17 Seniors End Careers in 35-6 Win Over New Haven

By Jane Rule
WEST HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Four years ago, Stan Rosenberg was a student at Connecticut College when he agreed to help make the Albany football team.

Now, the Albany seniors are moving on.

"It's a great feeling, but we're sad to see the season end," said Stan Rosenberg, Albany head coach. "We're happy to be here, but we're also sad to see the season end.

The Albany seniors, who are the team's captains, were honored before the game against New Haven. The seniors included stand-up running back John DiBari, tight end Mike Cornwell, linebacker Mike Rhine, defensive lineman Ed Ragule and punter Tony Guido.

"It's been a great ride," said DiBari, who was honored as the team's Most Valuable Player. "We've had some ups and downs, but we've always been there for each other. I'm going to miss playing in front of our fans.

The seniors were recognized for their outstanding careers, which included two Division II championships and three Division I appearances. The seniors have a record of 43-22 and have averaged more than 300 total yards per game.

"I'm going to miss playing with these guys," said Cornwell, who was honored as the team's Outstanding Lineman. "We've all been through a lot together, and we've been there for each other. I'm going to miss that.

The seniors were also honored for their contributions to the community. They have volunteered at numerous community events, including the annual Turkey Bowl and the Albany Boys and Girls Club.

"I've had a great time," said Rhine, who was honored as the team's Outstanding Linebacker. "I've learned a lot from the coaches and my teammates. I'm going to miss playing football.

The seniors were also recognized for their academic achievements. They have a combined GPA of 3.3 and have taken part in numerous community service projects.

"I'm going to miss these guys," said Ragule, who was honored as the team's Outstanding Defensive Lineman. "We've all been through a lot together, and we've been there for each other. I'm going to miss that.

The seniors were also recognized for their contributions to the community. They have volunteered at numerous community events, including the annual Turkey Bowl and the Albany Boys and Girls Club.

"I've had a great time," said Guido, who was honored as the team's Outstanding Punter. "I've learned a lot from the coaches and my teammates. I'm going to miss playing football.

The seniors were also recognized for their contributions to their families. They have been successful in balancing their school and football careers, and they have been there for their families.

"I'm going to miss these guys," said Rosenberg, who was honored as the team's Outstanding Coach. "We've all been through a lot together, and we've been there for each other. I'm going to miss that.

Defense Budget Spared

WASHINGTON, D.C. - President Reagan said Tuesday that he would ask Congress to approve a $453 billion budget for the Department of Defense and a $115 billion budget for the Department of Veterans Affairs - both on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. He also rejected any proposals for "quick fix for the energy crisis".

The president said he would request a budget that would cover the current fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1982, and a fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, 1982. The budget would be subject to a "pay-as-you-go" rule, under which Congress would have to cover new spending with revenue from new legislation or increased user fees, such as those for the Post Office.

Reagan said the budget would provide for a "level of military readiness and capability" that would "require a sustained focus on the most critical needs of the Department of Defense." He said the budget would also provide for a "reasonable" level of defense spending, given the "inevitable"需要 of the economy.

Fla. Shots Hazardous

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) - The Florida scenic city of Melbourne is under attack by the IRA as the site of the IRA's "most significant" attack to date.

The city's mayor, in an interview with the Associated Press, said the IRA's attack was "an act of terrorism" and "nothing short of murder.

The mayor said the IRA's attack was "an act of terrorism" and "nothing short of murder. We cannot allow this to happen again."

Drop in Sex Crimes is Reported

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) - The Boston Globe reported Tuesday that sex crimes have dropped significantly in the city.

The newspaper said the drop in sex crimes was "a significant development in the city's efforts to curb the problem.

Hugh Carey Knocks Reagan's Education Cutbacks

New York City (AP) - Mayor Edward I. Koch, who has been critical of President Reagan's cutbacks in federal education funding, said Tuesday that the cuts would be "devastating." He said the cuts would "jeopardize the future of our schools."

"Emotions run high after a well-publicized break-In and the Watergate scandal. Perhaps the most famous of these stories are the surveillance equipment which had to be repaired some time ago. It is reported that the offices of YSU President John Stallings were broken into on the night of the Watergate scandal. This is the first time that the offices of a YSU President have been broken into. It is not known if the break-In was the same thing that goes on in the offices of YSU President John Stallings.

The reasons for the canisters' breach are not known. However, the most famous of these stories is the case of Latin American people who have been killed in the United States. This is the first time that the offices of YSU President John Stallings have been broken into. It is not known if the break-In was the same thing that goes on in the offices of YSU President John Stallings.

ROTTC Policies

Can You Be All You Want?

David Dinger

This spring many students might not be receiving their checks from ROTTC because the Employment Office has cut checks to students for the first time since the end of the fiscal year. As a result, some ROTTC students are unsure if they will be able to pay for their ROTTC courses for the next quarter. However, the University has assured ROTTC students that they will still receive their checks if they are able to pay for their courses.

In a few years the average student may be forced to join the military in ROTTC to attend college. Economic conscription is a reality, and ROTTC students will likely be the first to feel the effects.

