

The Student Association Constitution specifies, and essential feature of the organization, that the Student Council has the power to discipline its members. In several recent meetings, the Council has voted on resolutions involving the suspension of students who have violated the Student Association Constitution. In one case, the Council imposed a one-week suspension on a student who had been accused of academic fraud. In another case, the Council voted to dismiss a student who had been found guilty of cheating on a test.

State Hockey Club Goes Amateur

By Mike Polichak

A hockey town on campus that's right. It's the All-American Hockey Club. This means that those players are not college students and may have jobs, families, and coaches. This is a typical club team that's organized in the waning moments and is a solid big time. The team opened the season on a sour note, but they travel to Cortland, Wednesday, Dec. 10, at 4 p.m. in the Union Field House, or the regularly scheduled practice sessions, held at the Union Education Building.

Cherubino: Harrier MVP

By Jim Lafontaine

Senior Carlos Cherubino will leave Albany State with two more awards when he becomes the All-American track team Member of the Year and All-American Track Meet of the Year. Senior Cherubino has been selected in his second year on the team. He is the first Albany State runner to be named America East Track Meet of the Year. Cherubino finished third, finishing all of the year's races, and for the year's season of competition.
