Compulsory Assembly... Today in Assembly we will have our first opportunity on the motion to discontinue compulsory assembly. Much discussion has centered on the motion that once we abandon the policy of compulsory assembly, we no longer have a working legislative branch of our student government. Under our present system, this is true.

Student Council will propose an amendment to the original motion today attempting to salvage the motion. The amendment would have Student Council continue until the end of the year, but government puts into operation a new policy of compulsory assembly.

To this end, however, it would mean the appointment of an experiment in favor of compulsory assembly.

Of course, if the democratic mind of Student Assembly is happy with our present set-up, and has no complaints against compulsory assembly, all the time and energy spent on government revisions and amendments is wasted, as was the case last year. In the light of seven previous years, we can say that we must face the fact that compulsory assembly is a fact of life and is here to stay.

There seems to be one flaw in the proposed amendment. That is the fact that a new and better form of government with a more democratic approach can only happen by putting a limit on the amendment, as suggested by Student Council. That limit is the number of students who want to use the amendment system. Our auditorium has a capacity of 400; Student Assembly has an approximate membership of 90. If the rules were as they are now, those who want to use the amendment system would be limited to 90 out of 400. This is not a viable system. The Student Government is undertaking a comprehensive study of the amendment system and we are hopeful that the number of students who want to use the amendment system will be increased to a more realistic figure.

The amendment is a good start, but it is not enough. We must continue to work towards a more democratic form of government. This is not an easy task, but it is necessary to ensure a fair and just system for all students. We must continue to strive for a better system, and we must be prepared to make sacrifices in order to achieve it.

Common-Staters...

We are about to change the study of the common states from a four-year college to a three-year college. This change will be made in the fall of 1954. The change will come about through the efforts of the common states to secure a more efficient and effective educational system. The change is necessary because of the rapid increase in the number of students and the need for a more efficient system of education.

The change will be made in the fall of 1954. This will result in a savings of approximately $100,000 per year. The funds saved will be used to improve the facilities and programs of the college. The common states are committed to providing a high quality of education and this change is a necessary step towards that goal.

We are confident that the change will be beneficial to the students and the college. It is only through the hard work and dedication of the common states that we can provide a better education for all.

Music Council Sponsors Movie

Music Council will sponsor a movie in color and sound, entitled "Story of Scherezade," by the Russian composer Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov, Thursday, January 14, at 7:30 p.m. in Page Auditorium, according to Madelyn Meier '54, President. The film will star the Hollywood performers Brian Donlevy and Yvonne DeCarlo, and is based on a collection of Oriental tales in the book "One Thousand and One Nights."

Admission to this show is by Student Tax card. The movie is actually part of a program of two films, based upon musical motifs, which Music Council is sponsoring. Another movie will be shown during the second semester.

This film program has been made possible by the transfer of a line in the budget of Music Council, and is designed to arouse more interest among the student body in Classical and Art music, states Miss Meier.