The University has already made arrangements with the ROTTC to ensure that ROTTC students will be able to attend college. The ROTTC program will offer ROTTC students the same benefits as other ROTTC students.

While a member of the House from 1963, Senator James Inouye, a Democrat from Hawaii, was a representative of the National Park Service. He was also a member of the House Appropriations Committee, which oversees the budget for the Park Service. Inouye was a vocal opponent of the Park Service's policies, particularly its efforts to preserve the natural beauty of the land. He was also a strong supporter of efforts to expand military bases and other federal facilities on the land.

Secretary of the Interior

James Watt was appointed to the post of Secretary of the Interior in 1981 by President Ronald Reagan. He was a controversial figure, known for his conservative views and his support of policies that would benefit business interests over the environment. Watt's tenure as Secretary of the Interior was marked by a series of controversies, including his efforts to sell off federal lands and his push to limit the role of the National Park Service.

Environmental Protection Agency

The Environmental Protection Agency was established in 1970 to ensure that Americans have clean air and water and that the nation's natural resources are protected. The agency is responsible for enforcing laws that protect the environment, including the Clean Air Act and the Clean Water Act. In recent years, the EPA has faced criticism for its role in regulating the use of fossil fuels and other sources of pollution.

Wildlife and Parks

The Fish and Wildlife Service and the National Park Service are two of the most important federal agencies responsible for the protection and management of wildlife and natural areas. The Fish and Wildlife Service is responsible for managing federal wildlife refuges and other areas for the benefit of fish and wildlife. The National Park Service manages over 400 parks and other areas, including national monuments, battlefields, and historic sites.

Bureau of Land Management

The Bureau of Land Management is responsible for the management of federal lands, including public lands, mineral resources, and wildlife. The agency is responsible for ensuring that these lands are used in a way that is consistent with the public interest and the laws and regulations that govern their use. The BLM is also responsible for managing public lands for recreation, energy, and other uses.

Bureau of Reclamation

The Bureau of Reclamation is responsible for the management of water and power resources on federal lands. The agency is responsible for building and maintaining dams, reservoirs, and other water infrastructure, as well as for generating electricity from hydroelectric power plants. The Bureau of Reclamation is also responsible for managing water resources, including the management of irrigation water and the regulation of stream flows.

1981 Successful Year for Danes

By Earl Cobb

Executive, in the State Rose Bowl last Sunday, was the first year in history in which the Danes have won a game. The second year in the series, and one of the first in the series, was the first year in which the Danes have scored a point.

The Danes, who have scored 22 points, are currently ranked in the top ten of the nation. They have scored 12 points, including a 12-7 win over State College.

The Danes have scored 12 points in three of their five games this year. They have scored 12 points in one of their five games this year.

Expect the Unexpected

The NCAA Basketball Tournament has become the most exciting event in college athletics. With no clear-cut favorites, upsets are common, and almost anything can happen. This year, the Danes are one of the teams considered to be a dark horse.

The Danes are a small school, with a limited budget and a small fan base. However, they have been playing well this season, and have a strong defense. They are currently ranked 12th in the nation in defense, and have allowed their opponents to score only 62.1 points per game.

The Danes have had some success this season, with a 17-2 record. They have won their last four games, and have only two losses on the season. They have won their last four games, and have only two losses on the season.

New Elections Are Conducted by SA

Two Lose Positions

by Robert Pollack

SUNY Albany's two former executive planning board members, Bruce Old and Sandra Weinslock, lost their re-election bids in the recent SA elections. Old ran against Robert O'Donoghue, an applicant for the SA presidency, and Weinslock ran against Jeff Schneider, an applicant for the SA vice presidency. Both candidates ran on a ticket with Bruce Old and Jeff Schneider, respectively.

O'Donoghue was elected SA president with 1,275 votes, while Schneider was elected SA vice president with 1,220 votes. Old received 1,029 votes, and Weinslock received 1,019 votes.

Old and Weinslock's loss was a surprise to many students, as they were both popular candidates. O'Donoghue and Schneider's victory was seen as a sign of change in the SA leadership, as both candidates promised to focus on student issues and improve the SA's relationship with the university administration.

Comptroller is to Suspend Pre-Audit Program

by Lisa Mowry

SUNY Albany's comptroller, Richard Connolly, has announced that he will suspend the pre-audit program for the current fiscal year. The program was designed to prevent students from losing money by not being able to pay their tuition bills on time.

Connolly said that the program was not working as intended and that he would work with the administration to find a better solution.

SA Vice President, Nancy Reilly, said that the suspension of the program was a positive step towards improving the SA's relationship with the university administration.

Cortland State Considering Cut From SASU

by Howard Hart Pollack

Cortland State College is considering cutting its relationship with the State Univerity System of New York's Association of Student Unions (SASU). The move is being considered due to budget cuts and the need to reduce costs.

SASU is a statewide organization that represents the student governments of all SUNY campuses. Cortland State is the only state university in New York that is not a member of SASU.

If Cortland State withdraws from SASU, it will be the first SUNY campus to do so in 20 years. The move could have significant implications for the future of the association and its ability to represent the interests of SUNY students.
